Dog Is Hero

"Ringo," a German shepherd shown with Charlotte Goode, 3, is a hero at Lake Arrowhead, Calif. Yesterday, the dog was walking along a deer trail when his master, Steven Goode, 5, Charlotte's brother, fell 300 feet down a rocky slope. The dog returned home and led the boy's father to the scene. The youngster was found semi-conscious but is reported in fair condition.

Five Children Suffocated In Fire At Home

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — Five children, ranging in age from 6 months to 5 years, suffocated near here Tuesday in smoke from a small fire which started while their parents were away from their farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Jones were getting drinking water from a neighbor's home because pipes in their 4-room frame house froze in 13-degree weather. They spotted smoke coming from the house as they returned.

Two other children, David, 11, and Elizabeth, 7, were at school.

Sheriff Ralph G. Shumate of Prince William County said "apparently the youngsters were playing with matches or (there is) some other unknown cause of the fire." Shumate discounted a theory advanced earlier that a short circuit in an electrical hot plate caused the fire. An investigation continued.

Dr. John Ringler, Prince William County medical examiner, said the children died of smoke inhalation.

The victims were identified as Lillie Frances, 5; William Arthur, 4; Champ Lee, 3; Deloris, 2; and John Joseph, 6 months.

The Jones' home was located in the Aden community about 8 miles south of Manassas.

Gets Year Senterce For 25-Cent Theft

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) —Edward R. Geigerich, 59, was sentenced to one year on the city prison farm Tuesday for stealing a 25-cent jar of olives.

Police Judge W. W. Woodard, who issued the sentence, said the Wichita man was on parole for a similar offense at the time he took the olives from a supermarket.

Widow Says Olympio Not Armed

AGOUE, Dahomey (UPI)—The widow of assassinated President Sylvanus Olympio of Togo said Monday he was unarmed when shot by rebellious Togolese soldiers behind the U.S. Embassy in the capital city of Lome.

The eyewitness account on the events of Jan. 13 by Mrs. Olympio contradicted the official version given by Sgt. Etienne Eyadaema, 27, who fired the fatal shots, and the insurrectionary committee which carried out the coup.

Eyadema saidOlympio fired at the soldiers when they came to arrest him and then tried to escape after they caught him hiding in a lorry behind the U.S. Embassy. Olympio's residence adjoined the embassy in Lome.

But Mrs. Olympio emphatically denied that her husband fired the first shot. "He had no pistol. His old hunting gun was in my room all the time. It is a complete lie that he shot," she said.

Mrs. Olympio said she saw her husband captured and marched off with his arms upraised in surrender.

"I thought he was safe and I rushed downstairs and out the front door to try to get around the block and tell him he should go to the (military) camp," she said.

"Some soldiers stopped me but I ran past them and then I heard three or four shots—Pah, pah, pah. I thought they might be shooting at our party supporters but I ran to the embassy gate and there was Sylvan lying on the ground with his eyes open.

"I said 'Papa, papa, speak to me' but he did not," she said.

Olympio was shot three times in the chest, according to the official account. His body was found outside the embassy by the U.S. ambassador.

Pact Ends Centuries Of Conflict

Nations Pledged To Consultations On Culture, Defense

PARIS (AP)—France and West Germany, long hereditary enemies, Tuesday signed a sweeping treaty of cooperation designed to bind them into lasting friendship and help promote a united Europe. Their leaders hailed it with kisses.

President Charles de Gaulle, Premier Georges Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville signed for France and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder for West Germany in the Napoleonic Murat Salon of the Elysee Palace.

De Gaulle and Adenauer rose at the end of the 10-minute ceremony and kissed one another on the cheek in Continental fashion, putting the seal of reconciliation on centuries of conflict between their peoples.

For the chancellor, still alert and erect at 87, it was a proud moment. Due to retire from power next fall, he is known to regard French-German partnership as the crowning achievement of his waning career.

DeGaulle Pleased

In a brief statement, De Gaulle stressed the "capital importance" of the new accord.

"It not only turns a page after a so-long and bloody history of conflict, but it also opens the doors to a new future for France and Germany and for Europe, and, consequently, the world," De Gaulle said.

Adenauer commented that De Gaulle's words expressed his own feeling perfectly. He said, "I have nothing to add."

In his remark, De Gaulle emphasized the word Europe.

He and Adenauer evidently remained at odds about Britain's application to join the European Common Market. De Gaulle is opposing Britain's admission to the six-nation Continental union; Adenauer is for it.

Troops Seize Frontier City In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Army troops seized control of the frontier city of Machala in El Oro Province Tuesday after a "citizen's uprising" protesting the slaying of a civilian by a policeman.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or arrests although press dispatches said street mobs attacked the Interior Ministry and destroyed furniture and paraded through the city demanding that the town fathers quit.

Machala's police chief, retired Army Maj. Deifilio Morochz, was reported to have sought refuge in an army barracks. The policeman, Ricardo Molina Casierra, involved in the slaying of civilian Bismarck Correa Avila, was taken to Guayaquil for safekeeping after street mobs threatened to lynch him.

'Operation Wrench'

French Atomic Plan Ahead Of Schedule

PARIS (AP) — Defense Minister Pierre Messmer declared Tuesday that France is ahead of schedule in building its atomic force and that the first elements will be operational by the end of this year, informed sources reported.

He also claimed that France is several years ahead of its schedule in preparing hydrogen bombs and a missile delivery system. Originally the program called for having the H-bomb by 1960-70.

Messmer's report to a parliamentary group came a day after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had declared in Moscow that any agreement on an atomic test ban would have to be signed by France, too. Official sources took little notice of Gromyko's remarks.

President Charles de Gaulle kept France far away from the Geneva test ban negotiations. He seemed to answer the suggestion that France should join at his news conference last week. At that time he reiterated the French position that such a ban was not a real step toward disarmament and as long as atomic forces exist in the world, "nothing can stop France from procuring its own."

Messmer spoke before the parliamentary group of the Gaullist Union for a New Republic. Debate opens in the National Assembly Wednesday on the defense budget. Deputies who heard him speak relayed to reporters some fragments of his remarks at the closed meeting.

Ten Guerrillas Killed Near Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Ten Communist guerrillas were killed and 16 captured by Vietnamese government troops last Friday in a daylong operation 40 miles south of Saigon, the government press agency reported Tuesday.

It said the Communists were killed as they attempted to flee after hiding their weapons.

On the same day 15 Viet Cong were killed and six captured in Binh Tuy Province 70 miles east of Saigon, according to the agency.

Mr. K Inspects Troops; Leaves East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev inspected Soviet front line troops in East Germany Tuesday and was quoted as saying Russia is not interested in taking over West Berlin.

Red China's Wu Hsiu-chuan, who was booed and hooted in the congress when he tried to give Peking's side of the quarrel, slipped out of town quietly earlier in the day.

The East Berlin newspaper Neue Zeit reported that Khrushchev, in remarks to a group of visiting West Germans, said: "it is of no interest to us to take over West Berlin."

Khrushchev said again that West Berlin could be guaranteed as a so-called "free city" if there was trust.

"We trusted Kennedy when he declared that the U. S. A. would not attack Cuba," Khrushchev was quoted as saying. "It would be a guarantee for West Berlin if the troops were brought under the flag of the United Nations in West Berlin. We undertake the commitment of not mixing in."

The newspaper further quoted the Soviet leader as saying:

"Would it be a good thing for the Communists to gulp down West Berlin? That would be the highest aim of a little thief. What concerns us is mankind's trust."

Congo Faces Many Years Of Struggle

UN Forces Expect To Remain During Rehabilitation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The collapse of the Katanga military force has ended the Congo's biggest crisis, but it has by no means solved the Congo problem.

U.N. officials say it will take years to straighten out the chaotic situation in the former Belgian territory. The central government faces many problems it cannot handle without help.

Steps are being taken to shift the emphasis to civilian aid as a massive long-term project, but a sizable U.N. force will be maintained to guard against a new flareup of violence. There is no thought at U.N. headquarters of withdrawing U.N. forces completely.

One of the tasks assigned to the United Nations originally was to help the central government maintain law and order. That is taken to include stopping any kind of trouble ranging up to civil war.

Fear Tribal Warfare

Trouble could come from two sources. Most likely is an outbreak of tribal warfare, traditional in the Congo. The other possibility is that the power struggle among Congolese political factions could lead to a military conflict.

The latter is not expected, but the political situation is too uncertain to rule it out. Premier Cyrille Adoula has enemies, and the national army has yet to demonstrate how loyal it would be to the government in a political crisis.

At any rate, the United Nations is not planning to liquidate its Congo force until the situation is much more stable. There will be a sharp reduction, however, and this will ease much of the financial pressure the United Nations has felt for 2½ years.

Long-Term Projects

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, in an exchange the other day, concluded that the major part of the U.N. Congo job was still ahead.

Bunche added that reduction of the U.N. military force would open the gate "for what we're really in the Congo for, what we really hoped to do, and that is the most massive technical assistance effort in human history."

One of the most urgent problems is the restoration of roads, bridges, and railroads damaged or destroyed during the fighting. Other projects include long-term assistance in public administration, education, health, agriculture, and engineering.

Dog-Bites-Man Story Makes News

The dog sank his teeth into the man's leg and the would-be thief offered to pay the seven cents if McCormick would call off Sheba.

Agreement On Test Ban May Be Near

British, Soviet, U.S. Delegates Continue Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S., British and Soviet negotiators on a nuclear test ban met here for nearly four hours Tuesday and agreed to confer again Wednesday.

Russia's chief negotiator, Nikolai T. Fedorenko, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, would only say: "Tomorrow at 3 p.m. Be quiet and patient."

The meeting was held amid indications that the negotiators were closer to agreement than at any time in the past.

But a series of key problems still faced the negotiators despite the fact that President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev appeared to have narrowed the issues in their recently disclosed exchange of letters.

Also hanging over the conferees was the question of how France and Red China, both budding nuclear powers, might affect the outcome.

Even so, Dr. Jerome Weisner, U. S. director of science and technology, said in advance of the talks that he was more hopeful

USAF Dropping Midas Program

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The Jose News said Tuesday the Air Force is dropping its Midas satellite program by which it hoped to put missile-detector satellites over Russia.

Quoting "informed sources," the News said $400 million had been spent on the program but Lockheed Space and Missiles Division, the prime contractor, had been unable to develop a workable system. Lockheed space headquarters, at nearby Sunnyvale, Calif., declined comment.

The Air Force has kept a cloak of secrecy about the Midas program, but it is known that the intention was to develop satellites that would scan the skies over Russia with infra-red sensors to detect the heat of rocket engines. A basic function would be to warn the United States of possible attack.

Shipping Firms, Longshoremen Accept Contract

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shipping firms agreed Tuesday to accept terms of President Kennedy's special panel for ending the $775-million, 31-day-old dock strike, and striking longshoremen leaders said ports may be open by Saturday.

Kennedy was "gratified" by the action of the shipping firms, the White House said.

The executive committee of the International Longshormen's Association (ILA) had already put their endorsement on the 37-cent-per-hour package increase proposed by Kennedy's panel, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

The walkout has idled more than 600 ships and 100,000 men.

"Just" And "Costly"

Morse called the settlement "just." Alexander Chopin, chief negotiator for the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) called it "very, very expensive."

The National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) called it a "bare-knuckled display of government power unsanctioned by law."

The NAM said the way to end the strike was to deal with the cause.

"And the cause ... is unbridled union monopoly power which permits a stubborn and determined union leadership to exact almost any thing it wants regardless of the effect on the economy and the national interest," the NAM said in an editorial in the NAM News, official publication of the association.

Thomas (Teddy) Gleason, executive vice president of the ILA and president of the Atlantic Coast district, said the Union membership will begin voting on the new con-

Early Election May Prevent Italian Crisis

Christian Democratic party Secretary Aldo Moro addressed a directorate meeting preparing for this week's parliamentary test on a Communist motion of no confidence.

But tension between the two parties is so high that President Antonio Segni is expected to dissolve parliament soon after the confidence debate which begins Thursday and ends probably Saturday morning. Segni then would call general elections for late April or early May, two months ahead of schedule.

Moro firmly rejected Socialist charges the Christian Democrats had gone back on past commitments when they refused to set up regional (state) self-government. But he agreed that the issue now is up to the voters.

Whites Attack Daughter NAACP Head In Arkansas

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI) — The president of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said his daughter and a Negro second grader were attacked Tuesday as they left Dollarway School near Pine Bluff.

George Howard, the NAACP president, said the station wagon carrying his 15-year-old daughter, Sarah Etoria, and Lloyd Cato was battered by stones thrown by a group of white persons.

Howard's daughter began attending the previously all-white Dollarway High School Monday. There were no incidents during her first day at the school.

He said he had not determined whether the children were hurt.

"The children will not return to school again unless some protection is afforded," Howard said.

Twenty-Five Persons Named For Carnegie Hero Awards

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission acknowledged Tuesday acts of heroism performed by 25 persons including four boys.

Nine awards werd made posthumously. California and Washington with five acts of valor each paced the United States while five occurred in Canada.

Two silver medals and 23 bronze medals together with cash grants were made. Since the commission was established in 1904 by Pittsburgh steel magnateand philanthropist Andrew Carnegie, 4,603 awards were made. Pensions to beneficiaries total more than $146,000 annually.

Douglas S. B. Ellis was only 12 when he helped rescue an 8-year-old boy from drowning near his home in Campbellford, Ont., on June 19, 1960.

Paul G. Irwin was carried away by a current into water eight feet deep in the Trent River. Two men made a futile attempt to rescue the boy. Douglas, fully attired, plunged into the water and overtook Paul after swimming 25 feet. He ordered the young boy to hold him around the neck and attempted unsuccessfully to tow him to shore.

Treading water, Douglas supported Paul. Douglas' legs began to ache and he was exhausted as a man arrived in time with a boat and took both to shore.

Paul received a bronze medal and $500.

Paula S. Reed, 16, floundered helplessly 80 feet from the bank of a pool in Eugene, Ore., July 7, 1960.

Everett P. Evenson, 16, tired from an extensive swim, reentered the water and tried to save the girl. But she seized him around the neck and both submerged.

Evenson stood on the bottom and thrust Miss Reed to the surface, then pushed her toward the bank.Exhausted by exertion, he finally took the girl's arm and towed her to shallow water.

Steven D. Current, 5, and a companion wandered onto a railroad track in Winnebago, Minn., where a train was approaching.

Larry D. Hoppe, 16, seized Steven but the younger boy broke away and ran back on the track as the train was only 35 feet away on June 9, 1961.

Hoppe sprinted 15 feet, caught Steven in his arms and dived off into a grassy area clear of the track just as the engine was six feet from them.

A 2,000-pound Brahma bull, enraged after it damaged a parked automobile and slammed into a heavy wire fence at a rodeo in Tracyton, Wash., lunged towards an unidentified 4-year-old boy.

Charles S. Brashears, 16, raced 20 feet down a ramp and reached the boy as the bull bore down on them, only12 feet away.

Brashears did not hestitate. He grasped the boy and ran back up the ramp with the animal in pursuit.

The bull reached the foot of the ramp where cowboys captured the animal and returned it to a pen. The incident occurred Aug. 19, 1961. Brashears, of Bremerton, Wash., was given a bronze medal and $500.

Glenn E. Dry, 26, of Polar Bluff, Mo., was awarded a silver medal and $1,000 for risking his life in a futile attempt to save a boy from burning at a carnival in Odessa, Wash., Aug. 27, 1961.

The boy and several others were enveloped with flames touched off when a tank of butane burst at a carnival popcorn stand.

Although he was aflame from headto foot, Dry picked up 2-year-old Robert C. Palmer whose clothing was afire.

Dry's hair was burned off and burns caused a permanent stiffening of his hands. He was hospitalized for 10 weeks. Robert, his mother, a brother and the woman owner of the popcorn stand died from burns.

George J. Preissler, 29, Cadillac,Mich., a miner, was awarded a silver medal and $500 for helping rescue Heinrich W. Wenzel, 44, a fellow miner trapped in a cave-in at an ore mine at Britannia Beach, B. C. The accident occurred Nov. 1, 1960.

Preissler squeezed through a narrow hole to reach Wenzel. John Johnson, mine foreman of Brittania Beach, who helped Preissler and Dr. Barrie C. Flather, 28, a physician of Surrey, B. C., each was awarded $500 and a Bronze medal. Dr. Flather amputated Wensel's arm which was pinned by a timber.

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — Five children, ranging in age from 6 months to 5 years, suffocated near here Tuesday in smoke from a small fire which started while their parents were away from their farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Jones were getting drinking water from a neighbor's home because pipes in their 4-room frame house froze in 13-degree weather. They spotted smoke coming from the house as they returned.

Two other children, David, 11, and Elizabeth, 7, were at school.

Sheriff Ralph G. Shumate of Prince William County said "apparently the youngsters were playing with matches or (there is) some other unknown cause of the fire." Shumate discounted a theory advanced earlier that a short circuit in an electrical hot plate caused the fire. An investigation continued.

Dr. John Ringler, Prince William County medical examiner, said the children died of smoke inhalation.

The victims were identified as Lillie Frances, 5; William Arthur, 4; Champ Lee, 3; Deloris, 2; and John Joseph, 6 months.

The Jones' home was located in the Aden community about 8 miles south of Manassas.

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) —Edward R. Geigerich, 59, was sentenced to one year on the city prison farm Tuesday for stealing a 25-cent jar of olives.

Police Judge W. W. Woodard, who issued the sentence, said the Wichita man was on parole for a similar offense at the time he took the olives from a supermarket.

Widow Says Olympio Not Armed

AGOUE, Dahomey (UPI)—The widow of assassinated President Sylvanus Olympio of Togo said Monday he was unarmed when shot by rebellious Togolese soldiers behind the U.S. Embassy in the capital city of Lome.

The eyewitness account on the events of Jan. 13 by Mrs. Olympio contradicted the official version given by Sgt. Etienne Eyadaema, 27, who fired the fatal shots, and the insurrectionary committee which carried out the coup.

Eyadema saidOlympio fired at the soldiers when they came to arrest him and then tried to escape after they caught him hiding in a lorry behind the U.S. Embassy. Olympio's residence adjoined the embassy in Lome.

But Mrs. Olympio emphatically denied that her husband fired the first shot. "He had no pistol. His old hunting gun was in my room all the time. It is a complete lie that he shot," she said.

"I thought he was safe and I rushed downstairs and out the front door to try to get around the block and tell him he should go to the (military) camp," she said.

"Some soldiers stopped me but I ran past them and then I heard three or four shots—Pah, pah, pah. I thought they might be shooting at our party supporters but I ran to the embassy gate and there was Sylvan lying on the ground with his eyes open.

"I said 'Papa, papa, speak to me' but he did not," she said.

Olympio was shot three times in the chest, according to the official account. His body was found outside the embassy by the U.S. ambassador.

Troops Seize Frontier City In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Army troops seized control of the frontier city of Machala in El Oro Province Tuesday after a "citizen's uprising" protesting the slaying of a civilian by a policeman.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or arrests although press dispatches said street mobs attacked the Interior Ministry and destroyed furniture and paraded through the city demanding that the town fathers quit.

Machala's police chief, retired Army Maj. Deifilio Morochz, was reported to have sought refuge in an army barracks. The policeman, Ricardo Molina Casierra, involved in the slaying of civilian Bismarck Correa Avila, was taken to Guayaquil for safekeeping after street mobs threatened to lynch him.

Ten Guerrillas Killed Near Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Ten Communist guerrillas were killed and 16 captured by Vietnamese government troops last Friday in a day-long operation 40 miles south of Saigon, the government press agency reported Tuesday.

It said the Communists were killed as they attempted to flee after hiding their weapons.

On the same day 15 Viet Cong were killed and six captured in Binh Tuy Province 70 miles east of Saigon, according to the agency.

Mr. K Inspects Troops; Leaves East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev inspected Soviet front line troops in East Germany Tuesday and was quoted as saying Russia is not interested in taking over West Berlin.

Red China's Wu Hsiu-chuan, who was booed and hooted in the congress when he tried to give Peking's side of the quarrel, slipped out of town quietly earlier in the day.

The East Berlin newspaper Neue Zeit reported that Khrushchev, in remarks to a group of visiting West Germans, said: "it is of no interest to us to take over West Berlin."

Khrushchev said again that West Berlin could be guaranteed as a so-called "free city" if there was trust.

"We trusted Kennedy when he declared that the U. S. A. would not attack Cuba," Khrushchev was quoted as saying. "It would be a guarantee for West Berlin if the troops were brought under the flag of the United Nations in West Berlin. We undertake the commitment of not mixing in."

The newspaper further quoted the Soviet leader as saying:

"Would it be a good thing for the Communists to gulp down West Berlin? That would be the highest aim of a little thief. What concerns us is mankind's trust."

Dog-Bites-Man Story Makes News

The dog sank his teeth into the man's leg and the would-be thief offered to pay the seven cents if McCormick would call off Sheba.

Twenty-Five Persons Named For Carnegie Hero Awards

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission acknowledged Tuesday acts of heroism performed by 25 persons including four boys.

Nine awards werd made posthumously. California and Washington with five acts of valor each paced the United States while five occurred in Canada.

Two silver medals and 23 bronze medals together with cash grants were made. Since the commission was established in 1904 by Pittsburgh steel magnateand philanthropist Andrew Carnegie, 4,603 awards were made. Pensions to beneficiaries total more than $146,000 annually.

Douglas S. B. Ellis was only 12 when he helped rescue an 8-year-old boy from drowning near his home in Campbellford, Ont., on June 19, 1960.

Paul G. Irwin was carried away by a current into water eight feet deep in the Trent River. Two men made a futile attempt to rescue the boy. Douglas, fully attired, plunged into the water and overtook Paul after swimming 25 feet. He ordered the young boy to hold him around the neck and attempted unsuccessfully to tow him to shore.

Treading water, Douglas supported Paul. Douglas' legs began to ache and he was exhausted as a man arrived in time with a boat and took both to shore.

Paul received a bronze medal and $500.

Paula S. Reed, 16, floundered helplessly 80 feet from the bank of a pool in Eugene, Ore., July 7, 1960.

Everett P. Evenson, 16, tired from an extensive swim, reentered the water and tried to save the girl. But she seized him around the neck and both submerged.

Evenson stood on the bottom and thrust Miss Reed to the surface, then pushed her toward the bank.Exhausted by exertion, he finally took the girl's arm and towed her to shallow water.

Steven D. Current, 5, and a companion wandered onto a railroad track in Winnebago, Minn., where a train was approaching.

Larry D. Hoppe, 16, seized Steven but the younger boy broke away and ran back on the track as the train was only 35 feet away on June 9, 1961.

Hoppe sprinted 15 feet, caught Steven in his arms and dived off into a grassy area clear of the track just as the engine was six feet from them.

A 2,000-pound Brahma bull, enraged after it damaged a parked automobile and slammed into a heavy wire fence at a rodeo in Tracyton, Wash., lunged towards an unidentified 4-year-old boy.

Charles S. Brashears, 16, raced 20 feet down a ramp and reached the boy as the bull bore down on them, only12 feet away.

Brashears did not hestitate. He grasped the boy and ran back up the ramp with the animal in pursuit.

The bull reached the foot of the ramp where cowboys captured the animal and returned it to a pen. The incident occurred Aug. 19, 1961. Brashears, of Bremerton, Wash., was given a bronze medal and $500.

Glenn E. Dry, 26, of Polar Bluff, Mo., was awarded a silver medal and $1,000 for risking his life in a futile attempt to save a boy from burning at a carnival in Odessa, Wash., Aug. 27, 1961.

The boy and several others were enveloped with flames touched off when a tank of butane burst at a carnival popcorn stand.

Although he was aflame from headto foot, Dry picked up 2-year-old Robert C. Palmer whose clothing was afire.

Dry's hair was burned off and burns caused a permanent stiffening of his hands. He was hospitalized for 10 weeks. Robert, his mother, a brother and the woman owner of the popcorn stand died from burns.

George J. Preissler, 29, Cadillac,Mich., a miner, was awarded a silver medal and $500 for helping rescue Heinrich W. Wenzel, 44, a fellow miner trapped in a cave-in at an ore mine at Britannia Beach, B. C. The accident occurred Nov. 1, 1960.

Preissler squeezed through a narrow hole to reach Wenzel. John Johnson, mine foreman of Brittania Beach, who helped Preissler and Dr. Barrie C. Flather, 28, a physician of Surrey, B. C., each was awarded $500 and a Bronze medal. Dr. Flather amputated Wensel's arm which was pinned by a timber.

State Police Searching For Missing Woman

Teacher Disappears Near Laurel, Md.

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—State Police searching for a missing woman found a blue dress near her home Tuesday, but later concluded it was a child's dress.

The missing woman, Mrs. Allene Carol Replane, 25, failed to return home Monday night after teaching a sewing and tailoring class for adults at Laurel High School.

Her husband, William, who teaches at the high school, said his wife left home in the afternoon and had been expected to return by 10:30 p.m. He could think of no reason for his wifes' disappearance.

State Police Sgt. Wilton May, who is heading the investigation, said the child's dress was found Tuesday in a little wooded area off Contee Road, about three-quarters of a mile from Mrs. Replane's home.

"We had been concentrating in that immediate area," said Sgt. May. "Now we are checking out tips. It's just a matter of time until we get these things processed. We have a few leads to check out."

Police said Mrs. Replane stands 5-7, weighs 125 and has brown eyes and short brown hair. When last seen, she was wearing a blue dress, tan coat, black shoes and black-rimmed glasses.

Earlier Tuesday, State Trooper R. P. Long found Mrs. Replane's car parked alongside Maryland 197 with its bright lights burning. The ignition was turned off.

Mrs. Replane, a substitute teacher in schools of the Laurel area, is a 1959 graduate of Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio. She also attended Pennsylvania State University in the summer of 1960.

Driving Problems Haunt Determined English Teacher

STOCKPORT, England (UPI)—Miss Margaret Hunter, the 65-year-old schoolteacher who still is trying to learn to drive, was nabbed in her nightdress Monday by a policewoman who climbed through a window to serve a traffic summons.

Miss Hunter, who has been trying to learn to drive for the last two decades, won attention when a driving instructor leaped from her car with a cry of "This is suicide." She continued her driving lessons under other tutelage and ran into legal trouble.

Authorities charged her with careless driving and driving without supervision after she ran into a truck but she refused to appear in court. Monday, two policemen and a policewoman went to her house but were refused entrance.

The policewoman climbed through a window and served the summons despite cries of "How dare you!" and took Miss Hunter to a court. The case was adjourned until Feb. 4 when the judge told her to get a lawyer.

Neophyte Completes 'Maiden' Voyage Of 2,300 Miles In 25 Stormy Days

By CHARLES H. WILSON JR.

HONOLULU (UPI)—The ketch Neophyte with her all-girl crew of four and skipper Lee Quinn arrived at Hawaii Yacht Club harbor Monday from San Francisco after a 25-day storm-tossed voyage of 2,300 miles.

Those aboard the Neophyte appeared cheerful and healthy as the 45-foot yacht sailed in under power to the yacht club harbor. Hundreds lined the several finger piers to wave and cheer the craft in.

"First we want a big green salad and a steak, then we would like to sleep each in our own hotel room bed tonight under clean sheets," said one of the crew members, Susan Bird, 20, of Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Mary Ann Quinn, wife of the yacht's skipper who had given blessing to his unusual choice of crew, failed in an attempt to board the craft at sea from an outrigger canoe. She had to settle for leading the Neophyte into the harbor because of the swelling seas.

Radio reports from the Neophyte had indicated earlier that she had lost several sails in a Pacific storm, but otherwise the trip had been a success for a "maiden" voyage.

The little yacht had arrived in Hawaiian waters early Sunday morning, but had stayed just outside the famed Molokai channel until Monday hoping for more favorable winds. The winds for the past several days had been blowing southwesterly instead of the usual northwesterly trades which resumed Monday.

Quinn, wearing a full beard, said he intended to continue to Tahiti with four women as crewmembers. One presumably would be his wife, but he declined to commit himself as to whether any of his San Francisco-to-Honolulu crewmembers would continue.

Quinn said he had not radioed progress reports to Hawaii because of difficulties with his electric equipment which necessitated saving power.

Quinn said storms on the voyage once blew the Neophyte 100 miles off course, and another time blew it 15 miles off.

In addition to Miss Bird, the other crewmembers were Giselle Mayer, 22, Sausalito, Calif.; Jackie Miller, 24, Sausalito, an airline stewardess; and Mrs. Carol Hope, 20, a Berkeley, Calif., folk singer and model.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Maryland accepted a bid from Morgan Stanley and Co. of New York City Tuesday for purchase of $50 million of bonds.

The interest cost to the company of the 39-year, 4⅜ per cent debentures will be due Jan. 1, 2002.

Morgan Stanley plans to offer the issue to the public at 102.875 of par to yield approximately 4.224 per cent to maturity. The bid was 102.1311 of par.

Other bidders were the First Boston Corp. and Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith,Inc., a joint bid of 4.2656 percent; Halsey, Stuart and Co., 4.2719 per cent, and White, Weld and Co., 4.2837 per cent.

France Boycotts British Bid For Common Market

BRUSSELS (UPI) — France Tuesday boycotted for the second consecutive day discussions connected with Britain's bid for membership in the Common Market.

The French delegation did not attend a meeting to discuss trade with the British crown colony of Hong Kong. The other Common Market members — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — were represented at the talks held on the deputy ministerial level.

France has said it will not attend any Common Market meetings dealing with Britain until full sessions are resumed on Jan. 28.

tract proposal Wednesday in New York and Thursday in other ports from Maine to Norfolk, Va.

Gulf Coast shippers followed the example of the NYSA late Tuesday afternoon and "accepted in principal" the recommendations of the presidential panel. Gulf Coast ILA executives still have not approved the issue, but were expected to do so shortly.

The Gulf Coast and South Atlantic longshore leaders traditionally follow the pattern set by agreements between the NYSA and the ILA's Atlantic Coast District.

37 Cent Increase

Previous reports had set the settlement at 39 cents, but Morse said Tuesday the terms of the new contract actually figure closer to 37 cents.

Morse said the agreement did not favor the union over the employers and that the 37 cents lay between the $1.03 demanded by the union and the 22 cents offered by ship owners.

If the contract is signed in New York, it technically would cover only dockworkers north of, and including, Norfolk, Va. However, ILA members south of Norfolk traditionally have adopted the outlines of the New York contracts.

Fairchild To Build New Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fairchild Stratos Corp. announced Tuesday it will establish a new branch plant in Bladensburg, Md., for manufacture of aerospace electronic system.

The plant is expected to begin operation in March, Fairchild president, Edward G. Uhl, said more than 100 employes will be assigned to the new plant in Prince Georges County. He said employment should increase gradually.

Uhl said the relocation of the division, now located at Wyandich, N.Y., would improve the company liaison with the national space agency's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, also in Prince Georges County.

Uhl said new business is expected to offset the temporary reduction in personnel and workload at the Wyandich plant on Long Island.

The new facility will produce systems to automatically process information and photographs transmitted to earth by weather satellites.

The Bladensburg division also will manufacture data-recording systems for reconnaissance aircraft.

Married Man Kills Girl On Blind Date

Daniel R. Biebighauser, married and the father of one child, told state police he strangled and stabbed Mary Lynn Crotty, 20, of Lawrence Park after they left another couple early Sunday.

State police identified the second couple as John F. Harvey, 21, of Erie, and Paulette Cwyinski, 20, of RD Erie.

Miss Crotty's body was found in a wooded section of Millcreek Twp. Monday night following Biebighauser's confession, authorities said.

State police scoured the area Tuesday in a search for a knife used in the killing.

The blind date, police said, was arranged by Harvey, who worked with Biebighauser at a local plant. They said, however, that Harvey was cleared of any complicity in the crime. Neither of the two girls was aware Biebighauser was married, police said.

Formal murder charges were pending against the suspect.

Lipstick, Powderpuff To Be Standard Equipment For Nation's Future Astronauts, Official Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lipstick and a powderpuff will be standard equipment for some of the nation's future astronauts, a space official said Tuesday.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said space will not stay a man's world — women will get their chance to go into orbit.

Despite the inevitability of a lady astronaut, the official said the feat probably was not in the foreseeable future.

When they do go it won't be just for the ride, the official said. He predicted the day will come when a spaceship will be manned by women pilots, navigators and scientists.

The big drawback to a woman's touch in space now is that they are not qualified test pilots, the official said.

But women already are at work to lift theis barrier. A group of 13 women pilots organized themselves several years ago to press for admittance into the Mercury astronaut program.

They entered the Lovelace Clinic in New Mexico for a series of physical tests similar to the ones given to male astronauts. They passed.

Using this as a lever, the women presented their case to the House Space Committee. They talked for two days, won several champions among the congressmen, but got little action.

According to the would-be spacewomen they have some assets the Mercury men do not. They say they:

—Eat Less.

—Use less oxygen.

—Stand pain, the loneliness better than men.

—React quicker in an emergency.

But their opponents say a spaceman is not only a pilot, but an engineer and a mechanic. This they say, the ladies are not.

VFW Endorses JFK Stand On Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Byron B. Gentry, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), told President Kennedy Tuesday the organization fully endorsed the administration's handling of the Cuban crisis.

Gentry told newsmen after a brief White House visit that he told Kennedy "we were very pleased" with the decision to impose an arms blockade on Cuba to bring about removal of Russian missiles and bombers.

"Our convention passed a resolution calling for a limited blockade in the middle of August," recalled Gentry.

Gentry, who is prosecuting attorney at Pasadena, Calif., and is a former professional football star with the Pittsburgh Steelers, took with him to the White House a pamphlet outlining the VFW's "key objectives for 1963" in the national security field.

These objectives, including "no appeasement in West Berlin and Guantanamo Bay".

Gilpatric To Visit Areas Of Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric will leave Feb. 2 on a two-week visit to Hawaii, Japan, Italy, Spain and Germany, it was announced Tuesday.

Gilpatric expects to exchange views on defense matters with officials in each of the countries. He also plans to confer in Honolulu with Adm. Harry D. Felt, U. S. Pacific commander.

HONOLULU (UPI)—The ketch Neophyte with her all-girl crew of four and skipper Lee Quinn arrived at Hawaii Yacht Club harbor Monday from San Francisco after a 25-day storm-tossed voyage of 2,300 miles.

Those aboard the Neophyte appeared cheerful and healthy as the 45-foot yacht sailed in under power to the yacht club harbor. Hundreds lined the several finger piers to wave and cheer the craft in.

"First we want a big green salad and a steak, then we would like to sleep each in our own hotel room bed tonight under clean sheets," said one of the crew members, Susan Bird, 20, of Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Mary Ann Quinn, wife of the yacht's skipper who had given blessing to his unusual choice of crew, failed in an attempt to board the craft at sea from an outrigger canoe. She had to settle for leading the Neophyte into the harbor because of the swelling seas.

Radio reports from the Neophyte had indicated earlier that she had lost several sails in a Pacific storm, but otherwise the trip had been a success for a "maiden" voyage.

The little yacht had arrived in Hawaiian waters early Sunday morning, but had stayed just outside the famed Molokai channel until Monday hoping for more favorable winds. The winds for the past several days had been blowing southwesterly instead of the usual northwesterly trades which resumed Monday.

Quinn, wearing a full beard, said he intended to continue to Tahiti with four women as crewmembers. One presumably would be his wife, but he declined to commit himself as to whether any of his San Francisco-to-Honolulu crewmembers would continue.

Quinn said he had not radioed progress reports to Hawaii because of difficulties with his electric equipment which necessitated saving power.

Quinn said storms on the voyage once blew the Neophyte 100 miles off course, and another time blew it 15 miles off.

In addition to Miss Bird, the other crewmembers were Giselle Mayer, 22, Sausalito, Calif.; Jackie Miller, 24, Sausalito, an airline stewardess; and Mrs. Carol Hope, 20, a Berkeley, Calif., folk singer and model.

Morgan Stanley plans to offer the issue to the public at 102.875 of par to yield approximately 4.224 per cent to maturity. The bid was 102.1311 of par.

Other bidders were the First Boston Corp. and Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith,Inc., a joint bid of 4.2656 percent; Halsey, Stuart and Co., 4.2719 per cent, and White, Weld and Co., 4.2837 per cent.

France Boycotts British Bid For Common Market

BRUSSELS (UPI) — France Tuesday boycotted for the second consecutive day discussions connected with Britain's bid for membership in the Common Market.

The French delegation did not attend a meeting to discuss trade with the British crown colony of Hong Kong. The other Common Market members — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — were represented at the talks held on the deputy ministerial level.

France has said it will not attend any Common Market meetings dealing with Britain until full sessions are resumed on Jan. 28.

tract proposal Wednesday in New York and Thursday in other ports from Maine to Norfolk, Va.

Gulf Coast shippers followed the example of the NYSA late Tuesday afternoon and "accepted in principal" the recommendations of the presidential panel. Gulf Coast ILA executives still have not approved the issue, but were expected to do so shortly.

The Gulf Coast and South Atlantic longshore leaders traditionally follow the pattern set by agreements between the NYSA and the ILA's Atlantic Coast District.

37 Cent Increase

Previous reports had set the settlement at 39 cents, but Morse said Tuesday the terms of the new contract actually figure closer to 37 cents.

Morse said the agreement did not favor the union over the employers and that the 37 cents lay between the $1.03 demanded by the union and the 22 cents offered by ship owners.

If the contract is signed in New York, it technically would cover only dockworkers north of, and including, Norfolk, Va. However, ILA members south of Norfolk traditionally have adopted the outlines of the New York contracts.

Fairchild To Build New Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fairchild Stratos Corp. announced Tuesday it will establish a new branch plant in Bladensburg, Md., for manufacture of aerospace electronic system.

The plant is expected to begin operation in March, Fairchild president, Edward G. Uhl, said more than 100 employes will be assigned to the new plant in Prince Georges County. He said employment should increase gradually.

Uhl said the relocation of the division, now located at Wyandich, N.Y., would improve the company liaison with the national space agency's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, also in Prince Georges County.

Uhl said new business is expected to offset the temporary reduction in personnel and workload at the Wyandich plant on Long Island.

The new facility will produce systems to automatically process information and photographs transmitted to earth by weather satellites.

The Bladensburg division also will manufacture data-recording systems for reconnaissance aircraft.

Married Man Kills Girl On Blind Date

Daniel R. Biebighauser, married and the father of one child, told state police he strangled and stabbed Mary Lynn Crotty, 20, of Lawrence Park after they left another couple early Sunday.

State police identified the second couple as John F. Harvey, 21, of Erie, and Paulette Cwyinski, 20, of RD Erie.

Miss Crotty's body was found in a wooded section of Millcreek Twp. Monday night following Biebighauser's confession, authorities said.

State police scoured the area Tuesday in a search for a knife used in the killing.

The blind date, police said, was arranged by Harvey, who worked with Biebighauser at a local plant. They said, however, that Harvey was cleared of any complicity in the crime. Neither of the two girls was aware Biebighauser was married, police said.

Formal murder charges were pending against the suspect.

Lipstick, Powderpuff To Be Standard Equipment For Nation's Future Astronauts, Official Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lipstick and a powderpuff will be standard equipment for some of the nation's future astronauts, a space official said Tuesday.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said space will not stay a man's world — women will get their chance to go into orbit.

Despite the inevitability of a lady astronaut, the official said the feat probably was not in the foreseeable future.

When they do go it won't be just for the ride, the official said. He predicted the day will come when a spaceship will be manned by women pilots, navigators and scientists.

The big drawback to a woman's touch in space now is that they are not qualified test pilots, the official said.

But women already are at work to lift theis barrier. A group of 13 women pilots organized themselves several years ago to press for admittance into the Mercury astronaut program.

They entered the Lovelace Clinic in New Mexico for a series of physical tests similar to the ones given to male astronauts. They passed.

Using this as a lever, the women presented their case to the House Space Committee. They talked for two days, won several champions among the congressmen, but got little action.

According to the would-be spacewomen they have some assets the Mercury men do not. They say they:

—Eat Less.

—Use less oxygen.

—Stand pain, the loneliness better than men.

—React quicker in an emergency.

But their opponents say a spaceman is not only a pilot, but an engineer and a mechanic. This they say, the ladies are not.

VFW Endorses JFK Stand On Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Byron B. Gentry, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), told President Kennedy Tuesday the organization fully endorsed the administration's handling of the Cuban crisis.

Gentry told newsmen after a brief White House visit that he told Kennedy "we were very pleased" with the decision to impose an arms blockade on Cuba to bring about removal of Russian missiles and bombers.

"Our convention passed a resolution calling for a limited blockade in the middle of August," recalled Gentry.

Gentry, who is prosecuting attorney at Pasadena, Calif., and is a former professional football star with the Pittsburgh Steelers, took with him to the White House a pamphlet outlining the VFW's "key objectives for 1963" in the national security field.

These objectives, including "no appeasement in West Berlin and Guantanamo Bay".

Gilpatric To Visit Areas Of Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric will leave Feb. 2 on a two-week visit to Hawaii, Japan, Italy, Spain and Germany, it was announced Tuesday.

Gilpatric expects to exchange views on defense matters with officials in each of the countries. He also plans to confer in Honolulu with Adm. Harry D. Felt, U. S. Pacific commander.

Husband And Wife Can Save Tidy Sum With Joint Return

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of five dispatches on how to pay — and not overpay — your federal income tax. Today's dispatch explains joint husband-wife returns.)

They can do this even though only one of them actually received taxable income during 1962.

The reason a joint return usually means a saving is that the United States has what is called a "progressive" income tax rate structure. The higher your income, the bigger percentage of it you must pay in taxes.

The basic tax rate for single taxpayers is 20 per cent of the first $2,000 of taxable income. The next $2,000 is taxed at 22 per cent, the next $2,000 at 26 per cent, and so on until, for taxable incomes above $200,000, the government's bite is 91 cents out of each dollar.

Under a joint return, the total income reported by a married couple is in effect split in two, and each half is taxed separately. Thus the tax rate on each half is lower than the rate on the total would be.

For example, a married man whose income was $7,000 might find that he owed the government $1,126 if he filed a separate return just claiming his wife as an exemption. But by having her sign a joint return with him, his tax bill is reduced to $1,042 — a savings of $84.

Joint Return Usually Cheaper

Even when both husband and wife are wage-earners, it is usually cheaper to file joint returns. But there are some cases in which they'd come out better by filing separate returns. The only way to decide what to do is to figure your taxes both ways on scratch paper and take the cheaper way.

Even if you filed separate returns last year, you may file a joint return this year, or vice versa. If you file separate returns and later discovered you should have filed a joint return you may do so up to three years after the April 15 filing deadline. But, if you file a joint return, you may not file separate ones after April 15.

Joint filing is prohibited in some circumstances. They are: If you were divorced or legally separated on or before Dec. 31; if you are married to a non-citizen who does not live in this country; or if you and your wife report your income on the basis of different tax years. For example, for business reasons, you may report your income for a 12-month period ending June 30 while your wife uses the regular calendar year.

Even if you got married on New Year's Eve just before midnight, you are considered married for the entire year for tax purposes and may file a joint return.

Not Affected By Death

If your spouse died in 1962 and you did not remarry, you still may file a joint return. Sometimes a surviving spouse may claim the income-splitting benefits of a joint return for the two years following death. For details about this provision, ask your attorney, accountant or local office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Suppose your wife worked only part time last year and earned less than $600. A joint return probably would be to your advantage. She might get a refund for taxes withheld if she filed separately, but you would lose her as an exemption.

Both husband and wife must sign a joint return and each becomes individually liable for any tax owed the government. For example, a woman could be legally responsible for a tax debt even if she did no work and received no income during the year.

Like an individual, a couple filing jointly may take the standard 10 per cent deduction or itemized deductions. But if the man and wife file separate returns and one itemizes his deductions, the other must, too.

You must attach to your joint return both the husband's and the wife's forms W-2, the statement of earnings provided by employers.

One other matter that concerns quite a few couples each year is buying and selling of houses. In some circumstances you can get a break on taxation of the profit you make on selling your house. Ask the Internal Revenue office about this if you sold your house in 1962.

Cardinal Godfrey Dies In London Of Heart Attack

LONDON (AP)—William Cardinal Godfrey, 73, first resident papal envoy in Britain since the 16th century religious Reformation, died Tuesday night of a heart attack, the second he had suffered in four days.

Cardinal Godfrey had been the spiritual leader in England and Wales of 5 million Roman Catholics for the last six years. He was the only Englishman on the Sacred College of Cardinals, the clerical body constituting the council or senate of the church.

Cardinal Godfrey's death came while the Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, was on the way to pay him a visit. Told he was too late, the Church of England archbishop said, "I am very grieved by his death, and I feel much sympathy with his people."

Cardinal Godfrey was the son of a Liverpool trucking contractor. Ordained in 1916, he first served as a curate in his native city.

He returned to Liverpool in 1953 as archbishop. Three years later came his appointment to the senior Archdiocese of Westminster. He was made a cardinal in 1958.

He became the apostolic delegate to Britain in 1938, after service in Rome as rector of the English College and domestic chaplain to the late Pope Pius XII.

Maryland Briefs

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The State Association of Alcoholic Beverage License Administrators wants residency requirements established for corporations seeking liquor licenses in Maryland.

The association approved a recommendation that resident agents of a corporation seeking a liquor license own 25 per cent of the corporation's total stock. Hotels and motels of more than 100 rooms offering bona fide restaurant facilities would be excepted.

The proposal will be offered to the General Assembly for possible enactment.

State Reports On Industrial Safety Checks

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Department of Labor and Industry reported Tuesday it issued 12,008 safety orders resulting in the removal of 16,949 potential accident causes in Maryland firms in 1962.

Murray L. Schuster, commissioner of the department, said the totals for 1961 were 6,371 safety orders covering 8,656 potential accident causes.

"The increase in both the number of written safety orders issued and the items covered by those orders," Schuster said, "is attributed to a continuing emphasis on the thoroughness of inspections made in business establishments having fewer than 50 employes. . ."

In addition to routine inspections, the department conducted 114 accident investigations and 318 special investigations, Schuster said.

Senate GOP Unit To Probe Cuban Invasion Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Republican Policy Committee gave clearance Tuesday for an independent investigation by Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois of the 1961 Cuban invasion disaster.

Dirksen told a news conference after a closed meeting that the group gave its assent to an inquiry into whether Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had "told the entire factual story" in a recent review of the Bay of Pigs fiasco.

Previously Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had told the Senate, Kennedy was attempting to lay blame for the fiasco on the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

First Graders Completing Project On Mona Lisa

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Twenty-five 6-year-olds who already know a great deal about Leonardo da Vinci and his Mona Lisa are looking forward with keen anticipation to a trip to the National Art Gallery.

The first-graders at Montgomery County's Forest Knoll Elementary School have tried to reproduce Mona Lisa in pencil, crayon and watercolor.

So when they stand before the famous portrait next Monday their knowledge will surpass that of many of their elders who have been trooping to the gallery by the thousands to view da Vinci's masterpiece.

And they will be able to show off their knowledge to two other first grade classes at Forest Knoll who are going along on the tour but who have not been involved in the teaching project of Sally R. Korobkin.

Under the school system's lower grade teaching plan, more than an art project is involved.

"Certainly the children learned about Mona Lisa," Mrs. Korobkin explained, "but they learned much more — mathematics, spelling, history, geography and science."

The children, for example, learned something of the geography of Italy and France, how to spell new words, and about da Vinci's inventions.

Answering questions involving La Giaconda's inscrutable smile, Mrs. Korobkin told her pupils that "if someone is loved very much it shines through."

The teacher thinks the 6-year-olds produced some impressive results" despite a tendency to give Mona Lisa eyebrows and a heart-shaped mouth."

Former County Commissioner Dies

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Henry C. Wigley Sr., a former member of the Anne Arundel Board of County Commissioners, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was 78.

Wigley, a 12-year member of the board from 1950 until last month, suffered a heart attack at his home in Millersville, near here. He was pronounced dead at the Anne Arundel General Hospital. Wigley was a tobacco farmer.

Fruit Company Denies Use Of Ransom Ship

BOSTON (AP) — The United Fruit Co. said Tuesday it will not be able to provide a ship to carry a ransom cargo from Baltimore to Cuba during the week of Jan. 28.

Maryland Port Authority commissioners indicated Monday that it had been asked to provide free wharfage and dockage for such a ship.

The United Fruit Co. headquarters in Boston said Tuesday:

"In connection with published reports that part of a Cuban ransom cargo would be carried from Baltimore during the week of Jan. 28 aboard a United Fruit Co. ship, the company wants to advise that there is no vessel available at that time for this purpose."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONAID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief:

(1) COLONAID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONAID even relieves chronic constipation overnight; yet it is clinically-proved gentle even for expectant mothers. Get COLONAID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢.

If your spouse died in 1962 and you did not remarry, you still may file a joint return. Sometimes a surviving spouse may claim the income-splitting benefits of a joint return for the two years following death. For details about this provision, ask your attorney, accountant or local office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Suppose your wife worked only part time last year and earned less than $600. A joint return probably would be to your advantage. She might get a refund for taxes withheld if she filed separately, but you would lose her as an exemption.

Both husband and wife must sign a joint return and each becomes individually liable for any tax owed the government. For example, a woman could be legally responsible for a tax debt even if she did no work and received no income during the year.

Like an individual, a couple filing jointly may take the standard 10 per cent deduction or itemized deductions. But if the man and wife file separate returns and one itemizes his deductions, the other must, too.

You must attach to your joint return both the husband's and the wife's forms W-2, the statement of earnings provided by employers.

One other matter that concerns quite a few couples each year is buying and selling of houses. In some circumstances you can get a break on taxation of the profit you make on selling your house. Ask the Internal Revenue office about this if you sold your house in 1962.

Cardinal Godfrey Dies In London Of Heart Attack

LONDON (AP)—William Cardinal Godfrey, 73, first resident papal envoy in Britain since the 16th century religious Reformation, died Tuesday night of a heart attack, the second he had suffered in four days.

Cardinal Godfrey had been the spiritual leader in England and Wales of 5 million Roman Catholics for the last six years. He was the only Englishman on the Sacred College of Cardinals, the clerical body constituting the council or senate of the church.

Cardinal Godfrey's death came while the Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, was on the way to pay him a visit. Told he was too late, the Church of England archbishop said, "I am very grieved by his death, and I feel much sympathy with his people."

Cardinal Godfrey was the son of a Liverpool trucking contractor. Ordained in 1916, he first served as a curate in his native city.

He returned to Liverpool in 1953 as archbishop. Three years later came his appointment to the senior Archdiocese of Westminster. He was made a cardinal in 1958.

He became the apostolic delegate to Britain in 1938, after service in Rome as rector of the English College and domestic chaplain to the late Pope Pius XII.

Maryland Briefs

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The State Association of Alcoholic Beverage License Administrators wants residency requirements established for corporations seeking liquor licenses in Maryland.

The association approved a recommendation that resident agents of a corporation seeking a liquor license own 25 per cent of the corporation's total stock. Hotels and motels of more than 100 rooms offering bona fide restaurant facilities would be excepted.

The proposal will be offered to the General Assembly for possible enactment.

State Reports On Industrial Safety Checks

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Department of Labor and Industry reported Tuesday it issued 12,008 safety orders resulting in the removal of 16,949 potential accident causes in Maryland firms in 1962.

Murray L. Schuster, commissioner of the department, said the totals for 1961 were 6,371 safety orders covering 8,656 potential accident causes.

"The increase in both the number of written safety orders issued and the items covered by those orders," Schuster said, "is attributed to a continuing emphasis on the thoroughness of inspections made in business establishments having fewer than 50 employes. . ."

In addition to routine inspections, the department conducted 114 accident investigations and 318 special investigations, Schuster said.

Senate GOP Unit To Probe Cuban Invasion Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Republican Policy Committee gave clearance Tuesday for an independent investigation by Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois of the 1961 Cuban invasion disaster.

Dirksen told a news conference after a closed meeting that the group gave its assent to an inquiry into whether Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had "told the entire factual story" in a recent review of the Bay of Pigs fiasco.

Previously Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had told the Senate, Kennedy was attempting to lay blame for the fiasco on the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

First Graders Completing Project On Mona Lisa

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Twenty-five 6-year-olds who already know a great deal about Leonardo da Vinci and his Mona Lisa are looking forward with keen anticipation to a trip to the National Art Gallery.

The first-graders at Montgomery County's Forest Knoll Elementary School have tried to reproduce Mona Lisa in pencil, crayon and watercolor.

So when they stand before the famous portrait next Monday their knowledge will surpass that of many of their elders who have been trooping to the gallery by the thousands to view da Vinci's masterpiece.

And they will be able to show off their knowledge to two other first grade classes at Forest Knoll who are going along on the tour but who have not been involved in the teaching project of Sally R. Korobkin.

Under the school system's lower grade teaching plan, more than an art project is involved.

"Certainly the children learned about Mona Lisa," Mrs. Korobkin explained, "but they learned much more — mathematics, spelling, history, geography and science."

The children, for example, learned something of the geography of Italy and France, how to spell new words, and about da Vinci's inventions.

Answering questions involving La Giaconda's inscrutable smile, Mrs. Korobkin told her pupils that "if someone is loved very much it shines through."

The teacher thinks the 6-year-olds produced some impressive results" despite a tendency to give Mona Lisa eyebrows and a heart-shaped mouth."

Former County Commissioner Dies

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Henry C. Wigley Sr., a former member of the Anne Arundel Board of County Commissioners, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was 78.

Wigley, a 12-year member of the board from 1950 until last month, suffered a heart attack at his home in Millersville, near here. He was pronounced dead at the Anne Arundel General Hospital. Wigley was a tobacco farmer.

Fruit Company Denies Use Of Ransom Ship

BOSTON (AP) — The United Fruit Co. said Tuesday it will not be able to provide a ship to carry a ransom cargo from Baltimore to Cuba during the week of Jan. 28.

Maryland Port Authority commissioners indicated Monday that it had been asked to provide free wharfage and dockage for such a ship.

The United Fruit Co. headquarters in Boston said Tuesday:

"In connection with published reports that part of a Cuban ransom cargo would be carried from Baltimore during the week of Jan. 28 aboard a United Fruit Co. ship, the company wants to advise that there is no vessel available at that time for this purpose."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONAID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief:

(1) COLONAID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

Phi Rho Chapter, BSP Discusses New Project

Since the chapter has been rated a "two Star Chapter" members of Phi Rho Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi decided to purchase from the international office a special charm for each member's achievement bracelet.

Also at the regular meeting held at the home of Miss Eileen Morgan, Frost Avenue, Frostburg, tentative plans were discussed to sell orchids and party theme material, as a money making project. After additional information is obtained it will be decided.

The annual Cruise Ball of the City Council, April 20 was discussed and it was decided to offer services to assist with publicity and decorations. Reports were given on profits of various projects during the year.

The chapter will have a guest speaker for the second meeting in February. He is to be Grover C. Long, who is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, is a member of the Toastmasters Club and was instructor for a speech class at the Y. He will speak February 20. If any member of the other BSP chapters care to hear Mr. Long's talk, they are asked to call Miss Dorothy O'Baker, PA 4-6686 after 5 o'clock.

For a social event for February, chapter members decided to go bowling at White Oaks. Tentative dates were set for the 26th or 28th.

A cultural program was presented by Miss Kay Beeman. Her topic was "Am I Intellectually Competent?"

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	5 ♡	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

The humiliating effect of an unsuccessful slam effort is quite understandable. Sometimes the victim derives a measure of consolation from the thought that the mishap was due to what we refer to as "duplication of values." Such a case is found to exist where one player has a concentration of high card strength as, for example, ace and king in a suit in which partner is void.

In today's hand, South influenced by his partner's leap beyond game carried on to a slam, losing sight of important negative inferences to be drawn from North's failure to show certain aces.

South opened the bidding with one heart and North responded with one spade. South's rebid was a jump to three hearts, and this is the call which does not meet with my approval, for a jump in the same suit by the opening bidder, while it designates a strong hand and a good suit, is not forcing on the responder. In this case, South has a holding which is valued at somewhat over 21 points, which includes, of course, high cards and distribution. He should, therefore, insist upon a game contract when he learns that partner has been able to keep the bidding open for one round. On this basis, his proper rebid would have been a jump to four hearts leaving nothing to chance.

North had the equivalent of an opening bid himself and, facing a partner who had opened and then jumped, he was aware that a slam was in the offing. He had no further features of his own to show and, since South by his rebid had firmly established hearts as trump, North extended his invitation by raising beyond game to five hearts.

At this point, South fell into the trap he had created for himself by virtue of his underbid on the previous round. Since he felt that he had not yet done justice to his holding, he carried on to a small slam. West opened the ace of diamonds and, when this held the trick, he followed up by cashing the ace of clubs.

In my opinion, the blame for reaching an unmakable slam rests squarely on South's shoulders. If North had held either minor suit ace, he could have shown it quite conveniently over three hearts by bidding either four clubs or four diamonds, prior to raising his partner. North's direct leap to five hearts announces a good hand, but denies the ability to show any more primary controls. South must, accordingly, bow to the inevitable and accept the fact that he is off two aces. Even tho he holds something in reserve, he must recognize that the partnership lacks the necessary two aces and must retire from further action.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A pediatrician friend of mine told me recently that good food alone is not the complete answer to the development of sturdy bodies and good eating habits. In his opinion, an important ingredient in a baby's diet is the smiling climate which surrounds him at mealtime. If you're more concerned with how happily your baby eats than how much he eats, you'll find your darling will eat as much as he needs, will blossom accordingly, and will learn to accept new foods without undue fuss and fanfare.

A smile in every spoonful—that's the mealtime success story when you serve foods that look good, taste good and offer good variety. Gerber Strained Foods fill all three qualifications beautifully. To begin with, they have nature's own come-hither colors and appe-tempting flavors. And Gerber offers over 50 taste delights for bright-eyed sprites.

Introductory plan. Timing is ever so important when you introduce new foods to baby. It should be when he's reasonably hungry but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly as to when they are receptive to new foods. With a bit of experimentation (garnished with grins), you'll soon learn whether your baby finds new foods more acceptable at the beginning of a meal or after the first hunger pains have been eased with a favorite food.

Undercover story with built-in protection and comfort. Gerber Baby Pants are made of soft, polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof, so baby can visit on any lap without mishap. Amply cut for free 'n' easy maneuvering . . . bound in downy nylon edging for feather-soft contact with tender legs and waist. Extra rugged, they'll withstand many, many washings, stay soft, too. Medium, large, extra-large and in toddler sizes, pull-on or snap-on styles. Gerber Products Company, Fremont, Michigan.

There are two ways to look through a telescope

But only one way to see the future of Natural Gas

Look into the wrong end of a telescope and things seem tiny and remote.

Look through the other end and the image is large . . . the horizons more distinct.

Huge capital expenditures for pipelines, regulator stations and other equipment.

A wide-spread drilling and exploration program.

A need for tremendous underground storage fields.

Phi Rho Chapter, BSP Discusses New Project

Since the chapter has been rated a "two Star Chapter" members of Phi Rho Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi decided to purchase from the international office a special charm for each member's achievement bracelet.

Also at the regular meeting held at the home of Miss Eileen Morgan, Frost Avenue, Frostburg, tentative plans were discussed to sell orchids and party theme material, as a money making project. After additional information is obtained it will be decided.

The annual Cruise Ball of the City Council, April 20 was discussed and it was decided to offer services to assist with publicity and decorations. Reports were given on profits of various projects during the year.

The chapter will have a guest speaker for the second meeting in February. He is to be Grover C. Long, who is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, is a member of the Toastmasters Club and was instructor for a speech class at the Y. He will speak February 20. If any member of the other BSP chapters care to hear Mr. Long's talk, they are asked to call Miss Dorothy O'Baker, PA 4-6686 after 5 o'clock.

For a social event for February, chapter members decided to go bowling at White Oaks. Tentative dates were set for the 26th or 28th.

The bidding:

3 ♡	Pass	5 ♡	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

The humiliating effect of an unsuccessful slam effort is quite understandable. Sometimes the victim derives a measure of consolation from the thought that the mishap was due to what we refer to as "duplication of values." Such a case is found to exist where one player has a concentration of high card strength as, for example, ace and king in a suit in which partner is void.

In today's hand, South influenced by his partner's leap beyond game carried on to a slam, losing sight of important negative inferences to be drawn from North's failure to show certain aces.

South opened the bidding with one heart and North responded with one spade. South's rebid was a jump to three hearts, and this is the call which does not meet with my approval, for a jump in the same suit by the opening bidder, while it designates a strong hand and a good suit, is not forcing on the responder. In this case, South has a holding which is valued at somewhat over 21 points, which includes, of course, high cards and distribution. He should, therefore, insist upon a game contract when he learns that partner has been able to keep the bidding open for one round. On this basis, his proper rebid would have been a jump to four hearts leaving nothing to chance.

North had the equivalent of an opening bid himself and, facing a partner who had opened and then jumped, he was aware that a slam was in the offing. He had no further features of his own to show and, since South by his rebid had firmly established hearts as trump, North extended his invitation by raising beyond game to five hearts.

At this point, South fell into the trap he had created for himself by virtue of his underbid on the previous round. Since he felt that he had not yet done justice to his holding, he carried on to a small slam. West opened the ace of diamonds and, when this held the trick, he followed up by cashing the ace of clubs.

In my opinion, the blame for reaching an unmakable slam rests squarely on South's shoulders. If North had held either minor suit ace, he could have shown it quite conveniently over three hearts by bidding either four clubs or four diamonds, prior to raising his partner. North's direct leap to five hearts announces a good hand, but denies the ability to show any more primary controls. South must, accordingly, bow to the inevitable and accept the fact that he is off two aces. Even tho he holds something in reserve, he must recognize that the partnership lacks the necessary two aces and must retire from further action.

Bringing Up Baby®

A pediatrician friend of mine told me recently that good food alone is not the complete answer to the development of sturdy bodies and good eating habits. In his opinion, an important ingredient in a baby's diet is the smiling climate which surrounds him at mealtime. If you're more concerned with how happily your baby eats than how much he eats, you'll find your darling will eat as much as he needs, will blossom accordingly, and will learn to accept new foods without undue fuss and fanfare.

A smile in every spoonful—that's the mealtime success story when you serve foods that look good, taste good and offer good variety. Gerber Strained Foods fill all three qualifications beautifully. To begin with, they have nature's own come-hither colors and appe-tempting flavors. And Gerber offers over 50 taste delights for bright-eyed sprites.

Introductory plan. Timing is ever so important when you introduce new foods to baby. It should be when he's reasonably hungry but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly as to when they are receptive to new foods. With a bit of experimentation (garnished with grins), you'll soon learn whether your baby finds new foods more acceptable at the beginning of a meal or after the first hunger pains have been eased with a favorite food.

Undercover story with built-in protection and comfort. Gerber Baby Pants are made of soft, polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof, so baby can visit on any lap without mishap. Amply cut for free 'n' easy maneuvering . . . bound in downy nylon edging for feather-soft contact with tender legs and waist. Extra rugged, they'll withstand many, many washings, stay soft, too. Medium, large, extra-large and in toddler sizes, pull-on or snap-on styles. Gerber Products Company, Fremont, Michigan.

The meeting opened with the flag salute led by Mrs. Edna White. The history of the hymn of the month, "Come thou Fount of every Blessing," was given by Mrs. Bertha Frost, music chairman, and sung by the group. Mrs. Elsie Brant, was welcomed as a new member.

Dr. Harold Malin, local chiropractor, spoke on fluoridation. A motion was passed that the Mapleside Homemakers Club send a letter to the council going on record opposing fluoridation.

Mrs. Mary Settle, food and nutrition chairman, will be in charge of the Valentine and birthday party at the next meeting, February 21.

Mrs. Taylor appointed Mrs. Laura Twigg and Mrs. Mary Settle, to audit all of the club's equipment and supplies. The club will attend a food demonstration at the Gas Company office, February 26, 1:30 p. m., and the executive board meeting January 24, at 1:30 at her home, 23 Potomac Street.

Mrs. Betty Smith, retiring secretary, spoke briefly and thanked members for their cooperation. The meeting closed with the singing of "America". Guests were Mrs. Howard Frost, Mrs. Edna Robinson, Mrs. Harry Wilhelm, Mrs. Lucille Blizzard, Mrs. Garnett Logan and Mrs. William Wallace.

There are two ways to look through a telescope

Look into the wrong end of a telescope and things seem tiny and remote.

Look through the other end and the image is large . . . the horizons more distinct.

Huge capital expenditures for pipelines, regulator stations and other equipment.

A wide-spread drilling and exploration program.

A need for tremendous underground storage fields.

Intense competition from other energy sources.

Today . . . your gas company has met successfully the challenge of a 600 per cent increase in heating demands in this area. Long range planning has made it possible to supply your home, and the homes of the future, with all the gas that is needed—regardless of the temperature.

Thanks to the exploration program, proved natural gas reserves are greater than ever before—assuring plentiful supplies for many generations to come.

As your gas company views the future, it sees the need for a continuing expansion of facilities—making it possible to serve the demands for natural gas in homes and industry—at a cost lower than any other energy source.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Unfurl the city flags and trot out the band — successful Sam Spiegel, long gone from the Hollywood scene to film his spectacles elsewhere, returns to the native sound stages to make his next, "The Chase!"

True, the production expatriates have been seeping back — but Sam is a giant among them because of the high cost and general excellence of his product, the most recent of which is "Lawrence of Arabia," and stretching back through "River Kwai" to "African Queen."

Spiegel left for the foreign field way back in 1952 so it's news indeed that he is now in town closing with Columbia to film Horton Foote's "The Chase" (about modern day Texas) in Hollywood. welcome home, Sam.

If they gave awards for tenacity, Burt Lancaster would win hands down. Far from giving up on his crusade to free prisoner Robert Stroud (his "Birdman of Alcatraz"), Burt is pouring steam into his campaign.

He has been in touch with Senator Edward Long, of Missouri where Stroud is incarcerated in a federal hospital, reminding him of his promise to arrange a face to face meeting between the elderly prisoner and Burt. Also he is behind the trip of Beverly Hills lawyer, Richard English (not to be confused with the late writer) who is seeking an appointment with President Kennedy to show him 100,000 signatures on a petition to free the Birdman.

The real life story Michele Morgan is living these days sounds almost like a movie plot: Since the untimely death of her husband Henri Vidal two years ago, Michele has been seeing only one man, actor-director Gerard Oury, who is very much in love with her.

But Michele has turned down his many proposals of marriage because she says her late husband is still in her heart. Now Gerard is working on a screenplay, "The Vicious Circle" about a beautiful young widow who finds love again and naturally, it is to star his girl friend.

He has told friends he hopes as Michele gets into the role she will gain a sort of psychological "release" from the past and come to realize her happiness is with him.

Stories about Marilyn Monroe keep cropping up: Ken Murray will unveil a surprise on the second of his TV shows based on Hollywood home movies when he unreels footage of the late Marilyn from an audition she made as a possible replacement for Marie Wilson in Ken's stage show, "Blackouts." It was years ago, and Marilyn didn't get the job.

"At that time, our audiences just didn't want Marie replaced by anyone," explains cigar smoking Ken. "But even then Marilyn was a knockout and showed her talent for singing which later was played up in her movies. Audiences will get a big kick out of seeing her in our special over NBC."

"Advise and Consent" was a most controversial movie, but it brought acclaim to many of the actors for the roles they portrayed. Among them is Burgess Meredith, whom Otto Preminger himself thought was so great, that he's now signed Burgess for a very important key role in "The Cardinal."

Burgess, who never missed a day calling on Charles Laughton when he was so sick, plays the pastor of a small church to which Tom Tryon, (the cardinal) is assigned as a young priest.

MGM made a deal to use the equipment and personnel of the main fire company of Culver City for a sequence in the Shirley Jones movie "Moon Walk." But believe me, they had a problem with the worthy fire fighters, who refused, down to the last man, to allow any makeup to be applied to their faces on the grounds that they would appear to look like sissies.

And you know what? The scenes were shot according to the orders of the fire department—or should I say, according to their wishes.

HOLLYWOOD — Things are looking up in Hollywood when an actor is signed to a four year exclusive contract. That's what has happened to Peter Lorre, who has put his name to a four year deal for eight terror pictures, a contract extending through 1967.

American-International heads James H. Nicholson and Samuel Z. Arkoff explain that Peter's pact bars him from doing any outside movies in the horror, science-fiction, macabre type, or the Edgar Allen Poe categories.

The first two to roll in 1963 will be "It's Alive," and "Comedy of Terror." Peter will be co-starred with Vincent Price in both of these thrillers.

If I were asked who the most sought after actor is in Hollywood, I think I would have to say Jack Lemmon. We have had so many companies and wishful thinkers hoping to get Jack.

He's now signed with Freddie Brisson to star in "Under The Yum Yum Tree," which goes into production at Columbia March 4, with David Swift directing. Swift directed "Pollyanna" and "The Parent Trap" for Disney, and "The Interns" for Columbia.

Had dinner at La Scale in the booth next to Martin Manulis and his attractive wife Frances. They were entertaining Tad Mosel, who won the Pulitzer Prize for "All The Way Home" in New York last year.

Martin is feeling very happy over the success of "Days of Wine and Roses," his first independent motion picture, which is mentioned in the high brackets. Things are looking very bright for Martin, who has just signed to take over the feature picture department for Four Star Productions. His next independent movie is "The Out of Towners" for which Mosel is writing the screenplay.

Charming young Patty Duke, who made herself famous with both the movie and stage hit of "The Miracle Worker" tells me her sister Carol is marrying Charles Kennedy — "No relation to the President," she said, "but he is very nice too."

Patty's in Hollywood for a "Wide Country" TV show, making a pilot for a series, and talking business with Nunnally Johnson who is writing "The World of Harry Orientes," the movie he'll make in New York.

Sometimes I think we forget movies made and released early in the year, and Patty is a very good bet for supporting honors in the Academy Award race in "The Miracle Worker."

First met Robert Goulet when he opened in "Camelot" in Boston. I thought I had never seen as handsome a Sir Lancelot — but not only is he good looking but charming, and the most popular new star on the horizon today.

I had a chance to have a long talk with him at the home of Polly Bergen and Freddie Fields, and he told me he is coming back to Hollywood in a month. He hasn't made up his mind which movie he'll accept — "Carnival" or "Unsinkable Molly Brown." He can have either one. In fact, there isn't a studio in town that didn't try to get Robert while he was in town, but he wasn't interest in any of the other offers.

Greer Garson tells me she has become an agent to some thoroughbred cattle on the ranch she and Buddy Fogelson own in New Mexico. Seems that Richard Egan needed some very special thoroughbreds for his "Empire" TV series, and visited the Fogelson ranch. He chose the Santa Gertrudis brand which came from the famous King Ranch in Texas.

Greer wouldn't sign the cattle until she read the script, suggested some changes, and accompanied her bovine actors when they made their test. Buddy, who is here with Greer, suffering from a knee injury, got on the telephone and said he never thought he'd marry a cattle agent.

Secrets Of Charm

Tired Feet Respond To Flexing

The brightness of your smile depends as much on your feet as your teeth. More downcast frowns and wrinkled foreheads are due to tired, aching, swollen feet than to tragedy or worry.

After a long day on your feet, you can soothe away the aches with hand massage or a workout with a foot vibrator. You can soak your feet in a warm bath of water laced with a handful of table salt or baking soda. You can prop your feet higher than your hips to relieve congestion and stimulate the blood circulation.

But being satisfied with just temporary relief after the damage is done is akin to locking the barn after the horse is stolen. Not a one of these remedies does you any good at the time you need help most — in the middle of that long day.

There's no point in putting up with chronic tired feet if you can do something positive to prevent the problem. Start by having a foot doctor check your feet to see if he can make any helpful corrections. Getting rid of even the minor corns and calluses will make a difference in the ways you walk and stand. You may, after all, have been subjecting your poor feet to needless torture from poor posture, just to avoid extra pressure on such sore points.

Stop fooling around with shoes designed more for vanity than for comfort and support; you aren't fooling your feet. Save the silly sandals for after hours and invest in shoes built to carry you through the hard-working part of your day. (And, if you're a housewife, slip out of that habit of wearing bedroom slippers all day indoors!)

If you're overweight, make up your mind, — this time, seriously — to start counting calories. Every pound too many puts added strain on your feet as well as on your heart and other organs.

Finally, begin giving your feet regular daily exercise, to give them the suppleness and strength to do the job they're intended to do.

It won't take much time out of your busy day to do these foot-flexers — no longer than it would take for a massage or a soak:

1—Stand with your bare feet parallel; rise on your toes, then slowly lower your heels to the floor.

2—Still barefoot, walk about the room on the outer edges of your feet.

3—Stand and rock back and forth on your bare feet, from toes to heels and back again.

4—Sit with your legs extended for a session of spreading your toes as far apart as possible. Alternate with curling them under, and try picking up a pencil with them.

"Dance Through a Week to Beauty" — and exercise ALL of you, feet included. Send today for this pamphlet, by writing to me, John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A Mt. Savage woman was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday following a two-car collision on State Route 36, one mile west of Corriganville.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital was Dora Martin Sweene, of RD 1, Mt. Savage, who reportedly sustained lacerations of her head, a possible fractured right arm and possible back injuries. Her condition was reported as "satisfactory."

Tfc. T. E. Ruppert of the Maryland State Police said the collision occurred around 8:30 a.m.

Police said the injured woman was eastbound on the highway when she attempted to pass an unidentified vehicle and noticed a westbound car approaching and being operated by William Edward Jenkins, 32, of Mt. Savage.

The Sweene woman attempted to pull back into her lane of traffic and lost control. The car crossed the center line and into the path of the Jenkins auto.

Jenkins was treated for injuries and released at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Unfurl the city flags and trot out the band — successful Sam Spiegel, long gone from the Hollywood scene to film his spectacles elsewhere, returns to the native sound stages to make his next, "The Chase!"

True, the production expatriates have been seeping back — but Sam is a giant among them because of the high cost and general excellence of his product, the most recent of which is "Lawrence of Arabia," and stretching back through "River Kwai" to "African Queen."

Spiegel left for the foreign field way back in 1952 so it's news indeed that he is now in town closing with Columbia to film Horton Foote's "The Chase" (about modern day Texas) in Hollywood. welcome home, Sam.

If they gave awards for tenacity, Burt Lancaster would win, hands down. Far from giving up on his crusade to free prisoner Robert Stroud (his "Birdman of Alcatraz"), Burt is pouring steam into his campaign.

He has been in touch with Senator Edward Long, of Missouri where Stroud is incarcerated in a federal hospital, reminding him of his promise to arrange a face to face meeting between the elderly prisoner and Burt. Also he is behind the trip of Beverly Hills lawyer, Richard English (not to be confused with the late writer) who is seeking an appointment with President Kennedy to show him 100,000 signatures on a petition to free the Birdman.

The real life story Michele Morgan is living these days sounds almost like a movie plot: Since the untimely death of her husband Henri Vidal two years ago, Michele has been seeing only one man, actor-director Gerard Oury, who is very much in love with her.

But Michele has turned down his many proposals of marriage because she says her late husband is still in her heart. Now Gerard is working on a screenplay, "The Vicious Circle" about a beautiful young widow who finds love again and naturally, it is to star his girl friend.

He has told friends he hopes as Michele gets into the role she will gain a sort of psychological "release" from the past and come to realize her happiness is with him.

Stories about Marilyn Monroe keep cropping up: Ken Murray will unveil a surprise on the second of his TV shows based on Hollywood home movies when he unreels footage of the late Marilyn from an audition she made as a possible replacement for Marie Wilson in Ken's stage show, "Blackouts." It was years ago, and Marilyn didn't get the job.

"At that time, our audiences just didn't want Marie replaced by anyone," explains cigar smoking Ken. "But even then Marilyn was a knockout and showed her talent for singing which later was played up in her movies. Audiences will get a big kick out of seeing her in our special over NBC."

"Advise and Consent" was a most controversial movie, but it brought acclaim to many of the actors for the roles they portrayed. Among them is Burgess Meredith, whom Otto Preminger himself thought was so great, that he's now signed Burgess for a very important key role in "The Cardinal."

Burgess, who never missed a day calling on Charles Laughton when he was so sick, plays the pastor of a small church to which Tom Tryon, (the cardinal) is assigned as a young priest.

MGM made a deal to use the equipment and personnel of the main fire company of Culver City for a sequence in the Shirley Jones movie "Moon Walk." But believe me, they had a problem with the worthy fire fighters, who refused, down to the last man, to allow any makeup to be applied to their faces on the grounds that they would appear to look like sissies.

And you know what? The scenes were shot according to the orders of the fire department—or should I say, according to their wishes.

HOLLYWOOD — Things are looking up in Hollywood when an actor is signed to a four year exclusive contract. That's what has happened to Peter Lorre, who has put his name to a four year deal for eight terror pictures, a contract extending through 1967.

American-International heads James H. Nicholson and Samuel Z. Arkoff explain that Peter's pact bars him from doing any outside movies in the horror, science-fiction, macabre type, or the Edgar Allen Poe categories.

The first two to roll in 1963 will be "It's Alive," and "Comedy of Terror." Peter will be co-starred with Vincent Price in both of these thrillers.

If I were asked who the most sought after actor is in Hollywood, I think I would have to say Jack Lemmon. We have had so many companies and wishful thinkers hoping to get Jack.

He's now signed with Freddie Brisson to star in "Under The Yum Yum Tree," which goes into production at Columbia March 4, with David Swift directing. Swift directed "Pollyanna" and "The Parent Trap" for Disney, and "The Interns" for Columbia.

Had dinner at La Scale in the booth next to Martin Manulis and his attractive wife Frances. They were entertaining Tad Mosel, who won the Pulitzer Prize for "All The Way Home" in New York last year.

Martin is feeling very happy over the success of "Days of Wine and Roses," his first independent motion picture, which is mentioned in the high brackets. Things are looking very bright for Martin, who has just signed to take over the feature picture department for Four Star Productions. His next independent movie is "The Out of Towners" for which Mosel is writing the screenplay.

Charming young Patty Duke, who made herself famous with both the movie and stage hit of "The Miracle Worker" tells me her sister Carol is marrying Charles Kennedy — "No relation to the President," she said, "but he is very nice too."

Patty's in Hollywood for a "Wide Country" TV show, making a pilot for a series, and talking business with Nunnally Johnson who is writing "The World of Harry Orientes," the movie he'll make in New York.

Sometimes I think we forget movies made and released early in the year, and Patty is a very good bet for supporting honors in the Academy Award race in "The Miracle Worker."

First met Robert Goulet when he opened in "Camelot" in Boston. I thought I had never seen as handsome a Sir Lancelot — but not only is he good looking but charming, and the most popular new star on the horizon today.

I had a chance to have a long talk with him at the home of Polly Bergen and Freddie Fields, and he told me he is coming back to Hollywood in a month. He hasn't made up his mind which movie he'll accept — "Carnival" or "Unsinkable Molly Brown." He can have either one. In fact, there isn't a studio in town that didn't try to get Robert while he was in town, but he wasn't interest in any of the other offers.

Greer Garson tells me she has become an agent to some thoroughbred cattle on the ranch she and Buddy Fogelson own in New Mexico. Seems that Richard Egan needed some very special thoroughbreds for his "Empire" TV series, and visited the Fogelson ranch. He chose the Santa Gertrudis brand which came from the famous King Ranch in Texas.

Greer wouldn't sign the cattle until she read the script, suggested some changes, and accompanied her bovine actors when they made their test. Buddy, who is here with Greer, suffering from a knee injury, got on the telephone and said he never thought he'd marry a cattle agent.

Secrets Of Charm

Tired Feet Respond To Flexing

The brightness of your smile depends as much on your feet as your teeth. More downcast frowns and wrinkled foreheads are due to tired, aching, swollen feet than to tragedy or worry.

After a long day on your feet, you can soothe away the aches with hand massage or a workout with a foot vibrator. You can soak your feet in a warm bath of water laced with a handful of table salt or baking soda. You can prop your feet higher than your hips to relieve congestion and stimulate the blood circulation.

But being satisfied with just temporary relief after the damage is done is akin to locking the barn after the horse is stolen. Not a one of these remedies does you any good at the time you need help most — in the middle of that long day.

There's no point in putting up with chronic tired feet if you can do something positive to prevent the problem. Start by having a foot doctor check your feet to see if he can make any helpful corrections. Getting rid of even the minor corns and calluses will make a difference in the ways you walk and stand. You may, after all, have been subjecting your poor feet to needless torture from poor posture, just to avoid extra pressure on such sore points.

Stop fooling around with shoes designed more for vanity than for comfort and support; you aren't fooling your feet. Save the silly sandals for after hours and invest in shoes built to carry you through the hard-working part of your day. (And, if you're a housewife, slip out of that habit of wearing bedroom slippers all day indoors!)

If you're overweight, make up your mind, — this time, seriously — to start counting calories. Every pound too many puts added strain on your feet as well as on your heart and other organs.

Finally, begin giving your feet regular daily exercise, to give them the suppleness and strength to do the job they're intended to do.

It won't take much time out of your busy day to do these foot-flexers — no longer than it would take for a massage or a soak:

1—Stand with your bare feet parallel; rise on your toes, then slowly lower your heels to the floor.

2—Still barefoot, walk about the room on the outer edges of your feet.

3—Stand and rock back and forth on your bare feet, from toes to heels and back again.

4—Sit with your legs extended for a session of spreading your toes as far apart as possible. Alternate with curling them under, and try picking up a pencil with them.

"Dance Through a Week to Beauty" — and exercise ALL of you, feet included. Send today for this pamphlet, by writing to me, John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A Mt. Savage woman was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday following a two-car collision on State Route 36, one mile west of Corriganville.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital was Dora Martin Sweene, of RD 1, Mt. Savage, who reportedly sustained lacerations of her head, a possible fractured right arm and possible back injuries. Her condition was reported as "satisfactory."

Tfc. T. E. Ruppert of the Maryland State Police said the collision occurred around 8:30 a.m.

Police said the injured woman was eastbound on the highway when she attempted to pass an unidentified vehicle and noticed a westbound car approaching and being operated by William Edward Jenkins, 32, of Mt. Savage.

The Sweene woman attempted to pull back into her lane of traffic and lost control. The car crossed the center line and into the path of the Jenkins auto.

Jenkins was treated for injuries and released at Sacred Heart Hospital.

County Sanitary Board Is Requested To Resign

William A. Douglas, chairman of the City-County Water-Sewage Committee submitted a letter to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday in which he outlined the group's position in regard to handling the sewage problem of the county and called for the resignation of the present Allegany County Sanitary Commission.

After the lengthy letter was read, Playford Aldridge, chairman of the county sanitary agency, stated that the call for resignation of the commission would not be complied with as the agency has made commitments as to preliminary financing for several sewage programs amounting from $50,000 to $75,000.

The City-County Water-Sewage Committee letter follows:

"Referring to our report to you under date of December 3 in which we recommended that the county sewage problem be handled on a single or overall district basis using interceptor sewers to carry sewage to existing treatment plants and not by the sub-district method with numerous treatment plants as proposed by the present Sanitary Commission.

"We find from studying the two reports secured by the Sewage Study Committee that they support our proposal in every instance. First, the report of Delta Engineers shows it will be cheaper to construct an interceptor sewer between Cumberland and Frostburg, which also would serve the intervening communities, than it would be to construct treatment plants for these areas. Second, they show a decided saving in operating costs for this section alone. We are attaching a summary showing some of the savings that would accrue to our citizens by the use of interceptors but which would be lost with the use of numerous treatment plants.

"Next, we quote you some of the recommendations from the evaluation report of Buchart-Horn Consulting Engineers which definitely support our suggestions:

"'That the Allegany County Sanitary District assume control of, and responsibility for, the development of a county wide sanitary sewer system.

"'That three major sewage treatment areas be established utilizing the existing facilities to the greatest possible extent. That these areas be located to provide discharge to the Potomac River thereby precluding the necessity for secondary treatment in the immediate future.

"'That the existing Cumberland Interceptor System be extended to carry sewage from the Evitts Creek, Wills Creek, Braddock Run, Upper Georges Creek and Lower Potomac River Drainage Basins, as soon as possible.'

"In view of the above we would suggest that you immediately proceed with securing the desired legislation to make an overall 'Allegany County Water-Sewage Commission' or 'Authority' effective.

"As regards financing this work, we would suggest you follow the example of the City of Cumberland on their water and sewage disposal bonds, i. e., by the use of self-supporting or revenue bonds on which the county only guarantees payment in the event the revenues are not sufficient to cover charges of principal and interest. If this commission or authority is organized and operated by qualified citizens there should never be any reason for the county to use tax monies to pay this debt.

"The matter of this financing was discussed at a conference in Baltimore between three members of the firm of Alex Brown & Son, large investment bankers, and our chairman, Mr. Douglas, also Messrs. Geare, Finan, and Walsh from Cumberland. For your further information, we give you the following quotation from a letter from Mr. Garland, president of Alex Brown & Sons, pertaining to this type of bond:

"'The second method would be a revenue bond payable primarily from revenues of the project, but also carrying a guarantee as to principal and interest by Allegany County. Because of this guarantee, the interest rate would be lower than on a pure revenue bond and in our discussion with you, you asked our opinion as to whether such bonds would be considered as constituting additional debt of the county, with the result that the credit standing of the county might, to some extent, be adversely affected. It could well be that during the early years, some rating services or agencies would include such debt as a part of the general county debt. On the other hand, if the project proved to be self-supporting, we do not think that the credit standing of the county would be adversely affected to any significant degree. We understand that present legislation would permit the issuance of revenue bonds carrying such guarantee.'

"Since the present Allegany County Sanitary Commission has been definitely opposed to the use of interceptor sewers and existing treatment plants for the handling of our sewage problem, we would suggest in order to speed up the program and with a view to harmony that they resign and the Board of County Commissioners immediately appoint a new interim commission to carry on the work until new legislation is effective covering an overall commission of five or seven members. This new interim commission, also the final commission, should be composed of citizens with a technical and administrative background sufficient to handle a job of this scope."

The letter also listed approximate savings by using interceptor sewers and existing sewage treatment plants.

Savings to Cumberland would include 40 per cent repayment on principal and interest for the use of the sewage treatment plant, $1,169,300; approximately $22,000 yearly savings on treatment costs over 40 years (normal bond life), $880,000 for a grand total of $2,049,300.

Savings to county residents are listed under the Delta Engineering report at $44,000 yearly on operating costs for Wills Creek drainage area only. It can also be figured that a $60,000 yearly saving on operating and administrative costs for a county system over 40 years. The grand total of this section would be $2,400,000.

The overall savings to the city and county under the program as outlined by the Douglas committee would be $4,449,300. It was further pointed out that operating and administrative cost savings would go on indefinitely.

County Gets Sewage Data

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received the recommendations and report of the sewage study committee, which was appointed by the county board last December 21.

The county board told the committee that it would study the recommendations and resumes of the engineering study made by Buckhart-Horn, consulting engineers of York, Pa., and would be ready to act on the committee report next week.

Members of the committee which submitted the report are John E. Geare, chairman; William A. Douglas, Chester A. Fisher, Playford Aldridge and William R. Carscaden.

In addition to the York firm, the committee engaged the services of Delta Engineers, of Cumberland, for certain work needed by the study group.

The report follows:

"The committee feels that the entire program, which will ultimately be county wide in scope, should be under the jurisdiction of the Allegany County Sanitary District, Inc. The county should be divided into drainage basins rather than political subdivisions, election districts or any other basis which we now have in existence.

"There would be three major sewage treatment areas which are as follows:

"Cumberland Sewage Treatment Plant.

"Westernport Sewage Treatment Plant.

"Upper Potomac Sewage Treatment Facility.

"The first two of these are existing facilities and the third would be constructed in the future as, if and when the same is necessary and economically feasible.

"It is felt that the following drainage areas should receive immediate attention:

"Evitts Creek. This area runs from the end of the present interceptor sewer south of the Cumberland Country Club property, extends to U. S. Route 40 near the Crossroad, runs along the Crossroads to Bedford Road and out 220 to Mill Run Road, which would drain this entire area by gravity to the city pumping station located near the Starlight Drive-In.

"Dry Run (Valley Road). This area would run from the city line along Valley Road as far as is economically feasible which would drain this area by gravity. No work would be contemplated in this area at the present time since it is felt that such an installation is economically unfeasible.

"Wills Creek. This area starts at Franklin Street, runs up Wills Creek to the confluence of Braddock Run and then runs from Wills Creek toward Corriganville. The only section that would be done in connection with this area would be make allowance for the same in the sizing of the pipe between the lower extremities of LaVale and Franklin Street.

"Jennings Run. This area would connect onto the Wills Creek area and run along Jennings Run to Mt. Savage and terminate at Zihlman. This segment would not be constructed at this time as it is felt that it would not be economically feasible. Provisions would be made to accommodate future leading in the pipe running from the lower extremities of LaVale to Franklin Street.

"Braddock Run (LaVale, Eckhart and Frostburg). This area would encompass the drainage area between the western end of the Narrows and all of the area for which Braddock Run is the natural drainage stream as well as the City of Frostburg. Gravity flow would be used with the exception of a pumping facility near Wrights Crossing. This segment should be given immediate attention.

"Lower Potomac River (Cresaptown, Cresap Park, Potomac Park, Bowling Green, Roberts Place). This area would be served by the construction of an interceptor line from Cresaptown to the Cumberland Plant which would either connect onto Cumberland's present system near the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company or take some shorter route to the Cumberland Plant. This segment should be constructed immediately.

"Upper Potomac River Basin (Pinto South along U. S. 220). No work is contemplated at the present time in this area. However, when economically feasible proper facilities would be constructed.

"Georges Creek Basin (Wrights Crossing to Franklin). This segment would be started as soon as economically feasible.

"Eastern Allegany County. There are no plans for this area at the present time, which area should be the subject of further study when justified.

"The key to the areas to be served at the Cumberland Plant is the City of Cumberland. If the LaVale Sanitary Commission and the City of Frostburg, as well as Eckhart and the other drainage areas involved in the Braddock Run segment, are to begin construction of the necessary facilities in the very near future, an agreement must be worked out between the various bodies and the Mayor and City Council as to sewage charges, etc.

"The Allegany County Sanitary Commission is comprised of three laymen who have the services of an attorney on a part-time basis and a full-time secretary.

"It seems that if this body is to be charged with carrying the recommendations of Buckhart-Horn into effect they need full-time professional assistance to do so.

"The mechanics of placing the recommendations of Buckhart-Horn into effect are very involved and require the full cooperation of many municipalities, as well as other political bodies, and in this regard it is felt that there must be a full-time qualified employe of the Allegany County Sanitary District, Inc., who would be in charge with the detail involved in such a large undertaking. The cost of the services of the employe would be a budgetary item of the county until such time as it could be repaid out of operating revenues prorated among the various drainage areas.

"The committee has done some investigation into the method of financing for the projected improvements and the revenues to be derived therefrom. It is felt that the bonds to be issued would be revenue bonds which would be guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the county. The county, as such, would not pay the bonds as it is anticipated that each of the drainage basins would pay for the facilities located in their own areas. The only obligation on the county would be to make payment on the bonds in case of default by any particular drainage basin."

LaVale WSCS Plans Events

A mother-daughter banquet in May and a Maryland strawberry festival in June were planned at the meeting of the LaVale WSCS. Mrs. James Perry was named chairman for the former. The committee for the latter consists of Mrs. Willis Smith, Mrs. Lindsay Bray and Mrs. Charles Alford.

Reports were given by Mrs. Dennis McIntyre, Mrs. Darl Bray, Mrs. Edwin Cotner, Mrs. W. B. Harshberger and Mrs. F. V. Cozad. Mrs. Howard Demott conducted the devotions.

The entertainment consisted of a talk by Dr. W. Ardell Haines on his vacation to the northwestern states and Canada. He illustrated it with slides.

The next meeting will be February 19 at 12:30 in the fellowship hall.

Rubber Workers To Give $5,000 For New Hospital

Local 26, United Rubber Workers, AFL-CIO — always front-runners in community affairs — are living up to its reputation in the $500,000 drive to put the new Sacred Heart Hospital on Haystack Mountain.

James W. Stein, president of the 1,800-member union at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, announced that the union voted unanimously to provide a memorial room at the new hospital — at a cost of $5,000.

Union officials believe that history was made in the giving of the memorial and said that "it will stand as a tribute to the efforts of labor in making the progressive moves necessary to provide adequate medical facilities for the area — and make it more attractive to new industry."

Lewis J. Ort, general chairman of the Sacred Heart drive, said, "I am sure that this is an historic occasion. Never in the history of local fund-raising has any group endorsed a project so enthusiastically, nor shown such deep understanding of the needs of the community."

Veteran labor observers said that they could not recall that such a generous gift was ever made to any local institution in the past.

"This is tremendous," said Sister Mary Richard, Sacred Heart administrator, when officers of Local 26 visited her to tell her of the gift and to look at samples of memorial plaques. "Mr. Ort had told me of the wonderful support that organized labor has given to County United Fund and other local projects, but this is more than we had ever expected from any one group."

Accompanying Stein to Sacred Heart were Richard L. Bible, vice president of the Rubber Workers; James E. Green, secretary; and Joseph V. Burke, treasurer. The union officials assured Sister Mary Richard that "this is just a beginning." They said that the Labor Division of the Sacred Heart drive, headed by seven prominent area labor leaders, is hard at work and will produce astounding results.

"We predict," said the Rubber Workers leaders, "that other unions will follow suit — and that our union members will make personal gifts through their combined fund-raising committees in industry and business.

"We are grateful for the contribution the Sisters of Charity are making to the economic growth and the upgrading of medical care in the area," they added, "and are highly gratified with the response of our union membership and the action taken on this subject. Needless to say, we are very proud of the foresight and understanding shown by our members in recognizing the need for this great new hospital."

The Sisters of Charity are contributing more than $5 million to the new hospital, and available funds from the federal government amount to $625,000.

Court Hears Rexroad Appeal

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The state argued yesterday that sufficient evidence was developed in Hardy County Circuit Court to convict John Rexroad, a Moorefield service station operator, of conspiracy in the death of a Virginia man.

Attorneys for Rexroad replied that there was no positive evidence that Rexroad had anything to do with the fatal wounding of Eldridge Lee Ritter of Stephens City, Va., in July 1960.

Ritter died from loss of blood after he was found in his parked car along a highway near Moorefield. His right arm had been cut and apparently had been raked on the car window.

Rexroad, one of five men indicted in the case, was sentenced to 5 to 18 years in the state penitentiary and then given five years probation, after conviction June 28, 1961, on a charge to commit second degree murder.

The Moorefield resident won state Supreme Court review of the conviction. The other four men were acquitted.

Rexroad once again contended that he did not receive a fair trial. He said the lower court erred in not overruling a motion for a mistrial after Ritter's widow, seated at the counsel table, cried out on several occasions.

County Sanitary Board Is Requested To Resign

William A. Douglas, chairman of the City-County Water-Sewage Committee submitted a letter to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday in which he outlined the group's position in regard to handling the sewage problem of the county and called for the resignation of the present Allegany County Sanitary Commission.

After the lengthy letter was read, Playford Aldridge, chairman of the county sanitary agency, stated that the call for resignation of the commission would not be complied with as the agency has made commitments as to preliminary financing for several sewage programs amounting from $50,000 to $75,000.

The City-County Water-Sewage Committee letter follows:

"Referring to our report to you under date of December 3 in which we recommended that the county sewage problem be handled on a single or overall district basis using interceptor sewers to carry sewage to existing treatment plants and not by the sub-district method with numerous treatment plants as proposed by the present Sanitary Commission.

"We find from studying the two reports secured by the Sewage Study Committee that they support our proposal in every instance. First, the report of Delta Engineers shows it will be cheaper to construct an interceptor sewer between Cumberland and Frostburg, which also would serve the intervening communities, than it would be to construct treatment plants for these areas. Second, they show a decided saving in operating costs for this section alone. We are attaching a summary showing some of the savings that would accrue to our citizens by the use of interceptors but which would be lost with the use of numerous treatment plants.

"Next, we quote you some of the recommendations from the evaluation report of Buchart-Horn Consulting Engineers which definitely support our suggestions:

" 'That the Allegany County Sanitary District assume control of, and responsibility for, the development of a county wide sanitary sewer system.

" 'That three major sewage treatment areas be established utilizing the existing facilities to the greatest possible extent. That these areas be located to provide discharge to the Potomac River thereby precluding the necessity for secondary treatment in the immediate future.

" 'That the existing Cumberland Interceptor System be extended to carry sewage from the Evitts Creek, Wills Creek, Braddock Run, Upper Georges Creek and Lower Potomac River Drainage Basins, as soon as possible.'

"In view of the above we would suggest that you immediately proceed with securing the desired legislation to make an overall 'Allegany County Water-Sewage Commission' or 'Authority' effective.

"As regards financing this work, we would suggest you follow the example of the City of Cumberland on their water and sewage disposal bonds, i. e., by the use of self-supporting or revenue bonds on which the county only guarantees payment in the event the revenues are not sufficient to cover charges of principal and interest. If this commission or authority is organized and operated by qualified citizens there should never be any reason for the county to use tax monies to pay this debt.

"The matter of this financing was discussed at a conference in Baltimore between three members of the firm of Alex Brown & Son, large investment bankers, and our chairman, Mr. Douglas, also Messrs. Geare, Finan, and Walsh from Cumberland. For your further information, we give you the following quotation from a letter from Mr. Garland, president of Alex Brown & Sons, pertaining to this type of bond:

" 'The second method would be a revenue bond payable primarily from revenues of the project, but also carrying a guarantee as to principal and interest by Allegany County. Because of this guarantee, the interest rate would be lower than on a pure revenue bond and in our discussion with you, you asked our opinion as to whether such bonds would be considered as constituting additional debt of the county, with the result that the credit standing of the county might, to some extent, be adversely affected. It could well be that during the early years, some rating services or agencies would include such debt as a part of the general county debt. On the other hand, if the project proved to be self-supporting, we do not think that the credit standing of the county would be adversely affected to any significant degree. We understand that present legislation would permit the issuance of revenue bonds carrying such guarantee.'

"Since the present Allegany County Sanitary Commission has been definitely opposed to the use of interceptor sewers and existing treatment plants for the handling of our sewage problem, we would suggest in order to speed up the program and with a view to harmony that they resign and the Board of County Commissioners immediately appoint a new interim commission to carry on the work until new legislation is effective covering an overall commission of five or seven members. This new interim commission, also the final commission, should be composed of citizens with a technical and administrative background sufficient to handle a job of this scope."

The letter also listed approximate savings by using interceptor sewers and existing sewage treatment plants.

Savings to Cumberland would include 40 per cent repayment on principal and interest for the use of the sewage treatment plant, $1,169,300; approximately $22,000 yearly savings on treatment costs over 40 years (normal bond life), $880,000 for a grand total of $2,049,300.

Savings to county residents are listed under the Delta Engineering report at $44,000 yearly on operating costs for Wills Creek drainage area only. It can also be figured that a $60,000 yearly saving on operating and administrative costs for a county system over 40 years. The grand total of this section would be $2,400,000.

The overall savings to the city and county under the program as outlined by the Douglas committee would be $4,449,300. It was further pointed out that operating and administrative cost savings would go on indefinitely.

County Gets Sewage Data

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received the recommendations and report of the sewage study committee, which was appointed by the county board last December 21.

The county board told the committee that it would study the recommendations and resumes of the engineering study made by Buckhart-Horn, consulting engineers of York, Pa., and would be ready to act on the committee report next week.

Members of the committee which submitted the report are John E. Geare, chairman; William A. Douglas, Chester A. Fisher, Playford Aldridge and William R. Carscaden.

In addition to the York firm, the committee engaged the services of Delta Engineers, of Cumberland, for certain work needed by the study group.

The report follows:

"The committee feels that the entire program, which will ultimately be county wide in scope, should be under the jurisdiction of the Allegany County Sanitary District, Inc. The county should be divided into drainage basins rather than political subdivisions, election districts or any other basis which we now have in existence.

"There would be three major sewage treatment areas which are as follows:

"Cumberland Sewage Treatment Plant.

"Westernport Sewage Treatment Plant.

"Upper Potomac Sewage Treatment Facility.

"The first two of these are existing facilities and the third would be constructed in the future as, if and when the same is necessary and economically feasible.

"It is felt that the following drainage areas should receive immediate attention:

"Evitts Creek. This area runs from the end of the present interceptor sewer south of the Cumberland Country Club property, extends to U. S. Route 40 near the Crossroad, runs along the Crossroads to Bedford Road and out 220 to Mill Run Road, which would drain this entire area by gravity to the city pumping station located near the Starlight Drive-In.

"Dry Run (Valley Road). This area would run from the city line along Valley Road as far as is economically feasible which would drain this area by gravity. No work would be contemplated in this area at the present time since it is felt that such an installation is economically unfeasible.

"Wills Creek. This area starts at Franklin Street, runs up Wills Creek to the confluence of Braddock Run and then runs from Wills Creek toward Corriganville. The only section that would be done in connection with this area would be make allowance for the same in the sizing of the pipe between the lower extremities of LaVale and Franklin Street.

"Jennings Run. This area would connect onto the Wills Creek area and run along Jennings Run to Mt. Savage and terminate at Zihlman. This segment would not be constructed at this time as it is felt that it would not be economically feasible. Provisions would be made to accommodate future leading in the pipe running from the lower extremities of LaVale to Franklin Street.

"Braddock Run (LaVale, Eckhart and Frostburg). This area would encompass the drainage area between the western end of the Narrows and all of the area for which Braddock Run is the natural drainage stream as well as the City of Frostburg. Gravity flow would be used with the exception of a pumping facility near Wrights Crossing. This segment should be given immediate attention.

"Lower Potomac River (Cresaptown, Cresap Park, Potomac Park, Bowling Green, Roberts Place). This area would be served by the construction of an interceptor line from Cresaptown to the Cumberland Plant which would either connect onto Cumberland's present system near the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company or take some shorter route to the Cumberland Plant. This segment should be constructed immediately.

"Upper Potomac River Basin (Pinto South along U. S. 220). No work is contemplated at the present time in this area. However, when economically feasible proper facilities would be constructed.

"Georges Creek Basin (Wrights Crossing to Franklin). This segment would be started as soon as economically feasible.

"Eastern Allegany County. There are no plans for this area at the present time, which area should be the subject of further study when justified.

"The key to the areas to be served at the Cumberland Plant is the City of Cumberland. If the LaVale Sanitary Commission and the City of Frostburg, as well as Eckhart and the other drainage areas involved in the Braddock Run segment, are to begin construction of the necessary facilities in the very near future, an agreement must be worked out between the various bodies and the Mayor and City Council as to sewage charges, etc.

"The Allegany County Sanitary Commission is comprised of three laymen who have the services of an attorney on a part-time basis and a full-time secretary.

"It seems that if this body is to be charged with carrying the recommendations of Buckhart-Horn into effect they need full-time professional assistance to do so.

"The mechanics of placing the recommendations of Buckhart-Horn into effect are very involved and require the full cooperation of many municipalities, as well as other political bodies, and in this regard it is felt that there must be a full-time qualified employe of the Allegany County Sanitary District, Inc., who would be in charge with the detail involved in such a large undertaking. The cost of the services of the employe would be a budgetary item of the county until such time as it could be repaid out of operating revenues prorated among the various drainage areas.

"The committee has done some investigation into the method of financing for the projected improvements and the revenues to be derived therefrom. It is felt that the bonds to be issued would be revenue bonds which would be guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the county. The county, as such, would not pay the bonds as it is anticipated that each of the drainage basins would pay for the facilities located in their own areas. The only obligation on the county would be to make payment on the bonds in case of default by any particular drainage basin."

Court Hears Rexroad Appeal

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The state argued yesterday that sufficient evidence was developed in Hardy County Circuit Court to convict John Rexroad, a Moorefield service station operator, of conspiracy in the death of a Virginia man.

Attorneys for Rexroad replied that there was no positive evidence that Rexroad had anything to do with the fatal wounding of Eldridge Lee Ritter of Stephens City, Va., in July 1960.

Ritter died from loss of blood after he was found in his parked car along a highway near Moorefield. His right arm had been cut and apparently had been raked on the car window.

Rexroad, one of five men indicted in the case, was sentenced to 5 to 18 years in the state penitentiary and then given five years probation, after conviction June 28, 1961, on a charge to commit second degree murder.

The Moorefield resident won state Supreme Court review of the conviction. The other four men were acquitted.

Rexroad once again contended that he did not receive a fair trial. He said the lower court erred in not overruling a motion for a mistrial after Ritter's widow, seated at the counsel table, cried out on several occasions.

Rubber Workers To Give $5,000 For New Hospital

Local 26, United Rubber Workers, AFL-CIO — always front-runners in community affairs — are living up to its reputation in the $500,000 drive to put the new Sacred Heart Hospital on Haystack Mountain.

James W. Stein, president of the 1,800-member union at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, announced that the union voted unanimously to provide a memorial room at the new hospital — at a cost of $5,000.

Union officials believe that history was made in the giving of the memorial and said that "it will stand as a tribute to the efforts of labor in making the progressive moves necessary to provide adequate medical facilities for the area — and make it more attractive to new industry."

Lewis J. Ort, general chairman of the Sacred Heart drive, said, "I am sure that this is an historic occasion. Never in the history of local fund-raising has any group endorsed a project so enthusiastically, nor shown such deep understanding of the needs of the community."

Veteran labor observers said that they could not recall that such a generous gift was ever made to any local institution in the past.

"This is tremendous," said Sister Mary Richard, Sacred Heart administrator, when officers of Local 26 visited her to tell her of the gift and to look at samples of memorial plaques. "Mr. Ort had told me of the wonderful support that organized labor has given to County United Fund and other local projects, but this is more than we had ever expected from any one group."

Accompanying Stein to Sacred Heart were Richard L. Bible, vice president of the Rubber Workers; James E. Green, secretary; and Joseph V. Burke, treasurer. The union officials assured Sister Mary Richard that "this is just a beginning." They said that the Labor Division of the Sacred Heart drive, headed by seven prominent area labor leaders, is hard at work and will produce astounding results.

"We predict," said the Rubber Workers leaders, "that other unions will follow suit — and that our union members will make personal gifts through their combined fund-raising committees in industry and business.

"We are grateful for the contribution the Sisters of Charity are making to the economic growth and the upgrading of medical care in the area," they added, "and are highly gratified with the response of our union membership and the action taken on this subject. Needless to say, we are very proud of the foresight and understanding shown by our members in recognizing the need for this great new hospital."

The Sisters of Charity are contributing more than $5 million to the new hospital, and available funds from the federal government amount to $625,000.

Council Offers Jaycees Help In Paying Bill

Electricity Costs For Skating Cited

FROSTBURG — James Kelly, president of the Frostburg Jaycess, asked help of the Frostburg City Council at Monday evening's meeting in paying for the electricity to light the part of Beall Elementary playground that has been flooded and frozen for ice skating. The council agreed to assume a part of the bill as their share.

Charles Wolfe, Maple Street, offered the council a check as his share of the cost when the city removed several trees from the grass plot across the street from his home. Wolfe had complained numerous times of the condition caused when the trees dropped their leaves and also the damage to automobiles parked under the trees. He had offered to pay half the cost to remove the trees. Council advised Wolfe that they would assume all costs and returned his check.

John Sullivan, city attorney, read Ordinance 504 which extends the franchise of the Frostburg Community Television Inc., to serve the community with cable TV if the need arises. Sullivan also announced that he had written a letter to the Garrett County Commissioners asking for some of the appropriation set aside for fire companies. He stated in his letter that the Frostburg Fire Department serves an area of Garrett county extending from the county line to the Green Lantern Inn, west, and north through Finzel to the state line. No donation has ever been made to Frostburg from the county for this service.

A letter of application for the position of city tax collector in the event of the resignation of J. Harry Hanson was read from Harry Eisel, West Main Street. The letter was filed for future reference. This is the second application placed with the council for this position.

Bidding on the structure, as an agent for the bank, was Dr. Andrew E. Mance, one of the bank's directors. He placed a bid of $40,000.

The property consisted of three pieces of land, one .51 of an acre and the other two 6,000 square feet each, plus the hotel itself which was completely furnished.

The last owner was Mrs. Trudy Agress, who acquired the property last September. After difficulties extending over several weeks and after the heating system had broken, the hotel was closed last December 12.

The purchaser had failed to meet requirements and the mortgage was being foreclosed by Mrs. Victoria Ingram, former owner and holder of the first mortgage.

The property was operated for many years as the Commercial House, then turned into the William James Hotel which had been in operation for over 30 years under various managements.

Plans for the property were not divulged.

The general fund budget is the one which most concerns the governor and lawmakers, although they can change laws which affect the other two.

The governor lopped state agency requests nearly in half in order to hold the general fund budget in line. But he said it would provide for "sound expansion of present programs where the need is indicated" and that no essential programs were curtailed.

The major new item was a $4.4 million pay increase for state employes, involving $3,650,000 permanently added to the general fund budget and $750,000 in state and federal funds.

More than half of the general fund budget is to go for public education. The $185,343,986 recommended by Tawes is $13.5 million more than in the current year. It carries further improvements in salaries on college faculties as well as providing for more children and teachers in public school classrooms.

Educational Rankings

He said Maryland ranks eighth in the nation in the pay of its instructional staff, ninth in average pay for classroom teachers and 11th in spending per pupil. He said the $469 per pupil allotment is $37 above the national average.

He allowed for 835 additional state employes, including 40 more troopers "to bring our State Police nearer the optimum strength for adequate highway policing."

The governor submitted with his budget a separate capital improvements program calling for $23.6 million in land acquisition, construction and other improvements at state institutions.

This long-range program is financed through bond issues which are redeemed with the state property tax.

Here again the governor had a cautionary word for the legislature. He said there has been an increasing trend to provide borrowed money for projects which are not state-owned—private colleges, hospitals and the like.

Such expenditures have made up two-thirds of the capital improvements program in the last five years.

"It should be emphasized," he said, "that use of the state's credit for such purposes is not looked upon with favor by fiscal experts."

The governor said the state tax rate to redeem bond issues coming due next year will increase two cents—from 15 to 17 cents per $100 valuation—unless assessments are revised upward by December.

The state levy is added to, and collected with, local property taxes.

Cub Pack To Meet

Cub Scout Pack 9 of Cresaptown Methodist Church will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

Keyser Troop To Organize

The first session of the organizational meeting for Troop 39 of Grace Methodist Church at Keyser will be presented tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the church basement.

Harry Fisher, Boy Scout field executive, will represent Tri-Valley District, and David Long will represent the sponsoring institution for the training class to be conducted by the District Training Committee for leadership in Boy Scouting.

This training session is designed for all adult Scout leaders, troop committee members, interested parents, and members of institutions or organizations interested in youth. This training is open to anyone who desires to participate. Registered area Scouters who have not met the basic training requirements are urged to attend the meeting and take advantage of the course.

After registration the opening ceremony and welcoming of guests will be conducted by David Long. The main theme, "What Is Boy Scouting?" will be discussed by J R. Haines. The tenderfoot requirements will be covered by Lester R. McDowell and Frank Malcome will demonstrate knot-tying for tenderfoot requirements. "Parent Opportunity" will be outlined and a film strip "Who Pays for Scouting?" will be shown.

Teachers Ask

visory and clerical personnel, would cost $476,000.

Mr. Helmick presented a number of charts to illustrate the point that Allegany County is well down the line in the Maryland teachers salary rank. Allegany ranks 17th in the state salary scale, which includes the 23 counties and Baltimore City.

Fifteen counties and Baltimore City have higher beginning salaries and only three counties have lower starting salaries. They are Garrett, the lowest at $4,000, Somerset on the Eastern Shore with $4,100, and Caroline, also on the Eastern Shore, $4,200. The state leader is Montgomery County at $4,820 as a starting salary. Montgomery also has the top maximum pay for a bachelor's degree, $7,990, which comes to more than $153 per week.

Each chart offered by Mr. Helmick was designed to stress a particular point. One showed that during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1960, only four Maryland counties had a smaller percentage of their total revenue appropriated for public schools. This percentage was 39.7 for Allegany.

$347 Per Pupil

Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal of Allegany High School and a member of the association's legislative committee, pointed to a fact included in the state report for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1961. It showd that Allegany County spent $347.89 for education per pupil belonging, placing this county 21st among the 24 subdivisions. Only Carroll, Anne Arundel and Wicomico spent less per pupil.

Mr. Helmick also offered a comparison with unrelated salaries in the Cumberland area. One chart showed that a general engineer with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company with three to five years' experience averages between $6,300 and $7,800 annually. Unskilled laborers get $4,200 a year and skilled laborers reach $6,250.

A meat cutter for the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, on a 40-hour week, averages between $6,032 and $6,292 a year.

Teachers with advanced degrees receive more than the bachelor's rate. For instance, one with a master's degree gets $300 a year more than the regular schedule. Those with 30 or more hours beyond a master's get $400 more. Sixty or more hours beyond a master's provides an additional $500 yearly. A doctorate is worth $600 a year more per year.

Those attending last night's meeting included Robert T. Thomas, association president; Thomas M. Wagner, Carl M. Ritchie, John D. Kelly, Paul M. Arbogast, Miss Marian E. Bevans, James D. Preaskorn, Kendrick Y. Hodgdon and LaVern J. Hahn, as well as Mr. Helmick and Dr. Haines.

Years Of Experience	1962-63	Proposed 1963-64
1	$4300	$5000
2	4400	5100
3	4500	5200
4	4700	5400
5	4900	5600
6	5100	5800
7	5300	6000
8	5500	6200
9	5700	6400
10	5900	6600
11	6200	6900
12	6400	7100

wood cutters. He did not take the stand.

After hearing the evidence Judge Harris ruled Nixon not guilty by reason of being insane at the time of the shooting and at the time of the trial.

Dr. Trevaskis said Nixon was a paranoic schizophrenic, and that there is no cure for his condition.

Also testifying was Tfc. Leonard Glenn, who picked up Nixon the morning of the shooting one-quarter of a mile from the McBride house, and Carol McBride, 16-year-old sister of the victim.

leader commented. "But I doubt the wisdom of overruling the chair in the first 25 days of the session."

He and some other senators supported James as a courtesy to the presiding officer.

Bertorelli, in making his motion, said: "This bill doesn't do what its supposed to do—give the citizens of this state a fair shake."

He promised he would be heard from again on the measure.

Phoebus said he is "utterly opposed to this bill. It's really a monied bill. It's a bad bill, a rich man's bill to rob the poor, but I shall vote to sustain the chair on this ruling."

The term "monied bill" as used by Phoebus is often applied to legislation which is heavily lobbied and in which there are vested interests.

Majority floor leader H. Winship Wheatley Jr., D-Prince Georges, suggested that the bill go ahead to North's committee and be reassigned Wednesday to the judiciary committee by North.

The Talbot senator bristled. "When the president sends a bill to my committee, I shall see that it is handled by my committee," he said.

A report on the conference with the SRC will be presented, Mr. Marcou said, and suggestions will be asked on the first draft of the proposed subdivision ordinance. Copies of the proposal will be mailed to members soon, he said.

Man Is Jailed

James Irvin Perry, 33, RFD 1, Frostburg, yesterday was committed to the County Jail for 30 days in default of a $100 fine imposed in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Paul W. Barnett found Perry guilty of a motor vehicle charge and committed him in default of the fine. Perry was arrested by City Police Officer Philip K. Gilpin.

Ardell Haines, principal of Allegany High School and a member of the association's legislative committee, pointed to a fact included in the state report for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1961. It showd that Allegany County spent $347.89 for education per pupil belonging, placing this county 21st among the 24 subdivisions. Only Carroll, Anne Arundel and Wicomico spent less per pupil.

Mr. Helmick also offered a comparison with unrelated salaries in the Cumberland area. One chart showed that a general engineer with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company with three to five years' experience averages between $6,300 and $7,800 annually. Unskilled laborers get $4,200 a year and skilled laborers reach $6,250.

A meat cutter for the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, on a 40-hour week, averages between $6,032 and $6,292 a year.

Teachers with advanced degrees receive more than the bachelor's rate. For instance, one with a master's degree gets $300 a year more than the regular schedule. Those with 30 or more hours beyond a master's get $400 more. Sixty or more hours beyond a master's provides an additional $500 yearly. A doctorate is worth $600 a year more per year.

Those attending last night's meeting included Robert T. Thomas, association president; Thomas M. Wagner, Carl M. Ritchie, John D. Kelly, Paul M. Arbogast, Miss Marian E. Bevans, James D. Preaskorn, Kendrick Y. Hodgdon and LaVern J. Hahn, as well as Mr. Helmick and Dr. Haines.

Years Of Experience	1962-63	Proposed 1963-64
1	$4300	$5000
3	4500	5200

After hearing the evidence Judge Harris ruled Nixon not guilty by reason of being insane at the time of the shooting and at the time of the trial.

Dr. Trevaskis said Nixon was a paranoic schizophrenic, and that there is no cure for his condition.

Also testifying was Tfc. Leonard Glenn, who picked up Nixon the morning of the shooting one-quarter of a mile from the McBride house, and Carol McBride, 16-year-old sister of the victim.

leader commented. "But I doubt the wisdom of overruling the chair in the first 25 days of the session."

He and some other senators supported James as a courtesy to the presiding officer.

Bertorelli, in making his motion, said: "This bill doesn't do what its supposed to do—give the citizens of this state a fair shake."

He promised he would be heard from again on the measure.

Phoebus said he is "utterly opposed to this bill. It's really a monied bill. It's a bad bill, a rich man's bill to rob the poor, but I shall vote to sustain the chair on this ruling."

The term "monied bill" as used by Phoebus is often applied to legislation which is heavily lobbied and in which there are vested interests.

Majority floor leader H. Winship Wheatley Jr., D-Prince Georges, suggested that the bill go ahead to North's committee and be reassigned Wednesday to the judiciary committee by North.

The Talbot senator bristled. "When the president sends a bill to my committee, I shall see that it is handled by my committee," he said.

Another Shakedown For The Party?

The Kennedy administration has its troubles with its party fund-raising efforts. Early in the game, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall wrote a letter to oil executives that was too clear in its implications that they had better kick in to the Democratic party. That raised quite a flap in Washington.

Now Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, a Senate watchdog, is raising the specter of an attempted shakedown. This one involves pressure being brought to bear on federal employes to purchase tickets to a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

These pressures the Senator and the Washington newspapers have described cannot exactly be called "macing," which involves an out-and-out demand for contributions of fixed percentages of salaries, with the penalty for non-compliance being loss of jobs.

The employes feeling the pressure are civil servants, and the Civil Service Act was designed to preclude such exactions. But the tactics involved are simpler, if subtler, than those involved in outright macing.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, in opposing Senator Williams' call for an investigation of the charges, declared that civil servants are entitled to belong to a political party and "a lot of them want to contribute."

But there's a wide gap between contributions freely given and contributions elicited through explicit threats or through coercion of any kind. Senator Humphrey wants evidence to substantiate the charges. The hearing Senator Williams has asked could produce evidence if available.

If the administration has clean hands, it has nothing to fear from a hearing. If there is evidence of wrongdoing that can be substantiated, it should be brought out in the open as promptly as possible.

These Days

Government Investigates

Every once in a while a book erupts from the bookstores and the lending libraries and makes its mark on legislation. The most famous instance of this is, perhaps, Upton Sinclair's novel about early Twentieth Century conditions in the meat-packing industry, "The Jungle." Mr. Sinclair hoped that his novel would make converts to his favorite panacea of socialism, which it fortunately failed to do. But it did result in our modern pure food and drug legislation. As Mr. Sinclair put it, "I aimed at the heart of the nation and hit its stomach."

Well, the stomach of our people is still a remarkably susceptible organ. A marine biologist, Miss Rachel Carson, noting that tree sprays kill robins as well as insects, recently wrote a series of magazine articles that were later published in book form as "Silent Spring." Miss Carson's sympathies were with the birds, and she hoped to touch the hearts of bird-lovers with her moving chapters. Whether she has succeeded in establishing an effective political lobby for the birds is a moot question, but it is unarguable that she has a lot of people worried about poisonous insecticides that may wind up on the table in our food.

The contention that we are all being slowly poisoned by DDT and aldrin and other potent sprays which remain embedded in our vegetables despite washing and cooking has the garden clubs pressuring the politicians and memorializing state legislatures. In Connecticut, for example, Governor Dempsey, who knows the garden club vote is not to be sneezed at, has appointed a special committee to investigate the use of insecticides in his state.

This is not without its ironic aspects, for it necessarily boils down in good part to government investigating itself. The truth is that the wholesale use of insecticides is something that has been largely promoted by local road commissions and by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. These governmental bodies are the ones who have been relying on indiscriminate spraying.

It was not so long ago that the Department of Agriculture decided to get rid of the fire ant in the Southern Gulf Coast states. No doubt the fire ant, which has an unpleasant sting, is an unlovely creature. But, according to entomologists quoted by Miss Carson, it is not particularly harmful to crops or livestock, and there are observers who actually claim to have watched it picking boll weevil larvae off cotton.

Nevertheless, the Department of Agriculture, enamored of the power of dieldrin and heptachlor and other modern sprays, proceeded to drench thousands of acres in the South in a totalitarian pattern of warfare against the fire ant. The ants died, but so did poultry, livestock, raccoons, housecats, possums, armadillos, and song birds. And gamebirds which fed on contaminated earthworms and insects in quantities that failed to kill them certainly wound up in peoples' stomachs via the sportsman's bag.

In the West, the United States Forest Service has sprayed evergreens with DDT in hopes that it would get rid of the pest known as the spruce budworm. Unfortunately, a lot of beneficent insects were also killed by the DDT. With such beneficent predators as ladybugs wiped out, the spider mite, which is insensitive to DDT, started to create more havoc among the trees than the spruce budworm had ever managed to do.

The question is, can government be trusted to carry through an impartial investigation of the effect of poisonous sprays on birds, livestock and the human stomach when its own bureaucratic organizations have been the chief culprits in promoting the broadscale use of the sprays? If we could only forget that DDT and dieldrin and other poisonous chemicals may be building up in our own stomach every time we sit down to the dinner table, we would await the spectacle of government investigating itself with considerable sardonic amusement.

Kennedy Now In Strong Position To Negotiate Cold War Problems

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy today faces his greatest opportunity to negotiate a permanent peace, but because of division inside his own Administration he may miss the boat.

This is the consensus of friendly diplomats long trained in watching the ebb and flow of world events. They add that Europe is moving so fast that it may take the leadership away from Kennedy and patch up its own peace with Nikita Khrushchev.

Here are the reasons why Kennedy is now sitting on top of the diplomatic world when it comes to settling Berlin and other problems of the cold war:

1. Removal of U. S. missiles from Turkey and Italy — there was a big fracas inside the Administration when Adlai Stevenson wanted to use the removal of U. S. missiles from the Mediterranean in order to bargain with Khrushchev — after he had removed his missiles from Cuba. But today U. S. missiles are being removed from Turkey and Italy without fanfare, without any of the bargaining Stevenson proposed.

The 30 Jupiter missiles in Italy and 15 in Turkey have long been out of date. They make Italy and Turkey sitting-duck targets for retaliatory attack. The 60 Thor missiles in England, also out of date, are also being removed; in fact, most of them have already been dismantled.

This should decrease tension between the USA and USSR, but the United States has neither taken credit for it nor used it as Khrushchev used his removal of missiles from Cuba.

The proximity of these missiles to Russia — closer in Turkey than Cuban missiles to Florida — has been a great cause of Soviet irritation, and, for a time, fear. They were probably one reason for the sending of Russian missiles to Cuba.

Full publicity given to their current removal could be extremely important both with the neutrals and the Communist countries to show that we are not the warmongers we are alleged to be.

2. The wide-open rift in the Communist world — this is deep, bitter, and not expected to change — barring world war. It has put the Kremlin in a much more receptive mood for better understanding with the United States.

U. S. military leaders, at first inclined to be skeptical, have now concluded that the Russians are genuinely worried about Red China's bulging population plus its development of the atom bomb, which could be quite soon.

This rift is an opportunity which comes perhaps only once in a lifetime, certainly only once in the term of an American president. It is an opportunity which John F. Kennedy cannot afford to miss.

3. Mr. K's pronouncements for peace — when I interviewed Khrushchev on the shores of the Black Sea over a year ago I reported that he sincerely wanted peace. Since then, Khrushchev has taken important steps, including his withdrawal of missiles from Cuba; and made significant statements which reinforced this conclusion. The latest is his amazing speech in East Berlin last week in which he renounced war as an instrument of Communist policy.

"We will not fight, we will not begin war in order to erect socialism in another country," he said.

For saying this, Khrushchev has been abused and excoriated by the Red Chinese, and the Communist world has been split wide open. But he has stuck by his guns.

4. Brink of peace — The United States and Russia are now on the brink of agreement on two important points: A) nuclear testing; B) On Berlin, at least in theory.

In the nuclear test talks in New York, the two countries are so close that it's almost like arguing how many angels can stand on the point of a needle. They agree on tests in the atmosphere, tests in the water, and almost agree on how to detect tests underground. Our technicians believe that no really important weapons can be developed underground; so actually the argument is largely theoretical. Yet on it hinges an all-important understanding to stop poisoning the world's atmosphere.

On the war-breeding question of Berlin, the two nations haven't talked formally for some time. But the men most concerned, Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Germany, and Khrushchev of Moscow appear to be very close together.

Mayor Brandt told me in West Berlin last summer that he favored putting a branch of the UN in West Berlin with token UN troops. He told the same to Kennedy last fall. Khrushchev has publicly approved this idea. Premier Ulbricht, the former rootin'-tootin' advocate of a tough and immediate Berlin settlement, has now publicly eaten his words, says he's for compromise rather than risking war.

Passive Kennedy Administration

While the Administration in Washington has been gazing passively at this rapidly changing picture, the Germans have not. Nor has President de Gaulle. It would surprise no one in the diplomatic corps if de Gaulle did not start playing footsie with Khrushchev, partly perhaps to thumb his nose at Uncle Sam.

Meanwhile in Germany unusual things are happening. When the Christian Democrats objected to a meeting between Khrushchev and Mayor Willy Brandt last week, some of the leading West German papers, all anti-Communist, said it was a mistake.

The Frankfurter Rundschau called the veto of the Khrushchev-Brandt meeting "a shame for German policy. . . . . The responsible German politicians must not miss any opportunity to speak to Soviet leaders." Bildzeitung, which last summer was bitterly critical of the American military for not charging into East Berlin to rescue the East German youth who died on the wall, was even more critical; while the Munich Merkur remarked: "What damage would have been done to Berlin's cause" by the Khrushchev-Brandt meeting?

President Kennedy today is at the peak of his prestige. He has new respect around the world, new confidence in himself. But some of his old-school advisers are as nervous as a cat on a hot tin roof when it comes to seizing the initiative in a historic drive for better world understanding.

JFK Image Somewhat Different In Washington

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Since it was just two years ago when President Kennedy was inaugurated, this is perhaps the time for an exuberant review or an "agonizing reappraisal" or a disinterested and dispassionate look at his administration. The category will be judged by the reader. For however impartial the critic tries to be, the dyed-in-the-wool supporters of the administration will cry out that he must be a Republican or a "tool of big business" or mentally unstable if he so much as suggests that maybe Mr. Kennedy isn't just the most successful President and bravest leader we have had since George Washington.

In writing from the national capital about the last nine presidents, this correspondent has never allowed any personal feelings to influence his presentation of the facts or his analysis of the impact of those facts on public affairs. It so happens that every one of the nine presidents has been a congenial, friendly, likable and well-meaning individual. If news-interpretation were guided solely by personal feelings, this writer would have constantly been singing the praises of every one of these presidents, instead of presenting necessary criticism of public policies.

News-writing and candid interpretation are a form of public responsibility to a constituency—the people—and not to a president or either political party. Presidents come and go, but the country must be apprised constantly of the truth about its national and international problems, irrespective of whether the feelings of the man in the White House might for the moment be hurt by criticisms in the press.

But what kind of president is Mr. Kennedy really making? Detailed reviews would seem to be superfluous, as the record has been presented and analyzed from day to day. The most salient point to be mentioned is that the image the President himself has been giving the country by his skillful publicity during the past two years is somewhat different from what it really appears to be here in Wasihngton.

Mr. Kennedy has been handicapped in his first two years by engaging in the same kind of experimentalism that some of his predecessors have attempted in their first term. He has brought to his side advisers inexperienced and untrained in government, and has failed to come to grips with the problem of organizing the White House itself. It is a sorry system which permits a President to be surrounded by so many academic persons who have no direct responsibility to the people through the confirmation process in the Senate.

The Cabinet in the last two years has been shunted to one side. Who is really Secretary of State now, and who actually makes foreign policy currently? Who is really determining our economic and fiscal policies? Mr. Kennedy tries to make all the final decisions himself, but it is on the basis of what his inexperienced advisers tell him, and he is, of course, influenced to no small extent by his political instincts.

Mr. Kennedy probably will be a much better President in the next two years than in his first two. For he presumably will have learned many of the lessons so essential to an effective administration. He has an agile mind, a remarkably good memory, a pleasing personality and, above all, a certain inner restraint against radicalism that bears him in good stead.

Much is being said about Mr. Kennedy's prowess as a politician and how skillfully he dispenses political favors. He knows the way to organize a campaign and to build a machine. But it isn't apparent yet whether he can sense and anticipate those political trends and overwhelming currents of discontent, a disregard of which has caused so many election defeats in the past.

Before Mr. Kennedy was elected, it was averred by opponents that he would not be able to grapple with national and international problems because he was youthful and inexperienced. They were right about the inexperience, but they were wrong in evaluating his youthfulness as a handicap. Mr. Kennedy has boundless energy, and this is a big asset to a President of the United States, who must work long hours and travel about a great deal both in this country and abroad.

Mr. Kennedy has learned a lot in two years. But Congress and, especially, the opposition party have failed the nation. The country has not learned enough about the critical condition of the government's finances or the truth about our military advice before the fiasco in Cuba in 1961. The power to investigate and expose the way in which special privileges are given to favored groups has not been fully exercised. Nor have the economic dangers of the labor-union monopoly been faced by the White House or Congress. These barriers can restrain the forward march of American business and prevent the creation of jobs for the millions who annually come of working age.

We can extol the Peace Corps idea, for instance, and talk of retraining the unemployed and of other political panaceas. But until President Kennedy becomes convinced that he must assume the leadership in removing the shackles now imposed on our economic progress by the government itself—through its inaction in certain fields and over-regulation in others—there can be less hope of attaining the goals so glowingly promised by the administration.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

TAX CUT—One immediate outgrowth of the new optimism has been a raising of sights on the part of administration officials charged with working out details of the tax cut Kennedy asks be enacted. Initially, the cut was expected to range between $5 and $8 billion; now the talk is of a possible top $13 billion, to be accompanied by tougher and more sweeping reforms and "loophole" closings than was thought possible in early deliberations.

Nearly half of the tax cut will be recovered through raising, or "equalizing" tax payments by companies and some classes of individuals who have received preferred tax treatment in the past. Admittedly, this will make for rougher going for the tax cut in Congress, and there probably will be a delay before final enactment. But the mere fact that the administration leadership on Capitol Hill is now willing to undertake the fight speaks volumes for the climate change they sense there.

One can find much greater optimism in talks with congressional advocates of medical care for the aged under Social Security. With the death of Sen. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, the powerful leader in the Senate against the bill, passage in the upper chamber this session is now taken for granted. It was defeated by a single vote in the last session.

Present reports are that administration strategy will be not to push for House approval of Medicare until 1964, but if the present assessment of the mood of Congress proves out, it is possible that signals will be changed and an effort made to get the bill enacted into law before adjournment this year.

The 'Magnificent' 20 Years Of Antibiotics

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The antibiotics were introduced during the early years of World War II and have done a magnificent job in the treatment of infections. Penicillin was first and Cephalothin is the latest. There have been many others during the interim.

It is difficult for younger people to realize how helpless and threatened were millions of persons in all parts of the world before introduction of the antibiotics. Forty per cent of all infectious illnesses requiring treatment are controled by these drugs. Prior to their discovery, there were no effective remedies for bacterial meningitis, anthrax, brucellosis, typhoid, typhus, syphilis, gonorrhea, tularemia, whooping cough and blood poisoning.

Childbed fever has almost disappeared and appendicitis with peritonitis has lost its deadliness. The chance of surviving pneumonia was two out of three—nowadays the odds are better than 20 to one. Mastoiditis is rare and ear infections can be controled in a high percentage of victims.

The major problems with these products are allergy, side reactions, and the development of drug resistant strains of bacteria such as staphylococci. Many new antibiotics have been introduced with claims that they are capable of overcoming these resistant germs. But the micro-organisms usually outwit these agents within a year or two, making them useless against staph.

Oxacillin is a new synthetic pencillin that has held up fairly well. It is not a strong antibiotic but proved useful in severe resistant staphylococcal infections.

Cephalothin is the very latest antibiotic. It is unique in that the mold is resistant to the substance that staph gives off in its fight for survival. In addition, the drug is effective against a wide variety of micro-organisms and is safe to take with a minimum of side reactions.

STRESS HEADACHE

Mrs. B. writes: My 13 year old son is healthy but has a problem. Before any special event, such as a picnic or a quiz at school, he gets a sick headache. Do you think it wise and safe to give him a sedative prior to these special occasions?

REPLY

Yes, but the boy may need professional help to make him feel more secure and poised in stress situations. The sedative will act as a crutch and is acceptable only as a temporary measure.

HEELS HURT

C. O. writes: My 81 year old mother is active and healthy, except that her feet give out soon after she is on them. They hurt under the heels. Can anything be done to help her?

REPLY

Yes, depending upon the cause. Aching may be due to poor circulation or to an orthopedic disorder. At any rate, she needs help. A woman of 81 who is otherwise healthy is not through by any means.

NASAL POLYP

F. P. writes: Why do I have to have a polyp removed from my nose every now and then? Is there no sure cure?

REPLY

Nasal polyps are related to allergy and if the allergen persists, these growths re-form periodically. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this subject.

TOMMORROW: Good habits and longevity.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A young new luminary in the pop-music set, still not quite dry behind the ears, regaled a party in Greenwich, Connecticut, with a number of jokes that were born at a men's smoker, and should have been kept there. The fact that nobody laughed didn't deter the brash young upstart for a moment.

Finally he ran down of his own momentum and asked the maid for a glass of water. The hostess added grimly, "And while you're at it, Agnes, bring a cake of soap and a toothbrush with it."

Old Moneybags owned half the town, but looked like an accident on its way to happen. Girls recoiled in horror at his touch. Ten in a row refused to marry him despite his wealth. When still another contemptuously snapped "No," Moneybags whined, "You're the eleventh girl to whom I've proposed without avail."

Miss Something-or-Other from away down South appeared at a cotillion in a new gown which, her beau informed her, looked just right on her. "Sho' nuff?" she purred. Blushing, he replied, "Sho does."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The old DC-6 thundered down the runway at LaGuardia Airport and lifted off easily, climbing a little and then turning west into the late sun. It was a private charter flight, booked by the Dodgers when they were in Brooklyn. It was new for some of the players, who had never flown before. They were accustomed to sleeper jumps on trains.

The destination was Pittsburgh, and the plane lifted to about 14,000 feet and levelled off. The captain put it on automatic pilot, pulled the green sun visor down to shield his eyes, and talked about the swimming pool he was building for his children in the back yard. The first officer listened with half an ear. He had heard it before. Besides, he was still wearing his headset, listening for traffic information.

Back in the plane, some of the baseball players played gin rummy, some read magazines, a few leaned back and dozed. All except the biggest man on the team: Don Newcombe. He didn't want to fly. It wasn't that he was scared; he was petrified with fear. Newcombe could become scared standing on the mound at Ebbetts Field watching a plane in the sky.

Now the word had come down from Bavasi that the Brooklyn Dodgers would fly to distant cities in a private plane, and this meant the whole team. Newcombe, who could be brave in any other situation, felt his stomach drop like an express elevator every time the boys mentioned flying. No one carried him aboard the flight. He made it under his own steam, but he looked like a man pitching to Willie Mays with three on and the count nothing and three and nobody out.

Satchel Paige, the only non-Dodger aboard the plane, tried to comfort his friend. Newcombe didn't hear Satch. He could hear only the engines and, to his ears, the four of them sounded as though they were made out of old fenders. Duke Snider gave it a try.

He assured Don that, in the United States alone, 10,000 scheduled flights were made every day. "How often do you read about a crash?" he said. "How often?" Newcombe swallowed. "Those are the only ones I remember," he said.

"Besides," he said, "if God wanted man to fly, why didn't he give him wings?" Another player cut in. "If he wanted man to go 60 miles an hour, why didn't he give him wheels?" It went on and on. Every player who tried to lift Newcombe's courage found that it was like trying to lift the 6 foot 4 inch player on a fractured finger. Nothing worked.

Gil Hodges and a few others crowded around Don, who was now rigid in his seat. Hodges believed that all a man had to do was to say a prayer and leave the rest to God. Someone else — it may have been Pee Wee Reese — assured Don that he stood a better chance of getting killed crossing a street against the lights than flying.

Newcombe stared at the ceiling. His only comfort was in looking at something higher than he was. The first officer came back and crouched beside the seat. "Believe me," he said seriously, "I make my living at this and I've got a family." Don Newcombe looked at him. He began to listen.

The officer talked on and on. "Even the bumps you feel," he said, "are just thermal currents moving up and down. When you go fishing in a boat, it breasts the waves and moves up and down. So does a plane. I wouldn't kid you about a thing like this." The captain came back.

"Sometimes," he said, "people who are afraid to fly are cured when they take a look up front. Come on up for a moment. Stand in the doorway and take a look at all the automatic gadgets we have." Don began to smile sheepishly. "I mean it," the skipper said. "You're as safe here as in your own home. The insurance people will cover you up to $150,000 for a measly $5. When you deduct the pay of the insurance clerk and the company overhead, they're offering you 50,000 to one on a round trip flight."

The pitcher began to subside. "Well," he said, getting to his feet, "O.K. I'll go up front for a minute. I'm being silly I know, but a lot of people are afraid to fly." The captain nodded. So did the first officer. They were halfway up the aisle when Newcombe again fell into his freeze.

"If you two are back here," he said in a quavering tone, "who the heck is minding the store up front? I mean, who's flying this monster?"

They both laughed heartily. They pushed Newcombe up until he could look at the flight deck with its scores of dials and instruments and throttles and yokes. "See?" they said. "It's in good hands." Newcombe stared and almost died. There, in the captain's seat sat Satchel Paige . . .

Another Shakedown For The Party?

The Kennedy administration has its troubles with its party fund-raising efforts. Early in the game, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall wrote a letter to oil executives that was too clear in its implications that they had better kick in to the Democratic party. That raised quite a flap in Washington.

Now Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, a Senate watchdog, is raising the specter of an attempted shakedown. This one involves pressure being brought to bear on federal employes to purchase tickets to a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

These pressures the Senator and the Washington newspapers have described cannot exactly be called "macing," which involves an out-and-out demand for contributions of fixed percentages of salaries, with the penalty for non-compliance being loss of jobs.

The employes feeling the pressure are civil servants, and the Civil Service Act was designed to preclude such exactions. But the tactics involved are simpler, if subtler, than those involved in outright macing.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, in opposing Senator Williams' call for an investigation of the charges, declared that civil servants are entitled to belong to a political party and "a lot of them want to contribute."

But there's a wide gap between contributions freely given and contributions elicited through explicit threats or through coercion of any kind. Senator Humphrey wants evidence to substantiate the charges. The hearing Senator Williams has asked could produce evidence if available.

If the administration has clean hands, it has nothing to fear from a hearing. If there is evidence of wrongdoing that can be substantiated, it should be brought out in the open as promptly as possible.

These Days

Government Investigates

Every once in a while a book erupts from the bookstores and the lending libraries and makes its mark on legislation. The most famous instance of this is, perhaps, Upton Sinclair's novel about early Twentieth Century conditions in the meat-packing industry, "The Jungle." Mr. Sinclair hoped that his novel would make converts to his favorite panacea of socialism, which it fortunately failed to do. But it did result in our modern pure food and drug legislation. As Mr. Sinclair put it, "I aimed at the heart of the nation and hit its stomach."

Well, the stomach of our people is still a remarkably susceptible organ. A marine biologist, Miss Rachel Carson, noting that tree sprays kill robins as well as insects, recently wrote a series of magazine articles that were later published in book form as "Silent Spring." Miss Carson's sympathies were with the birds, and she hoped to touch the hearts of bird-lovers with her moving chapters. Whether she has succeeded in establishing an effective political lobby for the birds is a moot question, but it is unarguable that she has a lot of people worried about poisonous insecticides that may wind up on the table in our food.

The contention that we are all being slowly poisoned by DDT and aldrin and other potent sprays which remain embedded in our vegetables despite washing and cooking has the garden clubs pressuring the politicians and memorializing state legislatures. In Connecticut, for example, Governor Dempsey, who knows the garden club vote is not to be sneezed at, has appointed a special committee to investigate the use of insecticides in his state.

This is not without its ironic aspects, for it necessarily boils down in good part to government investigating itself. The truth is that the wholesale use of insecticides is something that has been largely promoted by local road commissions and by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. These governmental bodies are the ones who have been relying on indiscriminate spraying.

It was not so long ago that the Department of Agriculture decided to get rid of the fire ant in the Southern Gulf Coast states. No doubt the fire ant, which has an unpleasant sting, is an unlovely creature. But, according to entomologists quoted by Miss Carson, it is not particularly harmful to crops or livestock, and there are observers who actually claim to have watched it picking boll weevil larvae off cotton.

Nevertheless, the Department of Agriculture, enamored of the power of dieldrin and heptachlor and other modern sprays, proceeded to drench thousands of acres in the South in a totalitarian pattern of warfare against the fire ant. The ants died, but so did poultry, livestock, raccoons, housecats, possums, armadillos, and song birds. And gamebirds which fed on contaminated earthworms and insects in quantities that failed to kill them certainly wound up in peoples' stomachs via the sportsman's bag.

In the West, the United States Forest Service has sprayed evergreens with DDT in hopes that it would get rid of the pest known as the spruce budworm. Unfortunately, a lot of beneficent insects were also killed by the DDT. With such beneficent predators as ladybugs wiped out, the spider mite, which is insensitive to DDT, started to create more havoc among the trees than the spruce budworm had ever managed to do.

The question is, can government be trusted to carry through an impartial investigation of the effect of poisonous sprays on birds, livestock and the human stomach when its own bureaucratic organizations have been the chief culprits in promoting the broadscale use of the sprays? If we could only forget that DDT and dieldrin and other poisonous chemicals may be building up in our own stomach every time we sit down to the dinner table, we would await the spectacle of government investigating itself with considerable sardonic amusement.

JFK Image Somewhat Different In Washington

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Since it was just two years ago when President Kennedy was inaugurated, this is perhaps the time for an exuberant review or an "agonizing reappraisal" or a disinterested and dispassionate look at his administration. The category will be judged by the reader. For however impartial the critic tries to be, the dyed-in-the-wool supporters of the administration will cry out that he must be a Republican or a "tool of big business" or mentally unstable if he so much as suggests that maybe Mr. Kennedy isn't just the most successful President and bravest leader we have had since George Washington.

In writing from the national capital about the last nine presidents, this correspondent has never allowed any personal feelings to influence his presentation of the facts or his analysis of the impact of those facts on public affairs. It so happens that every one of the nine presidents has been a congenial, friendly, likable and well-meaning individual. If news-interpretation were guided solely by personal feelings, this writer would have constantly been singing the praises of every one of these presidents, instead of presenting necessary criticism of public policies.

News-writing and candid interpretation are a form of public responsibility to a constituency—the people—and not to a president or either political party. Presidents come and go, but the country must be apprised constantly of the truth about its national and international problems, irrespective of whether the feelings of the man in the White House might for the moment be hurt by criticisms in the press.

But what kind of president is Mr. Kennedy really making? Detailed reviews would seem to be superfluous, as the record has been presented and analyzed from day to day. The most salient point to be mentioned is that the image the President himself has been giving the country by his skillful publicity during the past two years is somewhat different from what it really appears to be here in Wasihngton.

Mr. Kennedy has been handicapped in his first two years by engaging in the same kind of experimentalism that some of his predecessors have attempted in their first term. He has brought to his side advisers inexperienced and untrained in government, and has failed to come to grips with the problem of organizing the White House itself. It is a sorry system which permits a President to be surrounded by so many academic persons who have no direct responsibility to the people through the confirmation process in the Senate.

The Cabinet in the last two years has been shunted to one side. Who is really Secretary of State now, and who actually makes foreign policy currently? Who is really determining our economic and fiscal policies? Mr. Kennedy tries to make all the final decisions himself, but it is on the basis of what his inexperienced advisers tell him, and he is, of course, influenced to no small extent by his political instincts.

Mr. Kennedy probably will be a much better President in the next two years than in his first two. For he presumably will have learned many of the lessons so essential to an effective administration. He has an agile mind, a remarkably good memory, a pleasing personality and, above all, a certain inner restraint against radicalism that bears him in good stead.

Much is being said about Mr. Kennedy's prowess as a politician and how skillfully he dispenses political favors. He knows the way to organize a campaign and to build a machine. But it isn't apparent yet whether he can sense and anticipate those political trends and overwhelming currents of discontent, a disregard of which has caused so many election defeats in the past.

Before Mr. Kennedy was elected, it was averred by opponents that he would not be able to grapple with national and international problems because he was youthful and inexperienced. They were right about the inexperience, but they were wrong in evaluating his youthfulness as a handicap. Mr. Kennedy has boundless energy, and this is a big asset to a President of the United States, who must work long hours and travel about a great deal both in this country and abroad.

Mr. Kennedy has learned a lot in two years. But Congress and, especially, the opposition party have failed the nation. The country has not learned enough about the critical condition of the government's finances or the truth about our military advice before the fiasco in Cuba in 1961. The power to investigate and expose the way in which special privileges are given to favored groups has not been fully exercised. Nor have the economic dangers of the labor-union monopoly been faced by the White House or Congress. These barriers can restrain the forward march of American business and prevent the creation of jobs for the millions who annually come of working age.

We can extol the Peace Corps idea, for instance, and talk of retraining the unemployed and of other political panaceas. But until President Kennedy becomes convinced that he must assume the leadership in removing the shackles now imposed on our economic progress by the government itself—through its inaction in certain fields and over-regulation in others—there can be less hope of attaining the goals so glowingly promised by the administration.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

TAX CUT—One immediate outgrowth of the new optimism has been a raising of sights on the part of administration officials charged with working out details of the tax cut Kennedy asks be enacted. Initially, the cut was expected to range between $5 and $8 billion; now the talk is of a possible top $13 billion, to be accompanied by tougher and more sweeping reforms and "loophole" closings than was thought possible in early deliberations.

Nearly half of the tax cut will be recovered through raising, or "equalizing" tax payments by companies and some classes of individuals who have received preferred tax treatment in the past. Admittedly, this will make for rougher going for the tax cut in Congress, and there probably will be a delay before final enactment. But the mere fact that the administration leadership on Capitol Hill is now willing to undertake the fight speaks volumes for the climate change they sense there.

One can find much greater optimism in talks with congressional advocates of medical care for the aged under Social Security. With the death of Sen. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, the powerful leader in the Senate against the bill, passage in the upper chamber this session is now taken for granted. It was defeated by a single vote in the last session.

Present reports are that administration strategy will be not to push for House approval of Medicare until 1964, but if the present assessment of the mood of Congress proves out, it is possible that signals will be changed and an effort made to get the bill enacted into law before adjournment this year.

The 'Magnificent' 20 Years Of Antibiotics

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The antibiotics were introduced during the early years of World War II and have done a magnificent job in the treatment of infections. Penicillin was first and Cephalothin is the latest. There have been many others during the interim.

It is difficult for younger people to realize how helpless and threatened were millions of persons in all parts of the world before introduction of the antibiotics. Forty per cent of all infectious illnesses requiring treatment are controled by these drugs. Prior to their discovery, there were no effective remedies for bacterial meningitis, anthrax, brucellosis, typhoid, typhus, syphilis, gonorrhea, tularemia, whooping cough and blood poisoning.

Childbed fever has almost disappeared and appendicitis with peritonitis has lost its deadliness. The chance of surviving pneumonia was two out of three—nowadays the odds are better than 20 to one. Mastoiditis is rare and ear infections can be controled in a high percentage of victims.

The major problems with these products are allergy, side reactions, and the development of drug resistant strains of bacteria such as staphylococci. Many new antibiotics have been introduced with claims that they are capable of overcoming these resistant germs. But the micro-organisms usually outwit these agents within a year or two, making them useless against staph.

Oxacillin is a new synthetic pencillin that has held up fairly well. It is not a strong antibiotic but proved useful in severe resistant staphylococcal infections.

Cephalothin is the very latest antibiotic. It is unique in that the mold is resistant to the substance that staph gives off in its fight for survival. In addition, the drug is effective against a wide variety of micro-organisms and is safe to take with a minimum of side reactions.

STRESS HEADACHE

Mrs. B. writes: My 13 year old son is healthy but has a problem. Before any special event, such as a picnic or a quiz at school, he gets a sick headache. Do you think it wise and safe to give him a sedative prior to these special occasions?

REPLY

Yes, but the boy may need professional help to make him feel more secure and poised in stress situations. The sedative will act as a crutch and is acceptable only as a temporary measure.

HEELS HURT

C. O. writes: My 81 year old mother is active and healthy, except that her feet give out soon after she is on them. They hurt under the heels. Can anything be done to help her?

REPLY

Yes, depending upon the cause. Aching may be due to poor circulation or to an orthopedic disorder. At any rate, she needs help. A woman of 81 who is otherwise healthy is not through by any means.

NASAL POLYP

F. P. writes: Why do I have to have a polyp removed from my nose every now and then? Is there no sure cure?

REPLY

Nasal polyps are related to allergy and if the allergen persists, these growths re-form periodically. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this subject.

TOMMORROW: Good habits and longevity.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A young new luminary in the pop-music set, still not quite dry behind the ears, regaled a party in Greenwich, Connecticut, with a number of jokes that were born at a men's smoker, and should have been kept there. The fact that nobody laughed didn't deter the brash young upstart for a moment.

Finally he ran down of his own momentum and asked the maid for a glass of water. The hostess added grimly, "And while you're at it, Agnes, bring a cake of soap and a toothbrush with it."

Old Moneybags owned half the town, but looked like an accident on its way to happen. Girls recoiled in horror at his touch. Ten in a row refused to marry him despite his wealth. When still another contemptuously snapped "No," Moneybags whined, "You're the eleventh girl to whom I've proposed without avail."

Miss Something-or-Other from away down South appeared at a cotillion in a new gown which, her beau informed her, looked just right on her. "Sho' nuff?" she purred. Blushing, he replied, "Sho does."

Kennedy Now In Strong Position To Negotiate Cold War Problems

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy today faces his greatest opportunity to negotiate a permanent peace, but because of division inside his own Administration he may miss the boat.

This is the consensus of friendly diplomats long trained in watching the ebb and flow of world events. They add that Europe is moving so fast that it may take the leadership away from Kennedy and patch up its own peace with Nikita Khrushchev.

Here are the reasons why Kennedy is now sitting on top of the diplomatic world when it comes to settling Berlin and other problems of the cold war:

1. Removal of U. S. missiles from Turkey and Italy — there was a big fracas inside the Administration when Adlai Stevenson wanted to use the removal of U. S. missiles from the Mediterranean in order to bargain with Khrushchev — after he had removed his missiles from Cuba. But today U. S. missiles are being removed from Turkey and Italy without fanfare, without any of the bargaining Stevenson proposed.

The 30 Jupiter missiles in Italy and 15 in Turkey have long been out of date. They make Italy and Turkey sitting-duck targets for retaliatory attack. The 60 Thor missiles in England, also out of date, are also being removed; in fact, most of them have already been dismantled.

This should decrease tension between the USA and USSR, but the United States has neither taken credit for it nor used it as Khrushchev used his removal of missiles from Cuba.

The proximity of these missiles to Russia — closer in Turkey than Cuban missiles to Florida — has been a great cause of Soviet irritation, and, for a time, fear. They were probably one reason for the sending of Russian missiles to Cuba.

Full publicity given to their current removal could be extremely important both with the neutrals and the Communist countries to show that we are not the warmongers we are alleged to be.

2. The wide-open rift in the Communist world — this is deep, bitter, and not expected to change — barring world war. It has put the Kremlin in a much more receptive mood for better understanding with the United States.

U. S. military leaders, at first inclined to be skeptical, have now concluded that the Russians are genuinely worried about Red China's bulging population plus its development of the atom bomb, which could be quite soon.

This rift is an opportunity which comes perhaps only once in a lifetime, certainly only once in the term of an American president. It is an opportunity which John F. Kennedy cannot afford to miss.

3. Mr. K's pronouncements for peace — when I interviewed Khrushchev on the shores of the Black Sea over a year ago I reported that he sincerely wanted peace. Since then, Khrushchev has taken important steps, including his withdrawal of missiles from Cuba; and made significant statements which reinforced this conclusion. The latest is his amazing speech in East Berlin last week in which he renounced war as an instrument of Communist policy.

"We will not fight, we will not begin war in order to erect socialism in another country," he said.

For saying this, Khrushchev has been abused and excoriated by the Red Chinese, and the Communist world has been split wide open. But he has stuck by his guns.

4. Brink of peace — The United States and Russia are now on the brink of agreement on two important points: A) nuclear testing; B) On Berlin, at least in theory.

In the nuclear test talks in New York, the two countries are so close that it's almost like arguing how many angels can stand on the point of a needle. They agree on tests in the atmosphere, tests in the water, and almost agree on how to detect tests underground. Our technicians believe that no really important weapons can be developed underground; so actually the argument is largely theoretical. Yet on it hinges an all-important understanding to stop poisoning the world's atmosphere.

On the war-breeding question of Berlin, the two nations haven't talked formally for some time. But the men most concerned, Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Germany, and Khrushchev of Moscow appear to be very close together.

Mayor Brandt told me in West Berlin last summer that he favored putting a branch of the UN in West Berlin with token UN troops. He told the same to Kennedy last fall. Khrushchev has publicly approved this idea. Premier Ulbricht, the former rootin'-tootin' advocate of a tough and immediate Berlin settlement, has now publicly eaten his words, says he's for compromise rather than risking war.

Passive Kennedy Administration

While the Administration in Washington has been gazing passively at this rapidly changing picture, the Germans have not. Nor has President de Gaulle. It would surprise no one in the diplomatic corps if de Gaulle did not start playing footsie with Khrushchev, partly perhaps to thumb his nose at Uncle Sam.

Meanwhile in Germany unusual things are happening. When the Christian Democrats objected to a meeting between Khrushchev and Mayor Willy Brandt last week, some of the leading West German papers, all anti-Communist, said it was a mistake.

The Frankfurter Rundschau called the veto of the Khrushchev-Brandt meeting "a shame for German policy. . . . . The responsible German politicians must not miss any opportunity to speak to Soviet leaders." Bildzeitung, which last summer was bitterly critical of the American military for not charging into East Berlin to rescue the East German youth who died on the wall, was even more critical; while the Munich Merkur remarked: "What damage would have been done to Berlin's cause" by the Khrushchev-Brandt meeting?

President Kennedy today is at the peak of his prestige. He has new respect around the world, new confidence in himself. But some of his old-school advisers are as nervous as a cat on a hot tin roof when it comes to seizing the initiative in a historic drive for better world understanding.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The old DC-6 thundered down the runway at LaGuardia Airport and lifted off easily, climbing a little and then turning west into the late sun. It was a private charter flight, booked by the Dodgers when they were in Brooklyn. It was new for some of the players, who had never flown before. They were accustomed to sleeper jumps on trains.

The destination was Pittsburgh, and the plane lifted to about 14,000 feet and levelled off. The captain put it on automatic pilot, pulled the green sun visor down to shield his eyes, and talked about the swimming pool he was building for his children in the back yard. The first officer listened with half an ear. He had heard it before. Besides, he was still wearing his headset, listening for traffic information.

Back in the plane, some of the baseball players played gin rummy, some read magazines, a few leaned back and dozed. All except the biggest man on the team: Don Newcombe. He didn't want to fly. It wasn't that he was scared; he was petrified with fear. Newcombe could become scared standing on the mound at Ebbetts Field watching a plane in the sky.

Now the word had come down from Bavasi that the Brooklyn Dodgers would fly to distant cities in a private plane, and this meant the whole team. Newcombe, who could be brave in any other situation, felt his stomach drop like an express elevator every time the boys mentioned flying. No one carried him aboard the flight. He made it under his own steam, but he looked like a man pitching to Willie Mays with three on and the count nothing and three and nobody out.

Satchel Paige, the only non-Dodger aboard the plane, tried to comfort his friend. Newcombe didn't hear Satch. He could hear only the engines and, to his ears, the four of them sounded as though they were made out of old fenders. Duke Snider gave it a try.

He assured Don that, in the United States alone, 10,000 scheduled flights were made every day. "How often do you read about a crash?" he said. "How often?" Newcombe swallowed. "Those are the only ones I remember," he said.

"Besides," he said, "if God wanted man to fly, why didn't he give him wings?" Another player cut in. "If he wanted man to go 60 miles an hour, why didn't he give him wheels?" It went on and on. Every player who tried to lift Newcombe's courage found that it was like trying to lift the 6 foot 4 inch player on a fractured finger. Nothing worked.

Gil Hodges and a few others crowded around Don, who was now rigid in his seat. Hodges believed that all a man had to do was to say a prayer and leave the rest to God. Someone else — it may have been Pee Wee Reese — assured Don that he stood a better chance of getting killed crossing a street against the lights than flying.

Newcombe stared at the ceiling. His only comfort was in looking at something higher than he was. The first officer came back and crouched beside the seat. "Believe me," he said seriously, "I make my living at this and I've got a family." Don Newcombe looked at him. He began to listen.

The officer talked on and on. "Even the bumps you feel," he said, "are just thermal currents moving up and down. When you go fishing in a boat, it breasts the waves and moves up and down. So does a plane. I wouldn't kid you about a thing like this." The captain came back.

"Sometimes," he said, "people who are afraid to fly are cured when they take a look up front. Come on up for a moment. Stand in the doorway and take a look at all the automatic gadgets we have." Don began to smile sheepishly. "I mean it," the skipper said. "You're as safe here as in your own home. The insurance people will cover you up to $150,000 for a measly $5. When you deduct the pay of the insurance clerk and the company overhead, they're offering you 50,000 to one on a round trip flight."

The pitcher began to subside. "Well," he said, getting to his feet, "O.K. I'll go up front for a minute. I'm being silly I know, but a lot of people are afraid to fly." The captain nodded. So did the first officer. They were halfway up the aisle when Newcombe again fell into his freeze.

"If you two are back here," he said in a quavering tone, "who the heck is minding the store up front? I mean, who's flying this monster?"

They both laughed heartily. They pushed Newcombe up until he could look at the flight deck with its scores of dials and instruments and throttles and yokes. "See?" they said. "It's in good hands." Newcombe stared and almost died. There, in the captain's seat sat Satchel Paige . . .

VanderKelen Bypasses Hometown Packers, Signs With Vikings

Feels He Will Have Better Opportunity To Play At Minnesota

By BOB MARTEL
United Press International

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Quarterback Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin bypassed his famous hometown Green Bay Packers and signed to play with the young Minnesota Vikings on Tuesday in hopes they'll give him more chance to play.

VanderKelen, Rose Bowl hero, said he signed a one-year contract for a "substantial" salary which was "not way out of line."

The 6-foot-1 176-pound passing ace said he chose the Vikings, which had a 2-11-1 record last season, over the world champion Packers because the "Vikings are a new team, on their way up, and I'll have a fine opportunity to play with them."

"No - Cut" Policy

He said club policy of not granting "no-cut" contracts prevented the Packers from landing the Badger passing star.

VanderKelen, accompanied by his attorney, Gene Calhoun of Milwaukee, flew into the Twin Cities late Tuesday morning. Vikings General Manager Bert Rose and coach Norm Van Brocklin met the plane and escorted VanderKelen and Calhoun to the Vikings offices where the signing occurred.

Last season he completed 91 passes of 168 attempts in regular-season play as he led Wisconsin to an 8-1 record overall and a 6-1 mark in the Big Ten—good for the Big Ten championship.

Recorded 1,237 Yards

In Big Ten play VanderKelen recorded 1,237 yards on offense—second player in conference history to surpass the 1,200 - yard mark.

Against Southern California in this year's Rose Bowl game, VanderKelen hit on 33 of 48 pass attempts for 401 yards passing and 406 yards total offense—all Rose Bowl records.

He threw for two touchdowns in the Rose Bowl and scored one himself on a 17-yard run and had still another touchdown throw nullified by a penalty for an outstanding showing despite Wisconsin's loss.

Bill Would Ban Boxing In Illinois

Will Be Introduced Within Next Month

TROY, Ill. (UPI)—A bill will be introduced in the Illinois Legislature to outlaw professional boxing in Illinois, site of such championship bouts as the Sonny Liston - Floyd Patterson, and the "long count" battle between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

The move to ban such "brutal" fights in Illinois, came one day after a New York state legislative committee said it was drafting a similar bill to ban professional boxing in the Empire State.

The Illinois bill will be introduced within the next month, State Senator Paul Simon told UPI.

Not Aimed At Liston

The bill "definitely is not aimed" at heavyweight champion Liston, now of Chicago, "or any other individual," he said.

"Professional boxing is a sport only in the sense that Nero's throwing Christians to the lions was a sport," Simon said. "It is the only sport in which the goal is physical injury to the opponent."

Simon contended that there were nine boxers killed each year on the average, and that "many boxers end up punchy each year." He said the constant pounding on the head in the boxing arena "results in severe damage to the brain."

"There are many who have been fortunate enough to come away from the sport apparently with no ill effects," Simon said. "But there are many others who have not been that lucky."

"By comparison, bull fighting and cock fighting which we outlaw are relatively humane," he said.

Get Brains Knocked Out

"We in the United States can hardly claim any moral superiority. . .when we pay huge sums to see two unfortunate human beings knock each other's brains out literally."

Simon said most of the profits from bouts "does not go to the men who fight, but to the managers and promoters." He said "too often there is a tie-in between this so-called sport and the underworld element."

Snow Needed For Ski Meet

Decision Is Set Thursday Morning

Snow is needed if the sixth annual Maryland Ski championship meet is to be staged Saturday and Sunday on the Marsh Mountain course, Deep Creek Lake, Garrett county, it was announced last evening by the promoters.

At the present time there is two to 20 inches of frozen base, the lower slope is good but there are bare spots on the upper slope.

The annual program comprises slalom and downhill races in men's and women's classes and the opening event each day is set to get under way at 10 a. m.

A meeting will be held Thursday morning at which time a definite decision will be made as to whether the meet will be held or postponed.

Liston Asks $207,000 Held From First Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—After weeks of wrangling, Championship Sports, Inc., said Tuesday agreement had been reached "on all points" for the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title rematch in Convention Hall April 4.

The final stumbling block apparently was the demand by Liston's advisor, Jack Nilon, that the champion be paid the $207,000 held back from his purse after the first fight to guarantee the return bout.

Al Bolan of Championship Sports said Liston's money would be put up this week and Nilon "is completely satisfied with the financial arrangements."

"All we've got left is to finish the paper work," Bolan said, "and just to be on the safe side we'll submit the contracts to the Miami Beach Boxing Commission."

Nilon had insisted that $85,000 in cash be paid to Liston immediately and that the balance be placed in escrow. Earlier, he had been told he would have to sign the contract first but had refused to proceed "until I see the money."

Bolan made his statement after conferring Tuesday with Garland Cherry, Liston's lawyer who flew here from Philadelphia, and Patterson's attorney, Julius November.

Nilon also had asked that Championship Sports put up a $500,000 bond guaranteeing that Liston would be paid for the rematch and that Sonny would get the same cut of the purse as Patterson, 30 per cent.

The boxing commission has demanded that the contract be submitted, with no return match clause.

NFL Charged With Conspiring To Keep American Loop Out Of Populous Areas

Older League Says AFL Entered 6 Of 17 Top Pro Grid Markets

By W.B. RAGSDALE JR.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—The American Football League charged Tuesday the rival National Football League has conspired to keep the new league out of populous areas where it could operate successfully.

The older league snapped back that the AFL had entered six of the 17 areas it said constituted the top pro football markets, and NFL attorney Gerhard A. Gesell added:

NFL Is Prospering

"They are competing, and they are prospering. Their commissioner says no organization in sports ever has moved so fast."

AFL attorney Warren E. Baker said the league was not prospering and its future may depend upon whether it wins it $10.8 million antitrust suit against the long-established NFL.

The exchange took place in courtroom arguments involved in an AFL appeal to the U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals of a lower court decision dismissing the suit.

Dist. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled last June 12 in Baltimore that the AFL had not been damaged when the NFL moved into Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul. He rejected arguments that the older league had the power of moopoly on professional football in the United States.

Baker told a three-judge panel Tuesday that Judge Thomsen had erred in requiring the AFL to prove that the NFL was attempting to destroy the league.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle sat near the rear of the courtroom during the hearings. Afterwards, he commented, "I feel just like the last time. I don't know which way it will go."

There was no indication as to when a decision might be handed down by the three judges, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina, Herbert S. Boreman of West Virginia and Albert V. Bryan of Virginia.

Coroner Rules Cager Died Of Heart Attack

LEXINGTON, N.C. (UPI) — Coroner M. E. Block ruled Tuesday that a 19-year-old high school basketball player died of a heart attack during a game.

Leroy Arnette of Lexington, star forward with Dunbar High School, collapsed and died Monday night during a game with the Winston-Salem Teachers College freshmen. The game was called immediately, with the visitors leading 15-11 and Dunbar cancelled its remaining games this week.

Block said the youth had no history of heart trouble and quoted Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arnette of Lexington as saying their son "had never been sick a day in his life."

Coach Charlie England said Arnette played throughout the first period and scored four points. The team was on offense early in the second period when Arnette moved down the court to take a corner position. Suddenly, he keeled over and died almost instantly, the coach said.

The 6-foot-1, 160-pound senior had played high school basketball for four years. England said there was nothing to indicate that he was not in peak shape and he was in good spirits before the game.

VanderKelen Bypasses Hometown Packers, Signs With Vikings

Feels He Will Have Better Opportunity To Play At Minnesota

By BOB MARTEL
United Press International

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Quarterback Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin bypassed his famous hometown Green Bay Packers and signed to play with the young Minnesota Vikings on Tuesday in hopes they'll give him more chance to play.

VanderKelen, Rose Bowl hero, said he signed a one-year contract for a "substantial" salary which was "not way out of line."

The 6-foot-1 176-pound passing ace said he chose the Vikings, which had a 2-11-1 record last season, over the world champion Packers because the "Vikings are a new team, on their way up, and I'll have a fine opportunity to play with them."

"No - Cut" Policy

He said club policy of not granting "no-cut" contracts prevented the Packers from landing the Badger passing star.

VanderKelen, accompanied by his attorney, Gene Calhoun of Milwaukee, flew into the Twin Cities late Tuesday morning. Vikings General Manager Bert Rose and coach Norm Van Brocklin met the plane and escorted VanderKelen and Calhoun to the Vikings offices where the signing occurred.

Last season he completed 91 passes of 168 attempts in regular-season play as he led Wisconsin to an 8-1 record overall and a 6-1 mark in the Big Ten—good for the Big Ten championship.

Recorded 1,237 Yards

In Big Ten play VanderKelen recorded 1,237 yards on offense—second player in conference history to surpass the 1,200 - yard mark.

Against Southern California in this year's Rose Bowl game, VanderKelen hit on 33 of 48 pass attempts for 401 yards passing and 406 yards total offense—all Rose Bowl records.

He threw for two touchdowns in the Rose Bowl and scored one himself on a 17-yard run and had still another touchdown throw nullified by a penalty for an outstanding showing despite Wisconsin's loss.

Bill Would Ban Boxing In Illinois

Will Be Introduced Within Next Month

TROY, Ill. (UPI)—A bill will be introduced in the Illinois Legislature to outlaw professional boxing in Illinois, site of such championship bouts as the Sonny Liston - Floyd Patterson, and the "long count" battle between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

The move to ban such "brutal" fights in Illinois, came one day after a New York state legislative committee said it was drafting a similar bill to ban professional boxing in the Empire State.

The Illinois bill will be introduced within the next month, State Senator Paul Simon told UPI.

Not Aimed At Liston

The bill "definitely is not aimed" at heavyweight champion Liston, now of Chicago, "or any other individual," he said.

"Professional boxing is a sport only in the sense that Nero's throwing Christians to the lions was a sport," Simon said. "It is the only sport in which the goal is physical injury to the opponent."

Simon contended that there were nine boxers killed each year on the average, and that "many boxers end up punchy each year." He said the constant pounding on the head in the boxing arena "results in severe damage to the brain."

"There are many who have been fortunate enough to come away from the sport apparently with no ill effects," Simon said. "But there are many others who have not been that lucky."

"By comparison, bull fighting and cock fighting which we outlaw are relatively humane," he said.

Get Brains Knocked Out

"We in the United States can hardly claim any moral superiority. . .when we pay huge sums to see two unfortunate human beings knock each other's brains out literally."

Simon said most of the profits from bouts "does not go to the men who fight, but to the managers and promoters." He said "too often there is a tie-in between this so-called sport and the underworld element."

NFL Charged With Conspiring To Keep American Loop Out Of Populous Areas

Older League Says AFL Entered 6 Of 17 Top Pro Grid Markets

By W.B. RAGSDALE JR.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—The American Football League charged Tuesday the rival National Football League has conspired to keep the new league out of populous areas where it could operate successfully.

The older league snapped back that the AFL had entered six of the 17 areas it said constituted the top pro football markets, and NFL attorney Gerhard A. Gesell added:

NFL Is Prospering

"They are competing, and they are prospering. Their commissioner says no organization in sports ever has moved so fast."

AFL attorney Warren E. Baker said the league was not prospering and its future may depend upon whether it wins it $10.8 million antitrust suit against the long-established NFL.

The exchange took place in courtroom arguments involved in an AFL appeal to the U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals of a lower court decision dismissing the suit.

Dist. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled last June 12 in Baltimore that the AFL had not been damaged when the NFL moved into Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul. He rejected arguments that the older league had the power of moopoly on professional football in the United States.

Baker told a three-judge panel Tuesday that Judge Thomsen had erred in requiring the AFL to prove that the NFL was attempting to destroy the league.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle sat near the rear of the courtroom during the hearings. Afterwards, he commented, "I feel just like the last time. I don't know which way it will go."

There was no indication as to when a decision might be handed down by the three judges, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina, Herbert S. Boreman of West Virginia and Albert V. Bryan of Virginia.

Coroner Rules Cager Died Of Heart Attack

Leroy Arnette of Lexington, star forward with Dunbar High School, collapsed and died Monday night during a game with the Winston-Salem Teachers College freshmen. The game was called immediately, with the visitors leading 15-11 and Dunbar cancelled its remaining games this week.

Block said the youth had no history of heart trouble and quoted Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arnette of Lexington as saying their son "had never been sick a day in his life."

Coach Charlie England said Arnette played throughout the first period and scored four points. The team was on offense early in the second period when Arnette moved down the court to take a corner position. Suddenly, he keeled over and died almost instantly, the coach said.

The 6-foot-1, 160-pound senior had played high school basketball for four years. England said there was nothing to indicate that he was not in peak shape and he was in good spirits before the game.

THERE'S one sure thing about betting scandals in sports—the odds are against an athlete getting away with it.

Explorers Pull Upset To Grab Fourth Victory

By TED TROXELL

LaSalle's small but aggressive Explorers, who have been finding the victories scarce this season, scored a big one last night in upsetting Valley High, 62-58, at the SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

The win was the second in a row for the improving Explorers, and their fourth in ten games this season. The hard earned triumph also squared accounts with the Black Knights, who copped the season series opener, 60-49, at Lonaconing. Valley, who had won two straight, is now 7-6 for the campaign.

Last night's struggle, witnessed by a sparse crowd of less than 200 fans, was close throughout. The biggest margin either team held was six points. Valley led 13-7 at one stage of the first period, and LaSalle moved in front at 56-50 midway in the final period before the visitors quickly closed the gap.

Quickly Grab Lead

The opportunistic Explorers, who made the most of every lapse on Valley's part, trailed by three points entering the fourth quarter, but within a half minute had snatched away the lead.

LaSalle controlled the tipoff and quickly turned it into two points on a neatly executed pattern, with Mike Madden on the scoring end. A jumper by Joe Nolan put the Irish in front, 47-46, at the 7:30 mark.

Fred Sloan hit on a pair of free throws five second later as Valley regained the lead, but Bobby Neubeiser drove in for a layup which put the Explorers in front for good.

Outcome In Doubt

The outcome was in doubt, however, right up until the closing seconds. With 1:25 to go, Sloan's jump shot pulled Valley within a point at 59-58, but that turned out to be the end of the scoring line for the Knights.

Nolan tossed in a shot after grabbing a rebound underneath with 1:05 remaining, and Dick Delaney iced the decision when he converted a foul shot with only ten seconds left.

Each team took 62 shots from the floor, with LaSalle hitting on 26 and the Knights 21. The Explorers finished with a shooting percentage of .419, and Valley shot at a .339 clip.

Nolan Scores 20

Nolan was the bread-and-butter man for the Explorers. The bespectacled senior take-charge guy wound up with 20 points and came through with a number of timely rebounds.

Sloan, who was the top gunner in the Knights' first half surge, tailed off after intermission but still managed to take scoring honors with 17. Jimmy Kyle collected 14 points, all but three of them in the second half, and Philip Shockey scored all of his ten tallies in the first two periods.

Player Grabs Lead In Money Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Gary Player of South Africa took over the money-winning lead on the 1963 PGA golf tour Tuesday as Arnold Palmer's streak of finishing in the money in 47 straight tournaments came to an end.

THAT 'DUDE' PUTTER—Here is how Bob Duden, Portland, Ore., pro does his putting and does it pretty well, too, for he had a chance to win the Bing Crosby classic at Pebble Beach right up to last hole. It's a "Dude" putter with Bob pushing his shots in front of him.

Southern Raps Bulldogs, 70-52

Sparked by the third period basket bombing of Pat Garrett, Southern's Highlanders overcame a two-point halftime deficit last night and went on to spank Bruce, 70-52, at Oakland.

The Highlanders trailed 30-32 at intermission, but went on a spree in the third quarter and outscored the visitors 24-4. Garrett scored 17 points in the productive session.

Garrett wound up with 23 tallies before leaving the game on personals midway in the final quarter. Carl Corbin and Jay Rice each collected a dozen for Southern, while Malc Kight and Gary Smith equally shared 28 for the Bulldogs.

Southern has been victorious seven times in 11 outings this season, while the luckless Westernport quint has yet to win in 11 games.

Explorers Pull Upset To Grab Fourth Victory

By TED TROXELL

LaSalle's small but aggressive Explorers, who have been finding the victories scarce this season, scored a big one last night in upsetting Valley High, 62-58, at the SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

The win was the second in a row for the improving Explorers, and their fourth in ten games this season. The hard earned triumph also squared accounts with the Black Knights, who copped the season series opener, 60-49, at Lonaconing. Valley, who had won two straight, is now 7-6 for the campaign.

Last night's struggle, witnessed by a sparse crowd of less than 200 fans, was close throughout. The biggest margin either team held was six points. Valley led 13-7 at one stage of the first period, and LaSalle moved in front at 56-50 midway in the final period before the visitors quickly closed the gap.

Quickly Grab Lead

The opportunistic Explorers, who made the most of every lapse on Valley's part, trailed by three points entering the fourth quarter, but within a half minute had snatched away the lead.

LaSalle controlled the tipoff and quickly turned it into two points on a neatly executed pattern, with Mike Madden on the scoring end. A jumper by Joe Nolan put the Irish in front, 47-46, at the 7:30 mark.

Fred Sloan hit on a pair of free throws five second later as Valley regained the lead, but Bobby Neubeiser drove in for a layup which put the Explorers in front for good.

Outcome In Doubt

The outcome was in doubt, however, right up until the closing seconds. With 1:25 to go, Sloan's jump shot pulled Valley within a point at 59-58, but that turned out to be the end of the scoring line for the Knights.

Nolan tossed in a shot after grabbing a rebound underneath with 1:05 remaining, and Dick Delaney iced the decision when he converted a foul shot with only ten seconds left.

Each team took 62 shots from the floor, with LaSalle hitting on 26 and the Knights 21. The Explorers finished with a shooting percentage of .419, and Valley shot at a .339 clip.

Nolan Scores 20

Nolan was the bread-and-butter man for the Explorers. The bespectacled senior take-charge guy wound up with 20 points and came through with a number of timely rebounds.

Sloan, who was the top gunner in the Knights' first half surge, tailed off after intermission but still managed to take scoring honors with 17. Jimmy Kyle collected 14 points, all but three of them in the second half, and Philip Shockey scored all of his ten tallies in the first two periods.

Player Grabs Lead In Money Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Gary Player of South Africa took over the money-winning lead on the 1963 PGA golf tour Tuesday as Arnold Palmer's streak of finishing in the money in 47 straight tournaments came to an end.

THAT 'DUDE' PUTTER—Here is how Bob Duden, Portland, Ore., pro does his putting and does it pretty well, too, for he had a chance to win the Bing Crosby classic at Pebble Beach right up to last hole. It's a "Dude" putter with Bob pushing his shots in front of him.

Southern Raps Bulldogs, 70-52

Sparked by the third period basket bombing of Pat Garrett, Southern's Highlanders overcame a two-point halftime deficit last night and went on to spank Bruce, 70-52, at Oakland.

The Highlanders trailed 30-32 at intermission, but went on a spree in the third quarter and outscored the visitors 24-4. Garrett scored 17 points in the productive session.

Garrett wound up with 23 tallies before leaving the game on personals midway in the final quarter. Carl Corbin and Jay Rice each collected a dozen for Southern, while Malc Kight and Gary Smith equally shared 28 for the Bulldogs.

Southern has been victorious seven times in 11 outings this season, while the luckless Westernport quint has yet to win in 11 games.

Knicks Get Foley

BACK IN ACTION—Former All-American football star at Syracuse, Ernie Davis sat out the whole football season with the Cleveland Browns because of a blood disorder but he's back in action now, playing basketball with a Browns' team. Ernie scored 18 points in his first game.

Cards Sign Dick Groat

Given No. 2 Spot In Team's Lineup

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Shortstop Dick Groat, slated to be No. 2 batter in manager Johnny Keane's starting lineup Tuesday signed his first contract with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 32-year-old Groat was traded to the Cards by the Pittsburgh Pirates at the end of the past season.

Groat's biggest year was 1960, when he was one of the leaders on the team which won the pennant for Pittsburgh. That season, Groat led the league in hitting with .325 and was elected Most Valuable Player.

Georgia Tech Wins Over Auburn, 69-64

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech's seventh-ranked Yellow Jackets squandered a 14-point lead Tuesday night, then followed three sophomores in a frenzied comeback and defeated Auburn 69-64 in a crucial Southeastern Conference basketball game.

The victory, 13th in 14 games for Tech, lifted the Yellow Jackets into second place in the conference race with a 3-1 record. Mississippi State, ranked ninth nationally, leads the league with a 4-1 mark.

Auburn has an 11-2 season record and is 3-2 in conference play.

Knap To Coach At Utah State

Named Successor To John Ralston

Knap, 48, line coach at Utah State for the past four seasons, succeeds John Ralston, who was appointed head coach at Stanford last week.

Knap had been considered a shoo-in for the job and the Utah State board of trustees said they didn't consider anyone else.

The board announced its decision at a meeting in Salt Lake City.

Knap came to Utah State with Ralston in 1959 after compiling a high school coaching record in Idaho and California of 109 victories, 22 defeats and 6 ties.

Hank Aguirre Gets Boost In Salary

DETROIT (UPI) — Left-hander Hank Aguirre, an obscure journeyman who suddenly last season developed into the best pitcher in the American League, Tuesday signed his 1963 Detroit Tiger contract for almost a 100 per cent raise.

Aguirre, who posted the AL's best ERA in 1962 (2.21) put his name on the dotted line for $25,000.

Aguirre last season appeared in 42 games, pitching 216 innings and posting a 16-8 mark besides his 2.21 ERA.

Police Raid Shenandoah Race Special, 11 Men Arrested On Gambling Charges

Phony Dice, Marked Cards Confiscated On Train At Brunswick

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP)—State Police intelligence agents and uniform troopers staged a surprise raid Tuesday on a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad race track special and arrested 11 men on gambling charges.

Nine of the men were charged on nine counts each, and the other two on three counts each.

State Police officials said the gambling party had been under surveillance by intelligence agents and B&O police for about two weeks.

Two agents had been playing cards with the men at the time of the raid. More than 20 state and railroad policemen participated. They encountered no resistence, authorities said.

The train was en route from Baltimore to Shenandoah Downs Race Track in Charles Town, W. Va., by way of Washington, D.C. Railroad officials said the train was carrying between 400 and 500 passengers.

Bail Set At $250

Richard F. Norton, 56, of Langley Park, Md., and Farid A. Fargo, 23, of Takoma Park, Md., were charged on three counts of gambling each. Bail was set at $250 apiece.

Each of the following persons was charged on three counts of gambling, three counts of permitting a table to be used for gambling and three counts of keeping a gambling table:

Edward J. Boyle, 56, Philadelphia; Peter Alperto, 52, Philadelphia; Edward Callahan, 62, Queens, N.Y.; Benjamin Breslow, 48, Philadelphia; Paul D. McDonald, 48, Philadelphia; Lester Poulson, 45, Ocean City, Md.; Harry N. Montgomery, 59, Philadelphia, and Lemuel Smith, 32, Philadelphia.

Total bond for the nine was set at $3,000. State Police said they would be given hearings at 7 p.m. Feb. 1 in magistrate's court in Brunswick.

Confiscate Phony Dice

State Police, who said an undetermined amount of cash was seized in the raid, described the game that was broken up as "banker-broker." Also confiscated, officials said, were phony dice and marked cards.

It was the second raid by the Intelligence Division of the State Police since the special unit was officially created last June 1. The first raid was staged last August on an Eastern Shore numbers operation.

Shenandoah Has Record $2,718 Double Payoff

Roman Call Returns $217.40 In Opener

Roman Call, longest shot on the board in the first race at $217.40 straight, started off the record figure, and Johnson Man put the finishing touches on it with a $67 win in the second. It was a 5-8 numerical combination.

Robert Brower was aboard Reginald R. Shifler's Roman Call, who was winning his first race since September 21, 1961. That win also came at Shenandoah Downs when the Economical gelding was an even money favorite. The win price was the biggest of the meeting and second biggest in Shenandoah's five-year history.

TALK OF THE TOWN—That talkative young heavyweight from Louisville, Cassius Clay (right), who says he expects to win the heavyweight title and then hold it for 10 years before passing it on to his brother, spars with his brother, Rudy (left) in Pittsburgh. Cassius, who kayoed Archie Moore in his most recent bout, meets Charley Powell in Pittsburgh January 24.

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP)—State Police intelligence agents and uniform troopers staged a surprise raid Tuesday on a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad race track special and arrested 11 men on gambling charges.

Nine of the men were charged on nine counts each, and the other two on three counts each.

State Police officials said the gambling party had been under surveillance by intelligence agents and B&O police for about two weeks.

Two agents had been playing cards with the men at the time of the raid. More than 20 state and railroad policemen participated. They encountered no resistence, authorities said.

The train was en route from Baltimore to Shenandoah Downs Race Track in Charles Town, W. Va., by way of Washington, D.C. Railroad officials said the train was carrying between 400 and 500 passengers.

Bail Set At $250

Richard F. Norton, 56, of Langley Park, Md., and Farid A. Fargo, 23, of Takoma Park, Md., were charged on three counts of gambling each. Bail was set at $250 apiece.

Each of the following persons was charged on three counts of gambling, three counts of permitting a table to be used for gambling and three counts of keeping a gambling table:

Edward J. Boyle, 56, Philadelphia; Peter Alperto, 52, Philadelphia; Edward Callahan, 62, Queens, N.Y.; Benjamin Breslow, 48, Philadelphia; Paul D. McDonald, 48, Philadelphia; Lester Poulson, 45, Ocean City, Md.; Harry N. Montgomery, 59, Philadelphia, and Lemuel Smith, 32, Philadelphia.

Total bond for the nine was set at $3,000. State Police said they would be given hearings at 7 p.m. Feb. 1 in magistrate's court in Brunswick.

Confiscate Phony Dice

State Police, who said an undetermined amount of cash was seized in the raid, described the game that was broken up as "banker-broker." Also confiscated, officials said, were phony dice and marked cards.

It was the second raid by the Intelligence Division of the State Police since the special unit was officially created last June 1. The first raid was staged last August on an Eastern Shore numbers operation.

Piedmont and Keyser are tied for first place in the P.V.C. with 8-0 records and a win tonight for the Lions would break the tie. The Golden Tornado and Lions meet in the first game of their annual series one week from tonight in Keyser.

The Lions are 11-1 for the season while Moorefield is 1-6 in the league and 1-8 overall.

In another P.V.C. game tonight, Beall (3-3) visits Fort Ashby (4-7) in the finale of their series. The Mountaineers took the opening game, 53-42.

Bayard High School steps out of the conference tonight to engage the Parsons High Panthers from Tucker county. Bayard will be making its twelfth start of the season and a victory would put the Grant countians in the .500 class. Coach Francis Maleonskie's quint won the opener at Parsons, 35-31.

Shenandoah Has Record $2,718 Double Payoff

Roman Call Returns $217.40 In Opener

Roman Call, longest shot on the board in the first race at $217.40 straight, started off the record figure, and Johnson Man put the finishing touches on it with a $67 win in the second. It was a 5-8 numerical combination.

Robert Brower was aboard Reginald R. Shifler's Roman Call, who was winning his first race since September 21, 1961. That win also came at Shenandoah Downs when the Economical gelding was an even money favorite. The win price was the biggest of the meeting and second biggest in Shenandoah's five-year history.

TALK OF THE TOWN—That talkative young heavyweight from Louisville, Cassius Clay (right), who says he expects to win the heavyweight title and then hold it for 10 years before passing it on to his brother, spars with his brother, Rudy (left) in Pittsburgh. Cassius, who kayoed Archie Moore in his most recent bout, meets Charley Powell in Pittsburgh January 24.

Irregular Trading Marks Slight Market Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Late strength in steels helped the stock market move ahead irregularly Tuesday in a confused session marked by strength in some lower-priced issues and gold mining shares.

Heavy trading late in the day boosted volume to 4.81 million shares from Monday's 4.09 million.

Higher-than-expected 1962 profits for Youngstown Sheet sparked the belated rally in steels.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks nudged ahead .3 to 253.4 with industrials off .2, rails up .7, and utilities up .4.

Both averages were at about the levels where they stood in late April when the market wasjust beginning a steep slide which climaxed on May 28 and continued irregularly until the bottom was reached at the end of June.

Of 1,311 issues traded, 672 advanced and 390 declined. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 66. The single new low was Papercraft.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange also were irregularly higher. Volume was 1.13 million shares compared with 1.14 million Monday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Soybean futures fell sharply under heavy selling late Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade after rising to new seasonal highs early in the session.

Corn and oats also declined, while wheat and rye closed mixed.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅜ to up ¼; corn off ⅞ to 1¼; oats off ⅛ to 1¼; rye off ¾ to up ¾; and soybeans off ⅞ to 2¾.

The late selling reflected an uncertain dock strike outlook and last minute evening up of January soybean contracts, which expired at noon.

Commission houses and exporters bought soybeans and elevators sold. There have been no export inspections since Dec. 28 due to the strike.

Wheat became easier in quiet trading after opening steady. India reportedly bought 370,000 bushels of western white wheat.

Local and commission house selling of corn was more potent than commercial buying. There was talk that more corn is available in market channels.

Oats prices felt the influence of corn. Local and commission houses sold March oats.

Most rye contracts firmed, but the July eased. Locals led the buying and shorts covered. Commission houses were the main sellers.

Soybean crushing figures for December totaled 42,753,000 bushels compared with 42,840,000 in November and 38,733,000 a year ago. The total since Oct. 1 was 125,530,000 bushels against 113,730,000 for the same period last year.

Outside markets were mixed.

Final Sales Figures

Irregular Trading Marks Slight Market Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Late strength in steels helped the stock market move ahead irregularly Tuesday in a confused session marked by strength in some lower-priced issues and gold mining shares.

Heavy trading late in the day boosted volume to 4.81 million shares from Monday's 4.09 million.

Higher-than-expected 1962 profits for Youngstown Sheet sparked the belated rally in steels.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks nudged ahead .3 to 253.4 with industrials off .2, rails up .7, and utilities up .4.

Both averages were at about the levels where they stood in late April when the market wasjust beginning a steep slide which climaxed on May 28 and continued irregularly until the bottom was reached at the end of June.

Of 1,311 issues traded, 672 advanced and 390 declined. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 66. The single new low was Papercraft.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange also were irregularly higher. Volume was 1.13 million shares compared with 1.14 million Monday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Soybean futures fell sharply under heavy selling late Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade after rising to new seasonal highs early in the session.

Corn and oats also declined, while wheat and rye closed mixed.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅜ to up ¼; corn off ⅞ to 1¼; oats off ⅛ to 1¼; rye off ¾ to up ¾; and soybeans off ⅞ to 2¾.

The late selling reflected an uncertain dock strike outlook and last minute evening up of January soybean contracts, which expired at noon.

Wheat became easier in quiet trading after opening steady. India reportedly bought 370,000 bushels of western white wheat.

Local and commission house selling of corn was more potent than commercial buying. There was talk that more corn is available in market channels.

Oats prices felt the influence of corn. Local and commission houses sold March oats.

Most rye contracts firmed, but the July eased. Locals led the buying and shorts covered. Commission houses were the main sellers.

Soybean crushing figures for December totaled 42,753,000 bushels compared with 42,840,000 in November and 38,733,000 a year ago. The total since Oct. 1 was 125,530,000 bushels against 113,730,000 for the same period last year.

Outside markets were mixed.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to me during my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved son, Martin P. Harrison. I especially thank the ministers, Rev. Jacob Snyder and Rev. Archie McIntyre, those who sent flowers, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of cars for the funeral. To all I am deeply grateful.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to me during my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved son, Martin P. Harrison. I especially thank the ministers, Rev. Jacob Snyder and Rev. Archie McIntyre, those who sent flowers, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of cars for the funeral. To all I am deeply grateful.
His Mother, ELEANOR KERNS

NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Rules and Regulations at its meeting on February 7, 1963, at 1:30 p. m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland.

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE BOARD OF BUILDING, SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION COMMISSIONERS 102.2 HEARINGS BEFORE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS. IN GENERAL. 102.21

(a) All hearings shall be open to the public.

(b) Hearings shall be of two types:

(1) Hearings in contested matters:

(i) Appeals from Orders of the Director,

(ii) consideration of Articles of Incorporation, amendment or revival.

(iii) protests or appeals from action or inaction of the Director relating to the establishment, maintenance or relocation of offices.

(2) Hearings in uncontested matters: All other matters within the express or implied powers of the Board for which a public hearing is required by law, or is deemed by the Board to be necessary or appropriate.

(c) Hearings in contested matters shall be scheduled regularly on the first Thursday of each month at the office of the Board in accordance with the Docket of the Board provided for such matters, and in addition may be scheduled specially at such times and places as the Board may from time to time designate.

(d) Hearings in uncontested matters shall be held at such time and in such places as the Board may from time to time designate, and may be combined with any regular or special meeting of the Board.

HEARINGS IN CONTESTED MATTERS: 102.22.

(a) Initiation of Hearing Procedure

(1) Hearings on Appeal from Orders of the Director shall be initiated by a Notice of Appeal. Each such Notice shall designate the names of the parties to the Appeal, the date and number of the Order of the Director from which the Appeal is taken, the nature of the Order appealed from and the portion or portions thereof to which the Appeal is addressed.

(2) Hearings on any matters for which a hearing is required or permitted by law other than Appeals from Orders of the Director shall be initiated by an Application for Hearing. Each such Application shall set forth the name of the applicant, the purpose of the Application, the provision of law under which the hearing applied for is required or permitted and such further facts as shall be necessary to establish the right of applicant to the hearing and to the Order or other relief sought.

(3) Every Notice or Application shall be signed by an authorized officer of the association or by the individual taking the Appeal or applying for the hearing and, if the appealing party or applicant for hearing is to be represented by counsel, such Notice shall also be signed by such counsel and shall set forth his address and telephone number. Every Notice or Application shall specifically designate the name, address and telephone number of the individual upon whom all further communications in connection with the Appeal or Application for Hearing are to be served by the Board.

(4) Every Notice of Appeal or Application for Hearing shall be directed to the Secretary of the Board at the offices of the Board and a copy thereof shall simultaneously be served on the Director. In the cases of Appeals from Orders of the Director, the party filing the Appeal shall also simultaneously serve copies of the Notice of Appeal upon all other parties to the hearing before the Director.

(b) PARTIES—The parties to every hearing shall be the association, individual or group of individuals initiating the hearing. Unless excused by the Board, the Director shall appear personally at every meeting. Whenever, in the opinion of the Board, the public interest will be served thereby, the Board may allow any person, association, or governmental agency or department, having a substantial interest in the subject matter of the hearing, to appear and present oral and documentary evidence, and argument, as an Intervenor in any hearing; provided that such person, association or governmental agency or department shall file with the Secretary, at least ten days prior to the date of the hearing, a written request to appear therein as Intervenor, and serve a copy thereof on the person initiating the hearing.

(c) DOCKET AND ASSIGNMENT—

(1) The Secretary of the Board shall maintain a Hearing Docket upon which shall be entered all Appeals from Orders of the Director, and Applications for Hearings each of which shall be assigned a Hearing Docket Number in the order of its date of filing. All appeals and Applications so entered shall be set down for hearing before the Board, according to the Apeal Docket Number assigned to it, such hearing to be no later than thirty days from the date of filing.

(2) Where the nature of the case demands, and for the convenience of the parties and the Board, the Chairman may assign cases for hearing other than in their numerical order upon the Docket when requested in writing to do so by the appealing party or applicant for hearing, or on his own motion, but in no event shall a case be assigned out of order where the effect thereof shall be to cause that case or any other case on the Docket to be assigned for hearing on a date later than thirty days from the filing of the Notice of Appeal or Application for Hearing relating thereto.

(3) Within ten days of the date of filing of a Notice of Appeal or Application for Hearing, the Secretary shall cause a designation of Hearing Date to be mailed to the parties involved. Such Designation shall set for th the time and place of the hearing and the Hearing Docket Number assigned to it, and shall be sent by regular mail to the person designated in the Notice of Appeal or Application for Hearing as authorized to receive communications, at the address designated therein. No hearing shall be held upon less than fifteen days notice, except that such time may be shortened in the Board's discretion, with the consent or upon the request of the parties.

(d) CONDUCT OF HEARINGS—Each hearing shall be held before not less than a quorum of the Board. The Chairman, or in his absence, a member designated by him, shall be the Presiding Officer and shall have complete charge of any hearing, with authority to permit the examination of witnesses, admit evidence, rule on the admissibility of evidence, and to adjourn or recess such hearing from time to time.

(c) RULES OF EVIDENCE—The rules of evidence in all hearings before the Board of Commissioners in contested matters shall be as set forth in Article 41, Section 252 of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

(f) TRANSCRIPT OF TESTIMONY— There shall be no requirement that hearings before the Board be stenographically recorded, but upon the written request of any party, the Board shall authorize such stenographic recording, the expense of which shall be borne by the party so requesting. The Board, on its own motion, may direct the stenographic recording of any hearing, the expense thereof to be borne by the Department. The cost of any typewritten transcripts of any hearing shall be paid by the parties requesting such transcripts.

(g)—REPRESENTATION BY COUNSEL—Any party may appear at a hearing before the Board either personally or through its counsel, and where a party is represented by counsel, all submission of evidence, examination and cross examination, of witnesses, all objections, prayers and motions on its behalf shall be done and presented solely by such counsel.

(h) WITNESSES—The Board or any member thereof may examine any witness called by the parties or by the Board. The Board, through its Presiding Officer, may call as witnesses, in addition to those persons for whom subpoenas have been issued, any person in attendance at the hearing.

(i) BRIEFS—Any party may, and, at the request of the Board, shall submit to the Board briefs of the issues of fact and law involved in the hearings, which briefs shall be filed in such form, with such number of copies and at such time as the Board may designate.

(j) FINAL ORDERS—All Final Orders of the Board shall be in writing and shall be identified by the Hearing Docket Number of the Appeal or Application, and shall designate, by an appropriate caption, the names of the parties thereto. All such Orders shall state whether the order of the Director is affirmed, reversed or modified by the Board, and if modified, shall set forth clearly the extent to which and the manner in which such Order is modified. The Board may, but shall not be required to set forth in its Final Order the reasons for its decision or the findings of fact upon which such decision is based. Where the interests of justice demand, the Board may stay the operation of any Final Order for such period as the Board deems fit. All Final Orders shall bear the official seal of the Board, and copies thereof shall be sent to the parties.

No. 26827 or 4 Equity.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 7th day of January, 1963, a Petition was filed in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., by the Plaintiffs against the Defendants whose address or addresses are not known. The Petition alleges in substance that, by deed dated August 11, 1903, Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, conveyed to Patrick Rowan and Monica Rowan, his wife, certain real property on Island Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Md., being Lot No. 7 on the plat of Hannekamp's Island, and upon execution and delivery of said deed said grantees therein took possession and control of said property and held the same until the death of the survivor of them, Patrick A. Rowan, in 1926, who devised the same by his last Will and Testament to Mary A. Nolan, his daughter; that she and her husband have had possession and control of said property since that time; that said deed for said property, as aforesaid, through oversight and inadvertance, was never recorded as required by the laws of Maryland, although said Patrick Rowan had possession of same and it is now in the possession of said Mary A. Nolan and Patrick A. Nolan; and that both said Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, died intestate and without issue, the survivor of them having died prior to 1924.

Petitioners pray that the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., will order and decree that said deed from Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, to Patrick Rowan and Monica Rowan, his wife, dated August 11, 1903, be recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Md., with the same effect and consequences and to all intents and purposes as if such deed had been recorded within the time required by law.

WHEREUPON, it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., this 7th day of January, 1963, that the Petitioners cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Allegany County, Md., once a week in each of four successive weeks before the 7th day of February, 1963, giving notice to the unknown heirs of Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, of the object and substance of the Petition and warning each of them to show cause, in person or by attorney, if any there be, on or before the 11th day of March, 1963, why an order and decree should not be passed as prayed.

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Rules and Regulations at its meeting on February 7, 1963, at 1:30 p. m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland.

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE BOARD OF BUILDING, SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION COMMISSIONERS 102.2 HEARINGS BEFORE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.
IN GENERAL. 102.21

(a) All hearings shall be open to the public.

(b) Hearings shall be of two types:
(1) Hearings in contested matters:
(i) Appeals from Orders of the Director,
(ii) consideration of Articles of Incorporation, amendment or revival.
(iii) protests or appeals from action or inaction of the Director relating to the establishment, maintenance or relocation of offices.
(2) Hearings in uncontested matters: All other matters within the express or implied powers of the Board for which a public hearing is required by law, or is deemed by the Board to be necessary or appropriate.

(c) Hearings in contested matters shall be scheduled regularly on the first Thursday of each month at the office of the Board in accordance with the Docket of the Board provided for such matters, and in addition may be scheduled specially at such times and places as the Board may from time to time designate.

(d) Hearings in uncontested matters shall be held at such time and in such places as the Board may from time to time designate, and may be combined with any regular or special meeting of the Board.

HEARINGS IN CONTESTED MATTERS: 102.22.

(a) Initiation of Hearing Procedure
(1) Hearings on Appeal from Orders of the Director shall be initiated by a Notice of Appeal. Each such Notice shall designate the names of the parties to the Appeal, the date and number of the Order of the Director from which the Appeal is taken, the nature of the Order appealed from and the portion or portions thereof to which the Appeal is addressed.
(2) Hearings on any matters for which a hearing is required or permitted by law other than Appeals from Orders of the Director shall be initiated by an Application for Hearing. Each such Application shall set forth the name of the applicant, the purpose of the Application, the provision of law under which the hearing applied for is required or permitted and such further facts as shall be necessary to establish the right of applicant to the hearing and to the Order or other relief sought.
(3) Every Notice or Application shall be signed by an authorized officer of the association or by the individual taking the Appeal or applying for the hearing and, if the appealing party or applicant for hearing is to be represented by counsel, such Notice shall also be signed by such counsel and shall set forth his address and telephone number. Every Notice or Application shall specifically designate the name, address and telephone number of the individual upon whom all further communications in connection with the Appeal or Application for Hearing are to be served by the Board.
(4) Every Notice of Appeal or Application for Hearing shall be directed to the Secretary of the Board at the offices of the Board and a copy thereof shall simultaneously be served on the Director. In the cases of Appeals from Orders of the Director, the party filing the Appeal shall also simultaneously serve copies of the Notice of Appeal upon all other parties to the hearing before the Director.

(b) PARTIES—The parties to every hearing shall be the association, individual or group of individuals initiating the hearing. Unless excused by the Board, the Director shall appear personally at every meeting. Whenever, in the opinion of the Board, the public interest will be served thereby, the Board may allow any person, association, or governmental agency or department, having a substantial interest in the subject matter of the hearing, to appear and present oral and documentary evidence, and argument, as an Intervenor in any hearing; provided that such person, association or governmental agency or department shall file with the Secretary, at least ten days prior to the date of the hearing, a written request to appear therein as Intervenor, and serve a copy thereof on the person initiating the hearing.

No. 26827 or 4 Equity.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 7th day of January, 1963, a Petition was filed in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., by the Plaintiffs against the Defendants whose address or addresses are not known. The Petition alleges in substance that, by deed dated August 11, 1903, Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, conveyed to Patrick Rowan and Monica Rowan, his wife, certain real property on Island Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Md., being Lot No. 7 on the plat of Hannekamp's Island, and upon execution and delivery of said deed said grantees therein took possession and control of said property and held the same until the death of the survivor of them, Patrick A. Rowan, in 1926, who devised the same by his last Will and Testament to Mary A. Nolan, his daughter; that she and her husband have had possession and control of said property since that time; that said deed for said property, as aforesaid, through oversight and inadvertance, was never recorded as required by the laws of Maryland, although said Patrick Rowan had possession of same and it is now in the possession of said Mary A. Nolan and Patrick A. Nolan; and that both said Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, died intestate and without issue, the survivor of them having died prior to 1924.

Petitioners pray that the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., will order and decree that said deed from Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, to Patrick Rowan and Monica Rowan, his wife, dated August 11, 1903, be recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Md., with the same effect and consequences and to all intents and purposes as if such deed had been recorded within the time required by law.

WHEREUPON, it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., this 7th day of January, 1963, that the Petitioners cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Allegany County, Md., once a week in each of four successive weeks before the 7th day of February, 1963, giving notice to the unknown heirs of Shadrack E. Beeman and Fannie E. Beeman, his wife, of the object and substance of the Petition and warning each of them to show cause, in person or by attorney, if any there be, on or before the 11th day of March, 1963, why an order and decree should not be passed as prayed.

Teachers Ask $700 Increase Plus Fringes

Commissioners Make No Promises

Representatives of the Allegany County Teachers Association last night presented a detailed report to the Board of County Commissioners in which they requested a $700 a year across-the-board salary increase for the county's 680 teachers plus other fringe benefits.

The teachers would like to have the county pay their hospital and medical insurance, averaging about nine cents per hour per employe. At the present time these benefits are paid for by the teachers themselves. They do participate in a state pension plan and obtain sick leave benefits.

Louis V. Shinnamon, president of the Board of County Commissioners, acted as chief spokesman for his board. Although he would make no specific commitment on the proposed salary increase he said "we will do the best we can."

"Deeply Interested"

Commissioner Robert Little Ebert said all of the county officials are deeply interested in the county school system, and he expressed a hope that better teachers might be attracted to the county by higher salaries.

Mr. Shinnamon observed that it probably will be March 1 before the county commissioners have a clear idea of what funds might be available for salaries increases. The county levy list must be adopted on Tuesday, April 2.

The president of the county commissioners suggested that it might be appropriate for the Board of Education to include in its budget requests for 1963-64 an increase that it considers fair for the teachers.

During the current school year, county teachers with bachelor's degrees are receiving salaries that start at $4,300 in the first year of experience and reach a maximum of $6,400 in the 12th year of experience. The present salaries figure to between $82 and $115 a week, the teachers stressed.

Last year the county commissioners granted a $200 across-the-board salary increase, raising the starting pay from $4,100 to $4,300.

The proposed $700 increase would advance the weekly salary of teachers to between $96 and $136 a week with a bachelor's degree.

Helmick Spokesman

William E. Helmick, an industrial arts teacher at Mt. Savage High School, served as chief spokesman for the teachers' association although 10 representatives of the group attended last night's session at the Court House.

Also in attendance were Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and four of the five members of the County Board of Education. They included J. Goodloe Jackson, T. Donald Shires, Mrs. Richard Winer and Mrs. George M. Young. Only Kenneth R. Malcolm was unable to attend.

This salary proposal was presented to the school board on January 10 but Mr. Webster informed the county commissioners that no action had been taken by the board.

It was agreed that the salary increase requested by the teachers' association would add about $500,000 to the school budget for next year. The $700 raise for 680 teachers, not considering super-

Fire Damages New Home On Martin Mt.

The home, a five-room frame structure owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Shanholtz, received extensive fire damage in one of the bedrooms and smoke damage throughout the whole residence.

The fire was discovered about 11:45 by Mrs. Shanholtz who was at home with two of her young children. Mr. Shanholtz was at work at the Amcelle plant and two other children were in school. No one was injured.

Firemen from the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company contained the blaze to the bedroom where the fire originated, but there was considerable smoke damage to the rest of the house. Firemen said Mr. and Mrs. Shanholtz lost all of their clothing in the fire.

A representative of the fire company said the Shanholtz family had just moved into their home three weeks ago. The residence is located on U. S. Route 40 at the foot of the east side of Martin Mountain.

The origin of the fire is still unknown, but firemen said it did start in a bedroom closet.

The Flintstone company responded to the alarm with 12 men and one piece of equipment and fought the blaze for nearly three hours. Volunteers from the Baltimore Pike Company also assisted in fighting the fire.

Labor Presents Heart Film

Josiah Mullenax, president of Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, presenting film, "Pulse of Life," to Robert Brown, member of board of directors of Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association. Looking on are Stanley Zorick, secretary-treasurer of Labor Council, and C. Glenn Watson Jr., right, general chairman of 1963 Heart Fund campaign. First showing of film is Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Sacred Heart Hospital Nurses Home, with Dr. Earl R. Paul as commentator. Guests at the showing will be safety directors of area utilities and industrial plants.

YMCA To Hold Annual Dinner Next Tuesday

The annual dinner of the YMCA will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the community room of Central YMCA with Earl M. Nonnenmann, president, presiding.

Robert E. Moore will be toastmaster.

Speaker for the dinner will be Richard Cooper, veteran of 13½ years of service with the international committee of YMCAs in the U. S. and abroad.

A native of Augusta, Maine, Mr. Cooper graduated in 1936 from Springfield College and immediately joined the staff of the Pittsburgh YMCA as assistant boys' work secretary. In 1937 he became boys' work secretary in Brockton, Mass. In 1945 he went to Chester, Pa., as county youth secretary, and became acting general secretary there shortly afterwards.

After 11 years of service in the U. S. he joined the YMCA World Service and went to China in 1948, where he spent a year and a half helping the Chinese Y reorganize its program. He had to leave Peking in May 1949 because of the Communist takeover. He got out of Shanghai only a few days before the city fell to the Reds.

His next assignment was to the YMCA International Committee's income production staff in New York and the New England states.

He went to Bombay, India, in 1952, and spent five years as a regional secretary with headquarters in Bangalore, from where he supervised such projects as the Y's College of Physical Education in Madras and rural centers, later used by the Indian government as a blueprint for its entire rural development scheme.

In addition to his other work, he also served as national boys' work secretary for 22 months, and wrote a book, "The Finance Campaign," which now is used by YMCA's in many parts of Asia.

After a furlough in 1957 Mr. Cooper returned to India as development secretary for the National Council of YMCAs of India and Ceylon. In Bombay he directed the first large-scale organized capital fund campaign in the history of the Indian YMCA movement. Meanwhile, he trained two Indian national secretaries to be campaign directors, and each has now directed three successful capital fund campaigns in smaller centers.

Clifton Nixon Found Insane, Not Guilty

Clifton Harris Nixon, who shot and killed his 24-year-old nephew, Clifton McBride, was found not guilty of murder by reason of insanity yesterday and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris ordered him sent to Spring Grove State Hospital.

Nixon, 49, killed McBride with a rifle while McBride was asleep at his Wilson Road home last December 11.

All testimony presented yesterday, both by members of his family and also by county officials, denoted that the defendant was insane, and as Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis, local psychiatrist, declared, insane "then, now and tomorrow."

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, county medical examiner, told of being called to the home of Dory William McBride, 55, Oldtown, on the early morning of December 11.

He found McBride, son of Dory McBride, shot in the right temple by a cartridge from a .32 calibre Winchester rifle. Death was instantaneous as even the bedclothing was unruffled.

The father of the victim, Dory McBride, related how he was awakened by the gunshot at 12:10 a. m. and found his brother-in-law, Nixon, standing in the open doorway. McBride called State Police from the home of a neighbor, Ted Crabtree.

The tiny wife of Dory McBride, mother of the victim, told Judge Harris that her twin brother, Clifton Nixon, had been "out of his head" all evening.

The night before, "Macky," the victim, had stayed up with his uncle to keep him calm. It developed from his parents and sister that the victim of the shooting was the person who looked after the defendant constantly. It was McBride had taken him to Dr. Trevaskis six weeks before the shooting.

Dr. Trevaskis testified that the first time he examined Nixon he advised the family to send the defendant to Sykesville Springfield State Hospital as he was insane.

Members of the family revealed that "Macky," the victim, was the one person who did not want to send his uncle away, preferring to care for him personally.

William F. Baker, county investigator, said Nixon told him three hours after the shooting that the reason he shot his nephew was because "they were coming to burn him and me up, so I had to save him."

Due to Nixon's irrational manner, Baker said he could not find out who "they" were.

The tiny, frail, nervous defendant had been employed as an orchard worker and assisted pulp-

HARVEY WEISS

Harvey Weiss, Former Hospital Director, Dies

Harvey Weiss, superintendent of Memorial Hospital for ten years before becoming director of Baltimore's Sinai Hospital 19 years ago, died yesterday after a heart attack at his home, 1010 St. Paul Street, Baltimore.

Mr. Weiss, 67, was a native of Cleveland, Ohio, and he came to Allegany County in 1920 as a city health officer. In the early 1930s he left the city health department and became superintendent of Memorial Hospital.

In 1943 he became director of Sinai Hospital in Baltimore, serving 19 years in that capacity until he retired in September 1962.

At the time of his death, Mr. Weiss was an honorary consultant to the management of Sinai Hospital.

Under his direction, a new Sinai Hospital was constructed and in his closing days as administrator he successfully supervised the transfer of a hospital full of patients, some of them critical, from the old building to the new structure.

Mr. Weiss served on many public and private committees connected with health service over the years. He was the only two-term president of the Maryland-District of Columbia-Delaware Hospital Association.

While in Cumberland, he was connected with virtually every movement and organization for civic advancement and health and charity.

Helped Found Blue Cross

Mr. Weiss was a founder of the committee that established the Maryland Blue Cross hospital insurance system, and served several years as its secretary.

Last year Gov. Tawes appointed him to a state board supervising the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Mr. Weiss also was a member of the State Health Department's Advisory Council on Medical Care and was chairman of the hospital planning section of the State Planning Department.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice (Bergman) Weiss, Baltimore; two sons, David Weiss and Karel Weiss, both of New York City, and two grandchildren.

Mr. Weiss was a graduate of Ohio State University and was a veteran of World War I.

Parking Group To Buy Site On Baltimore St.

Bids Are In For Converting Area

Stockholders of the Down Town Parking Corporation yesterday approved the purchase of the Consolidated Foods Corporation property at 184 Baltimore Street.

The action, as recommended by directors of the corporation, was taken at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the conference room of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The cost of the property was reported to be about $75,000.

It is being purchased to provide additional off-street parking facilities for the central business district.

Bids Are In

The association has already secured a number of bids for converting the property from its present use to parking facilities.

The low bidder is Orrie Sensabaugh, who bid $23,995 to demolish the present building, grade the site and to prepare it, including lights, for a modern parking lot.

The L-shaped property has some 22,000 square feet and is expected to provide parking space for 70 to 75 cars.

Since each parking space is expected to be used from three to four times a day, it is anticipated that it will provide parking for 210 to 280 cars a day.

The lot is approximately the same size as the Windsor Hotel property, which was razed several years ago and converted into a parking lot.

Will Tie In

The proposed new parking lot will tie in to the Windsor lot in the rear, providing access from Baltimore or North George streets.

It is anticipated that the parking lot, when completed, will be operated by Coach Systems, Inc.

The firm and its predecessor, C. D. Kenny Company, has been in Cumberland since 1880.

Optimists To Meet

William Lewis, of the research and development department at Allegany Ballistics, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Optimist Club today at 6:15 p. m. at Central YMCA. Lewis, a member of the club, will talk on "Classification."

Planner Urges 'No Delays' On Thruway

Informal Talk Set On Interchanges

The city's planning consultants will meet informally with the State Roads Commission to discuss tentative proposals involving certain interchanges of the Cumberland Thruway.

But the men who will outline the proposals — John R. Joyner, resident planner, and George Marcou, associate of Blair and Stein Associates, told the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission they would not want to cause any delay in the construction of the Thruway.

It would do more harm to delay construction, Mr. Marcou stressed, than to accept the plan as it is.

He said his firm, which is preparing a master plan for the City of Cumberland, feels there is some question on certain interchanges and is studying all possibilities.

To Be Informal

Some improvements can be made, he said, but if they would cause delay, there should be "some second thoughts."

He said the planning firm feels most strongly about the downtown connections to the Thruway.

In response to a query, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said changes have been made from time to time. He said flatly that any changes would involve the re-design of the bridge.

The planners were asked to meet informally with the SRC on the design considerations or alternative plans as suggested by planning consultant Walter Hansen, and to report back to the commission.

Mayor Earl D. Chaney reported that plans outlined by John R. Funk, chairman-director of the SRC to get the $21,000,000 Thruway under contract late this year or early next year and "all at one time."

Referring to the scheduling, the Mayor said he told Mr. Funk the city doesn't care how it is done since "we've fooled around too long."

Want No Delay

Commissioner Fred J. Hill suggested the talks with the SRC be "very informal" as he would hate to see any delay.

The commission wants "the best bridge possible," said James A. Avirett, acting chairman.

Walter F. Demare, executive director of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency, said the agency's plans will be tied very closely to the Planning Commission's program and that each project will be coordinated with the City Engineering Department and the Planning Commission.

Snowstorm Forecast For This Area

By The Associated Press

There will be continued cold weather, and possibly a snowstorm, in Maryland Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said Tuesday there was a chance that snow would move into the Western Maryland counties before noon Wednesday and reach the eastern and southern counties sometime in the afternoon.

There is expected to be little change in temperatures from those of Monday and Tuesday. That means the overnight lows will be near zero in some sections and the afternoon highs in the 20s.

The forecast said the snowfall probably would continue Wednesday night and Thursday. The Weather Bureau declined to estimate the severity of the expected storm.

The lowest temperature reported in Western Maryland Tuesday morning was three degrees at Town Hill in eastern Allegany County. That reading was made at 9 a.m.

Elsewhere in the western part of the state, temperatures ranged from 4 to 16 degrees. The low overnight reading in Baltimore was 16 degrees.

House Votes To End Unit Vote System

State Senate Still Has The Final Say

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Repeal of Maryland's 52-year-old practice of deciding winners in primary elections by an unusual unit vote system was voted overwhelmingly by the House of Delegates Tuesday.

The 122-9 vote came after a surprising exhibition when no one arose to defend the system in two opportunities to speak. It is the first time that a return to popular primary voting has been approved by either the house or senate, which now has the final say.

The only other unit vote system existing in the United States is in Georgia and it has been held unconstitutional. The Supreme Court last week heard arguments on an appeal.

The swift move by the house against the unit vote three weeks after it convened came in the wake of last year's legislative reapportionment ordered by a court. The four largest counties and Baltimore City were given 19 more delegates to provide the metropolitan areas a majority for the first time.

How It Works

The unit vote is related directly to the number of county representatives in the state legislature. Within the last 12 years, candidates have won the popular vote only to lose the nomination by unit.

In another election move, the House approved a requirement that candidates for statewide office file copies of their campaign expense reports with the secretary of state. They now may be filed in any one of several circuit courts and a candidate's total spending and contributions is not available readily.

The house also renewed a tiff with the senate over where a governor is inaugurated. The delegates want to allow him to be sworn in anywhere on the State House grounds so more people may watch. The senate has refused to allow the ceremony to be held outside its relatively small chamber.

A bill to fix charges in Maryland for the first time on retail installment sales and department store credit accounts kicked up a fuss upon its appearance in the senate.

Senate President William S. James, D-Harford, the sponsor, had the bill referred to the Banking and Insurance Committee headed by Sen. John-Clarence North, D-Talbot.

Sen. Joseph A. Bertorelli, D-Balto 1st, who served on a Legislative Council committee which studied the subject and who initiated the idea for such legislation, protested that it should go to one of the two major committees — judiciary or finance. He said it would get more careful consideration there.

Beaten On Rollcall

James let him make such a motion, opposed it from the rostrum, and defeated the motion 18-8 on a slow rollcall of the senate requested by James.

"I sort of take it this bill stinks," Sen. Harry T. Phoebus, R-Somerset, the minority floor

Tawes Submits Record Budget, Urges Caution

Says 'Cushion' May Be Needed Soon

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, unable to appear personally because of illness, sent a $603,764,121 budget to the Maryland Legislature Tuesday with a strong word of caution about additional state spending.

The governor was confined to his bed with a virus infection. His message was read to a joint session of the senate and house by Donald Hurwitz, reading clerk of the senate.

It was the first time in memory of veteran state officials that a governor had not appeared for the annual budget message. Tawes was under a doctor's orders not to go, but his condition was reported not serious.

The governor told the legislature in his prepared address that the budget—a record by $43,557,063—was balanced without tax increases only through use of $20.5 million in a general fund surplus accumulated over the past several years.

He attempted to head off, before it starts, any effort to spend the $9,057,072 in general fund money that remains uncommitted.

May Need Remainder

"While it is comforting to contemplate that we may not be called upon to impose new taxes at this session, duty dictates that we give serious consideration to some factors and trends which indicate that this situation may change in the very near future," he said.

"During the decade 1953-63, the general fund budget of our state has increased at an average annual rate of approximately $17.5 million.

"The budget which I am presenting to you today forecasts the end of that trend, and in fact increases general fund appropriations in the amount of $25,551,060 over the current year."

Tawes said an increased rate of budget expansion will be necessary in future years "because of accelerating enrollments in our public schools and colleges, increases in welfare caseloads and hospital and penal populations, expanding physical plant and stepped-up costs for retirement and social security."

Three Broad Categories

The budget breaks down into three categories.

General fund spending — Financed by income, sales and other taxes levied against the general public—will total $299,111,104, an increase of $25.5 million over the current fiscal year.

Special fund spending—Involving revenues from special taxes such as gasoline and motor vehicles and earmarked by law for specific projects—will total $199,682,917, an increase of $10,008,118.

Federal aid for various state programs on a matching basis will total $104,970,100, an increase of $7,997,885.

Governor's Budget Cuts $21.6 Million

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes told the legislature Tuesday he had cut $21,674,809 from the $47,283,233 in increased general fund spending requested by state agencies.

Public Welfare — Requested $37,343,800, allowed $26,807,014, a cut of $10,536,786. The chief reduction was $9.4 million in public assistance, which Tawes and fiscal aides felt would not be necessary.

Health — Requested $37,650,224, allowed $33,736,424, a cut of $3,913,800. The chief reduction was $2.9 million in the hospital in-patient program, for which $11.1 million was allowed.

Mental hygiene — Requested $29,950,753, allowed $27,171,353, a cut of $2,779,400, spread through headquarters and the various hospitals.

Public education — Requested $163,797,481, allowed $160,810,039, a cut of $2,987,442. College cuts included $706,299 of the $2,083,557 requested by Frostburg, $542,274 of $2,554,271 requested by Towson, $95,179 of $747,998 requested by Salisbury, $91,075 of $733,977 requested by Bowie, and $288,642 of $25,160,002 requested by the University of Maryland.

Forests and parks — Requested $1,693,016, allowed $1,343,592, a cut of $349,424.

Department of Correction — Requested $7,115,352, allowed $6,877,142, a cut of $238,210 for the five institutions, headquarters and central laundry.

The governor trimmed $605,407 from the $200,288,124 requested by agencies in state special funds, which are revenues dedicated by law for specific purposes. Chief reductions were $187,326 in the $5.8 million requested by the Department of Motor Vehicles and $131,813 from the $7.4 million requested by State Police.

Mrs. Kelly is a graduate of Quincy, Mass., High School. She was employed in secretarial work for the Bethlehem Steel Company from 1942 to 1946. She is married and has two children.

C. JAMES WILLIAMS

MRS. RUTH M. KELLY

C. James Williams, RFD 1, Frostburg, has accepted a position in the social studies department of Oldtown High School. He succeeds William Earl Andrews, who resigned for the purpose of extending his education into the graduate field at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Mr. Williams was graduated from Allegany High School in 1950.

Teachers Ask $700 Increase Plus Fringes

Commissioners Make No Promises

Representatives of the Allegany County Teachers Association last night presented a detailed report to the Board of County Commissioners in which they requested a $700 a year across-the-board salary increase for the county's 680 teachers plus other fringe benefits.

The teachers would like to have the county pay their hospital and medical insurance, averaging about nine cents per hour per employe. At the present time these benefits are paid for by the teachers themselves. They do participate in a state pension plan and obtain sick leave benefits.

Louis V. Shinnamon, president of the Board of County Commissioners, acted as chief spokesman for his board. Although he would make no specific commitment on the proposed salary increase he said "we will do the best we can."

"Deeply Interested"

Commissioner Robert Little Ebert said all of the county officials are deeply interested in the county school system, and he expressed a hope that better teachers might be attracted to the county by higher salaries.

Mr. Shinnamon observed that it probably will be March 1 before the county commissioners have a clear idea of what funds might be available for salaries increases. The county levy list must be adopted on Tuesday, April 2.

The president of the county commissioners suggested that it might be appropriate for the Board of Education to include in its budget requests for 1963-64 an increase that it considers fair for the teachers.

During the current school year, county teachers with bachelor's degrees are receiving salaries that start at $4,300 in the first year of experience and reach a maximum of $6,400 in the 12th year of experience. The present salaries figure to between $82 and $115 a week, the teachers stressed.

Last year the county commissioners granted a $200 across-the-board salary increase, raising the starting pay from $4,100 to $4,300.

The proposed $700 increase would advance the weekly salary of teachers to between $96 and $136 a week with a bachelor's degree.

Helmick Spokesman

William E. Helmick, an industrial arts teacher at Mt. Savage High School, served as chief spokesman for the teachers' association although 10 representatives of the group attended last night's session at the Court House.

Also in attendance were Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and four of the five members of the County Board of Education. They included J. Goodloe Jackson, T. Donald Shires, Mrs. Richard Winer and Mrs. George M. Young. Only Kenneth R. Malcolm was unable to attend.

This salary proposal was presented to the school board on January 10 but Mr. Webster informed the county commissioners that no action had been taken by the board.

It was agreed that the salary increase requested by the teachers' association would add about $500,000 to the school budget for next year. The $700 raise for 680 teachers, not considering super-

Fire Damages New Home On Martin Mt.

A new home on the east side of Martin Mountain was badly damaged by smoke and fire yesterday when a blaze broke out in a bedroom closet.

The home, a five-room frame structure owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Shanholtz, received extensive fire damage in one of the bedrooms and smoke damage throughout the whole residence.

The fire was discovered about 11:45 by Mrs. Shanholtz who was at home with two of her young children. Mr. Shanholtz was at work at the Amcelle plant and two other children were in school. No one was injured.

Firemen from the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company contained the blaze to the bedroom where the fire originated, but there was considerable smoke damage to the rest of the house. Firemen said Mr. and Mrs. Shanholtz lost all of their clothing in the fire.

A representative of the fire company said the Shanholtz family had just moved into their home three weeks ago. The residence is located on U. S. Route 40 at the foot of the east side of Martin Mountain.

The origin of the fire is still unknown, but firemen said it did start in a bedroom closet.

The Flintstone company responded to the alarm with 12 men and one piece of equipment and fought the blaze for nearly three hours. Volunteers from the Baltimore Pike Company also assisted in fighting the fire.

YMCA To Hold Annual Dinner Next Tuesday

The annual dinner of the YMCA will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the community room of Central YMCA with Earl M. Nonnenmann, president, presiding.

Robert E. Moore will be toastmaster.

Speaker for the dinner will be Richard Cooper, veteran of 13½ years of service with the international committee of YMCAs in the U. S. and abroad.

A native of Augusta, Maine, Mr. Cooper graduated in 1936 from Springfield College and immediately joined the staff of the Pittsburgh YMCA as assistant boys' work secretary. In 1937 he became boys' work secretary in Brockton, Mass. In 1945 he went to Chester, Pa., as county youth secretary, and became acting general secretary there shortly afterwards.

After 11 years of service in the U. S. he joined the YMCA World Service and went to China in 1948, where he spent a year and a half helping the Chinese Y reorganize its program. He had to leave Peking in May 1949 because of the Communist takeover. He got out of Shanghai only a few days before the city fell to the Reds.

His next assignment was to the YMCA International Committee's income production staff in New York and the New England states.

He went to Bombay, India, in 1952, and spent five years as a regional secretary with headquarters in Bangalore, from where he supervised such projects as the Y's College of Physical Education in Madras and rural centers, later used by the Indian government as a blueprint for its entire rural development scheme.

In addition to his other work, he also served as national boys' work secretary for 22 months, and wrote a book, "The Finance Campaign," which now is used by YMCA's in many parts of Asia.

After a furlough in 1957 Mr. Cooper returned to India as development secretary for the National Council of YMCAs of India and Ceylon. In Bombay he directed the first large-scale organized capital fund campaign in the history of the Indian YMCA movement. Meanwhile, he trained two Indian national secretaries to be campaign directors, and each has now directed three successful capital fund campaigns in smaller centers.

Clifton Nixon Found Insane, Not Guilty

Clifton Harris Nixon, who shot and killed his 24-year-old nephew, Clifton McBride, was found not guilty of murder by reason of insanity yesterday and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris ordered him sent to Spring Grove State Hospital.

Parking Group To Buy Site On Baltimore St.

Bids Are In For Converting Area

Stockholders of the Down Town Parking Corporation yesterday approved the purchase of the Consolidated Foods Corporation property at 184 Baltimore Street.

The action, as recommended by directors of the corporation, was taken at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the conference room of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The cost of the property was reported to be about $75,000.

It is being purchased to provide additional off-street parking facilities for the central business district.

Bids Are In

The association has already secured a number of bids for converting the property from its present use to parking facilities.

The low bidder is Orrie Sensabaugh, who bid $23,995 to demolish the present building, grade the site and to prepare it, including lights, for a modern parking lot.

The L-shaped property has some 22,000 square feet and is expected to provide parking space for 70 to 75 cars.

Since each parking space is expected to be used from three to four times a day, it is anticipated that it will provide parking for 210 to 280 cars a day.

The lot is approximately the same size as the Windsor Hotel property, which was razed several years ago and converted into a parking lot.

Will Tie In

The proposed new parking lot will tie in to the Windsor lot in the rear, providing access from Baltimore or North George streets.

It is anticipated that the parking lot, when completed, will be operated by Coach Systems, Inc.

The firm and its predecessor, C. D. Kenny Company, has been in Cumberland since 1880.

Optimists To Meet

William Lewis, of the research and development department at Allegany Ballistics, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Optimist Club today at 6:15 p. m. at Central YMCA. Lewis, a member of the club, will talk on "Classification."

Planner Urges 'No Delays' On Thruway

Informal Talk Set On Interchanges

The city's planning consultants will meet informally with the State Roads Commission to discuss tentative proposals involving certain interchanges of the Cumberland Thruway.

But the men who will outline the proposals — John R. Joyner, resident planner, and George Marcou, associate of Blair and Stein Associates, told the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission they would not want to cause any delay in the construction of the Thruway.

It would do more harm to delay construction, Mr. Marcou stressed, than to accept the plan as it is.

He said his firm, which is preparing a master plan for the City of Cumberland, feels there is some question on certain interchanges and is studying all possibilities.

To Be Informal

Some improvements can be made, he said, but if they would cause delay, there should be "some second thoughts."

He said the planning firm feels most strongly about the downtown connections to the Thruway.

In response to a query, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said changes have been made from time to time. He said flatly that any changes would involve the re-design of the bridge.

The planners were asked to meet informally with the SRC on the design considerations or alternative plans as suggested by planning consultant Walter Hansen, and to report back to the commission.

Mayor Earl D. Chaney reported that plans outlined by John R. Funk, chairman-director of the SRC to get the $21,000,000 Thruway under contract late this year or early next year and "all at one time."

Referring to the scheduling, the Mayor said he told Mr. Funk the city doesn't care how it is done since "we've fooled around too long."

Want No Delay

Commissioner Fred J. Hill suggested the talks with the SRC be "very informal" as he would hate to see any delay.

The commission wants "the best bridge possible," said James A. Avirett, acting chairman.

Walter F. Demare, executive director of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency, said the agency's plans will be tied very closely to the Planning Commission's program and that each project will be coordinated with the City Engineering Department and the Planning Commission.

Snowstorm Forecast For This Area

By The Associated Press

There will be continued cold weather, and possibly a snowstorm, in Maryland Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said Tuesday there was a chance that snow would move into the Western Maryland counties before noon Wednesday and reach the eastern and southern counties sometime in the afternoon.

There is expected to be little change in temperatures from those of Monday and Tuesday. That means the overnight lows will be near zero in some sections and the afternoon highs in the 20s.

The forecast said the snowfall probably would continue Wednesday night and Thursday. The Weather Bureau declined to estimate the severity of the expected storm.

The lowest temperature reported in Western Maryland Tuesday morning was three degrees at Town Hill in eastern Allegany County. That reading was made at 9 a.m.

Elsewhere in the western part of the state, temperatures ranged from 4 to 16 degrees. The low overnight reading in Baltimore was 16 degrees.

House Votes To End Unit Vote System

State Senate Still Has The Final Say

By GEORGE BOWEN

The 122-9 vote came after a surprising exhibition when no one arose to defend the system in two opportunities to speak. It is the first time that a return to popular primary voting has been approved by either the house or senate, which now has the final say.

The only other unit vote system existing in the United States is in Georgia and it has been held unconstitutional. The Supreme Court last week heard arguments on an appeal.

The swift move by the house against the unit vote three weeks after it convened came in the wake of last year's legislative reapportionment ordered by a court. The four largest counties and Baltimore City were given 19 more delegates to provide the metropolitan areas a majority for the first time.

How It Works

The unit vote is related directly to the number of county representatives in the state legislature. Within the last 12 years, candidates have won the popular vote only to lose the nomination by unit.

In another election move, the House approved a requirement that candidates for statewide office file copies of their campaign expense reports with the secretary of state. They now may be filed in any one of several circuit courts and a candidate's total spending and contributions is not available readily.

The house also renewed a tiff with the senate over where a governor is inaugurated. The delegates want to allow him to be sworn in anywhere on the State House grounds so more people may watch. The senate has refused to allow the ceremony to be held outside its relatively small chamber.

A bill to fix charges in Maryland for the first time on retail installment sales and department store credit accounts kicked up a fuss upon its appearance in the senate.

Senate President William S. James, D-Harford, the sponsor, had the bill referred to the Banking and Insurance Committee headed by Sen. John-Clarence North, D-Talbot.

Sen. Joseph A. Bertorelli, D-Balto 1st, who served on a Legislative Council committee which studied the subject and who initiated the idea for such legislation, protested that it should go to one of the two major committees — judiciary or finance. He said it would get more careful consideration there.

Beaten On Rollcall

James let him make such a motion, opposed it from the rostrum, and defeated the motion 18-8 on a slow rollcall of the senate requested by James.

"I sort of take it this bill stinks," Sen. Harry T. Phoebus, R-Somerset, the minority floor

Says 'Cushion' May Be Needed Soon

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, unable to appear personally because of illness, sent a $603,764,121 budget to the Maryland Legislature Tuesday with a strong word of caution about additional state spending.

The governor was confined to his bed with a virus infection. His message was read to a joint session of the senate and house by Donald Hurwitz, reading clerk of the senate.

It was the first time in memory of veteran state officials that a governor had not appeared for the annual budget message. Tawes was under a doctor's orders not to go, but his condition was reported not serious.

The governor told the legislature in his prepared address that the budget—a record by $43,557,063—was balanced without tax increases only through use of $20.5 million in a general fund surplus accumulated over the past several years.

He attempted to head off, before it starts, any effort to spend the $9,057,072 in general fund money that remains uncommitted.

May Need Remainder

"While it is comforting to contemplate that we may not be called upon to impose new taxes at this session, duty dictates that we give serious consideration to some factors and trends which indicate that this situation may change in the very near future," he said.

"During the decade 1953-63, the general fund budget of our state has increased at an average annual rate of approximately $17.5 million.

"The budget which I am presenting to you today forecasts the end of that trend, and in fact increases general fund appropriations in the amount of $25,551,060 over the current year."

Tawes said an increased rate of budget expansion will be necessary in future years "because of accelerating enrollments in our public schools and colleges, increases in welfare caseloads and hospital and penal populations, expanding physical plant and stepped-up costs for retirement and social security."

Three Broad Categories

The budget breaks down into three categories.

General fund spending — Financed by income, sales and other taxes levied against the general public—will total $299,111,104, an increase of $25.5 million over the current fiscal year.

Special fund spending—Involving revenues from special taxes such as gasoline and motor vehicles and earmarked by law for specific projects—will total $199,682,917, an increase of $10,008,118.

Federal aid for various state programs on a matching basis will total $104,970,100, an increase of $7,997,885.

Governor's Budget Cuts $21.6 Million

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes told the legislature Tuesday he had cut $21,674,809 from the $47,283,233 in increased general fund spending requested by state agencies.

The cuts in total amounts requested included:

Public Welfare — Requested $37,343,800, allowed $26,807,014, a cut of $10,536,786. The chief reduction was $9.4 million in public assistance, which Tawes and fiscal aides felt would not be necessary.

Health — Requested $37,650,224, allowed $33,736,424, a cut of $3,913,800. The chief reduction was $2.9 million in the hospital in-patient program, for which $11.1 million was allowed.

Mental hygiene — Requested $29,950,753, allowed $27,171,353, a cut of $2,779,400, spread through headquarters and the various hospitals.

Public education — Requested $163,797,481, allowed $160,810,039, a cut of $2,987,442. College cuts included $706,299 of the $2,083,557 requested by Frostburg, $542,274 of $2,554,271 requested by Towson, $95,179 of $747,998 requested by Salisbury, $91,075 of $733,977 requested by Bowie, and $288,642 of $25,160,002 requested by the University of Maryland.

Tidewater fisheries — Requested $2,591,646, allowed $2,451,954, a cut of $139,692.

Forests and parks — Requested $1,693,016, allowed $1,343,592, a cut of $349,424.

Department of Correction — Requested $7,115,352, allowed $6,877,142, a cut of $238,210 for the five institutions, headquarters and central laundry.

The governor trimmed $605,407 from the $200,288,124 requested by agencies in state special funds, which are revenues dedicated by law for specific purposes. Chief reductions were $187,326 in the $5.8 million requested by the Department of Motor Vehicles and $131,813 from the $7.4 million requested by State Police.
